Near To The Wild Heart Clarice Lispector:

Near to the Wild Heart Clarice Lispector, 2012-06-13 This new translation of Clarice Lispector's sensational first book tells the story of a middle class woman's life from childhood through an unhappy marriage and its dissolution to transcendence. Near to the Wild Heart published in Rio de Janeiro in 1943 introduced Brazil to what one writer called Hurricane Clarice, a twenty-three year old girl who wrote her first book in a tiny rented room and then baptized it with a title taken from Joyce. He was alone, unheeded, near to the wild heart of life. The book was an unprecedented sensation, the discovery of a genius. Narrative epiphanies and interior monologue frame the life of Joana from her middle class childhood through her unhappy marriage and its dissolution to transcendence when she proclaims, "I shall arise as strong and comely as a young colt."

Near to the Wild Heart Clarice Lispector, 1990 Near to the Wild Heart published in Rio de Janeiro in 1943 introduced Brazil to what one writer called Hurricane Clarice, a twenty-three year old girl who wrote her first book in a tiny rented room and then baptized it with a title taken from Joyce. He was alone, unheeded, near to the wild heart of life. The book was an unprecedented sensation, the discovery of a genius. Closer to the Wild Heart Cláudia Pazos Alonso, Claire Elizabeth Williams, 2002 The Brazilian author Clarice Lispector 1920-1977 is arguably Latin America's most celebrated female writer. Yet her prose has remained tantalisingly elusive, resisting any facile appropriation and lending itself to be read in a variety of contexts. Lispector's enigmatic yet luminous writings warrant fresh, multi-disciplinary readings. Here twelve distinguished international scholars discuss the modernity pulsating throughout Lispector's work, examining not only her unconventional novels and famous short stories but also her chronicles and children's books in order to reassess her groundbreaking exploration of the fluid categories of gender and genre, her hybrid textualisations of time, self and nation.

Wild Solveig Bøe, Hege Charlotte Faber, Eivind Kasa, 2022-10-20 In this interdisciplinary work, philosophers from different specialisms connect with the notion of the wild today and interrogate how it is mediated through the culture of the Anthropocene. They make use of empirical material like specific artworks, films and other cultural works related to the term wild to consider the aesthetic experience of nature, focusing on the untamed, the boundless, the unwieldy or the unpredictable. In other words, aspects of nature that are mediated by culture. This book maps out the wide range of ways in which we experience the wildness of nature aesthetically, relating both to immediate experience as well as to experience mediated through cultural expression. A variety of subjects are relevant in this context, including aesthetics, art history, theology, human geography, film studies and architecture. A theme that is pursued throughout the book is the wild in connection with ecology and its experience of nature as both a constructive and destructive force.

Time in Exile Marcia Sá Cavalcante

Schuback, 2020-03-01 Proposes a theoretically rich treatment of temporality within exile as gerundive time This book is a philosophical reflection on the experience of time from within exile Its focus on temporality is unique as most literature on exile focuses on the experience of space as exile involves dislocation and moods of nostalgia and utopia Marcia S Cavalcante Schuback proposes that in exile time is experienced neither as longing back to the lost past nor as wanting a future to come but rather as a present without anchors or supports She articulates this present as a gerundive mode in which the one who is in exile discovers herself simply being exposed to the uncanny experience of having lost the past and not having a future To explore this she establishes a conversation among three authors whose work has exemplified this sense of gerundive time the German philosopher Martin Heidegger the French writer and essayist Maurice Blanchot and the Brazilian writer Clarice Lispector The book does not aim to discuss how these authors understand the relation between time and exile but presents a conversation with them in relation to this question that reflects new aspects in their work Attempting to think and express this difficult sense of time from within exile Time in Exile engages with the relation between thought and language and between philosophy and literature Departing from concrete existential questions S Cavalcante Schuback reveals new philosophical and theoretical modes to understand what it means to be present in times of exile It is very rare that one can find in philosophy a book that has been written neither as a commentary nor as an exegesis of the authors in question but rather as an original and thought provoking reflection in which the author is the main philosophical voice in the book Mar a del Rosario Acosta Lopez coeditor of Aesthetic Reason and Imaginative Freedom Friedrich Schiller and Philosophy

Ambiguity and Gender in the New Novel of Brazil and Spanish America Judith A. Payne, Earl E. Fitz, 1993-05 In this first book length study to compare the new novels of both Spanish America and Brazil the authors deftly examine the differing perceptions of ambiguity as they apply to questions of gender and the participation of females and males in the establishment of Latin American narrative models Their daring thesis the Brazilian new novel developed a more radical form than its better known Spanish speaking cousin because it had a significantly different approach to the crucial issues of ambiguity and gender and because so many of its major practitioners were women As a wise strategy for assessing the canonical new novels from Latin America the coupling of ambiguity and gender enables Payne and Fitz to discuss how borders literary generic and cultural are maintained challenged or crossed Their conclusions illuminate the contributions of the new novel in terms of experimental structures and narrative techniques as well as the significant roles of voice theme and language Using Jungian theory and a poststructural optic the authors also demonstrate how the Latin American new novel faces such universal subjects as myth time truth and reality Perhaps the most original aspect of their study lies in its analysis of Brazil's strong female tradition Here issues such as alternative visions contrasexuality self consciousness and ontological speculation gain new meaning for the future of the novel in Latin America With its comparative approach and its many bilingual quotations Ambiguity and Gender in the New Novel of Brazil and Spanish America offers an engaging picture of the marked differences between the literary traditions of Portuguese speaking and Spanish speaking America and thus new insights into the distinctive mindsets of these linguistic cultures

Gender Violence in Twenty-first-century Latin American Women's Writing Maria Encarnacion Lopez, Stephen M. Hart, 2022 How do contemporary female authors in Latin America tackle gender violence in their writings This book analyses the portrayal of violence against women in the works of ten contemporary Latin American female authors Alejandra Jaramillo Morales Laura Restrepo Ena Lucia Portela Wendy Guerra Selva Almada Claudia Pineiro Diamela Eltit Carla Guelfenbein Lydia Cacho and Fernanda Melchor Governments in Latin America have routinely failed to protect women from abuse threats censorship repressive policies on reproduction rights forced displacement sex trafficking disappearances and femicides and this book beats a new path through these burning issues by drawing on the knowledges encapsulated by sociology as much as the visions articulated by literature Through an exploration of works published in the twenty first century by women writers from
