My Vision Hh Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, 2006 My Vision Muhammad ibn Rashid Al Maktoum, Muḥammad ibn Rāshid Āl Maktūm, 2012-08 The New Aesthetics of Deculturation Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, 2019-08-22

What are the predominant aesthetics of the twenty first century Thorsten Botz Bornstein argues that deculturation embodied by the conspicuous vulgarity of kitsch is the overriding visual language of our times Drawing on the work of Islam scholar Olivier Roy who argued that religious fundamentalism arises when religion is separated from the indigenous cultural values Botz Bornstein shows that the production of absolute truths through deculturation also exists in contemporary education The neoliberal environment has separated learning from culture by emphasizing standardization and quantified learning outcomes In a globalized environment the idea of culture is no longer available as a referent instead we are taught to rely on the culturally neutral term excellence For Botz Bornstein this is an absolute value similar to the truth of religious fundamentalists Similarly kitsch is what happens when aesthetic values are separated from cultural contexts Kitsch is aesthetic fundamentalism Kitsch aesthetics are an aesthetics of excellence The consumption of kitsch can be understood as an intrinsically narcissistic impulse reinforced by social media individuals recycling their own selves without being confronted with the culture of the other The existence of self centred alternative truths fake news and conspiracy theories and selfies are linked together in the fundamentalism neoliberalism kitsch pattern Including analysis of the intersections of cute excellent sublime and interesting in contemporary aesthetic culture this is a journey through philosophy psychology and cultural theory redefining a new aesthetics of deculturation Resilient Health Judy Kuriansky, Pradeep Kakkattil, 2024-06-24

My Vision 2016, ۰۰۰۰۰ ۰۰ ۰۰۰۰ ۰۰۰۰۰۰ ۰۰ Western Higher Education in Asia and the Middle East Hassan Bashir, Stephen Keck, Kevin Gray, 2016-12-21. This multidisciplinary volume highlights the transformed nature of the relationship between higher education and society in the 21st century. In particular, it argues that the development of the global university, especially in the non-western world, has transformed the traditional understanding of the relationship between higher education and society. This has important implications for the relations of state as education has not only become an object of national development policy but for many states an important export. The history of the university reflects the decisive social transformations which have given definition and identity to both new nations and modern societies. In the post-war period, universities in the industrialized world underwent a radical shift. The mass expansion of higher education ensured that universities were no longer centers designed to train youth to assume the leadership positions held by previous generations. Instead, universities were to become centers where job skills could be imparted and knowledge produced, refined and used in the newly emerging Cold War economies and where students could develop the skills necessary for employment in a changing world. Rather than focusing on the refinement of future leaders, the task of the university became linked to the development of economically exploitable technical knowledge. A shift of comparable magnitude is now ongoing in the nature of higher education itself. Globalization has led to the growth of knowledge communities around the world, mirroring the rise of centers for global finance in previous decades. In the Middle East and Asia, the demands of the knowledge-based economy have led to the opening of new indigenous universities and branch campuses and partnerships with established European and North American universities. Education City in Qatar, for instance, has received or been pledged more than 200 billion dollars since its inception The growth of new indigenous universities has altered the traditional role of the university further increasing the emphasis on courses which are close to the marketplace These new partnerships have contributed to the creation of what is now referred to as the global university Business and Education in the Middle East N. Azoury,2014-07-29 Business and Education in the Middle East brings together academic and business expertise in order to come up with long term strategies that will have a great effect on the university performance and governance The book shares experiences and knowledge to explore innovative strategies and plans with a new perspective for the future
