Names and Context Dolf Rami, 2021-11-04 Dolf Rami contributes to contemporary debates about the meaning and reference of proper names by providing an overview of the main challenges and developing a new contextualist account of names Questions about the use and semantic features of proper names are at the centre of philosophy of language How does a single proper name refer to the same thing in different contexts of use What makes a thing a bearer of a proper name What is their meaning Guided by these questions Rami discusses Saul Kripke's main contributions to the debate and introduces two new ways to capture the rigidity of names proposing a pluralist version of the causal chain picture Covering popular contextualist accounts of names both indexical and variabilist he presents a use sensitive alternative based on a semantic comparison between names pronouns and demonstratives Extending and applying his approach to a wide variety of uses including names in fiction this is a comprehensive explanation of why we should interpret proper names as use sensitive expressions

Structures John M. Anderson, 2022-04-04 This grammar of English embraces major lexical phonological syntactic structures and interfaces It is based on the substantive assumption that the categories and structures at all levels represent mental substance conceptual and or perceptual The adequacy of this assumption in expressing linguistic generalizations is tested The lexicon is seen as central to the grammar it contains signs with conceptual or content poles minimally words and perceptual and expression poles segments Both words and segments are differentiated by substance based features They determine the erection of syntactic and phonological structures at the interfaces from lexicon The valencies of words the identification of their semantically determined complements and modifiers control the erection of syntactic structures in the form of dependency relations However the features of different segment types determines their placement in the syllable or as prosodies Despite this discrepancy dependency and linearization are two of the analogical properties displayed by lexical syntactic and phonological structure Analogies among parts of the grammar are another consequence of substantiveness as is the presence of figurativeness and iconicity

Trade Names in Contemporary Romanian Public Space Alina Bughesiu, 2015-10-05

This book is a linguistic research study of trade names especially names of firms in the production and services sector shops eating drinking houses and accommodation locations It identifies and analyses the onomastic behaviour characteristic of the field of trades in contemporary Romanian public space in addition to delineating a representative naming pattern for every subcategory of commercial onomastics investigated according to three coordinates 1 lexical and grammatical structure 2 semantics pointing out different levels of meaning and 3 language preference Methodologically this book relies on the theoretical configuration provided by onomastics functional cognitive and generative grammar semiotics in the interpretation of trade names as iconic indexical and symbolic signs and pragmatics observing that trade names underlie speech acts Moreover the study also refers to psycholinguistics underlining the cognitive and affective mechanisms that are involved in the creation and use of trade names The way in which commercial designations behave in society especially how they contribute to the characterisation of a community both linguistically and culturally is analysed using the tools of sociolinguistics From the same point of view the current context of trade names is also described with reference to the influence of the English language and the American sociocultural mindset as instruments of globalisation on the Romanian language and culture and particularly on the unprecedented development of commercial onomastics The methodology employed in this book furthermore includes theoretical precepts specific to linguistic polyphony emphasising the similarity between trade names and unconventional anthroponyms particularly nicknames and virtual names Postcolonial studies and post communist studies as a branch of this field of research also play a role here Finally the reference to translation studies is made in order to be able to define trade names as cultural mediators in contemporary Romanian public space
