Diversity Culture And Counselling A Canadian Perspective:

Diversity, Culture and Counselling M. Honore France, Maria del Carmen Rodriguez, Geoffrey G. Hett, 2021-09-03 A uniquely Canadian approach to multicultural counselling In a country as diverse as Canada a multicultural counselling approach provides an essential starting point for working with people from different ethnicities sexualities gender identities abilities and religious backgrounds Bringing Canadian perspectives to the field of multicultural counselling this collection provides practical approaches to counselling in Indigenous Asian Black Canadian Hispanic South Asian and LGBTQ2 communities among others along with advice for treating migrant and refugee clients The third edition of Diversity Culture and Counselling addresses crucial issues such as systemic racism immigration policy climate change and discriminatory policies reflecting the many changes that have arisen in Canada since the publication of the second edition Along with an all new chapter on counselling during a national crisis each chapter has been revised to reflect the current state of diversity in Canadian counselling with contributors from a range of backgrounds

Race, Culture And Counselling Lago, Colin, 2005-11-01 This substantially revised edition builds upon the foundations laid down in the first edition which addressed amongst other subjects issues of race and power cultures and their impact upon communication and a review of the dominant theoretical discourses influencing counselling and psychotherapy and how these might impact upon mixed identity therapeutic relationships

Navigating Multiculturalism Dawn Zinga, 2021-04-16 This provocative volume explores multiculturalism from different disciplinary perspectives as well as examining the associated issues from the perspectives of various countries It considers how multiculturalism has been defined and the various meanings that the term holds while also focusing on the realities faced in different societal contexts The authors address difficult and at times divisive questions about race ethnicity and identity This collection challenges readers to examine their own perceptions of multiculturalism and to consider how the perspectives in this volume can inform their thinking By examining the issues from different perspectives the authors have encouraged individuals to consider how to navigate multiculturalism and negotiate change

Indigenous Cultures and Mental Health Counselling Suzanne L. Stewart, Roy Moodley, Ashley Hyatt, 2016-08-12 North America s Indigenous population is a vulnerable group with specific psychological and healing needs that are not widely met in the mental health care system Indigenous peoples face certain historical cultural linguistic and socioeconomic barriers to mental health care access that government health care organizations and social agencies must work to overcome This volume examines ways Indigenous healing practices can complement Western psychological service to meet the needs of Indigenous peoples through traditional cultural concepts Bringing together leading experts in the fields of Aboriginal mental health and psychology it provides data and models of Indigenous cultural practices in psychology that are successful with Indigenous peoples It considers Indigenous epistemologies in applied psychology and research methodology and informs government policy on mental health service for these populations

Trauma-Informed Psychotherapy for BIPOC Communities Pavna K.

Sodhi,2024-06-14 Grounded in trauma informed approaches intersectionality theory and critical race theory Trauma Informed Psychotherapy for BIPOC Communities Decolonizing Mental Health embodies psychotherapeutic practices via anti racist anti oppressive and culturally responsive paradigms Complete with practical case studies psychoeducational frameworks and the author s own inclusion and healing therapy IHT model content from this book inspires practitioners to update their therapeutic competencies to effectively support BIPOC clients This book is an essential read for current and future intersectional psychologists psychotherapists social workers counsellors lawyers educators and healthcare professionals who actively work with BIPOC communities Radicalisation, Extremism and Social Work Practice Lena Robinson,M Rafik Gardee,2022-03-30 Radicalisation Extremism and Social Work Practice is the first book to explore cultural identity acculturation and perceived discrimination of Muslim youth across Western countries in relation to social work as well as the radicalisation and extremist views and actions of a small number of Muslim youth It draws on relevant theoretical frameworks and research to examine the different approaches taken in social work practice Some countries consider multi agency approaches particularly how public health practice can inform interventions and strategies Others take a public health approach looking for risk factors and seeking protective factors to develop suitable interventions within the communities through public engagement and partnership As well as examining and discussing the above approaches this book critically examines government and community based approaches to radicalisation and extremism and strategies for combating these This volume will be a valuable resource for social work students including other disciplines such as psychology public health psychiatry sociology political science and community development It will also be of interest to policy makers practitioners and researchers A Question of Commitment R. Brian Howe,Katherine Covell,2007-06-15 In 1991 the Government of Canada ratified the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child requiring governments at all levels to ensure that Canadian laws and practices safeguard the rights of children A Question of Commitment Children s Rights in Canada is the first book to assess the extent to which Canada has fulfilled this commitment The editors R Brian Howe and Katherine Covell contend that Canada has wavered in its commitment to the rights of children and is ambivalent in the political culture about the principle of children s rights A Question of Commitment expands the scope of the editors earlier book The Challenge of Children s Rights for Canada by including the voices of specialists in particular fields of children s rights and by incorporating recent developments Women's Empowerment for a Sustainable Future Claude-Hélène Mayer,Elisabeth Vanderheiden,Orna Braun-Lewensohn,Gila Chen,Kiyoko Sueda,Brightness Mangolothi,Saba Safdar,Soyeon Kim,2023-07-08 This edited volume focuses on women s empowerment for a sustainable future It takes cultural and transcultural and positive psychology perspectives into consideration and explores the topic of women s empowerment from diverse stances across social strata cultural divides as well as economic and political divisions It addresses the critique of the overly Western focus of positive psychology on this topic by adopting a transnational and transcultural lens and by taking non

WEIRD Western Educated Industrialized Rich Democratic samples into in depth consideration The chapters therefore focus on women from diverse socio cultural political socio economic backgrounds and discuss their ways of empowering others and being empowered They also discuss related positive psychology constructs such as coping resilience transformation growth leadership creativity identity development sustainable action as well as positive socio economic political and eco sustainable thought and action The volume as a whole looks at women s leadership as a factor of empowerment A further fundamental assumption is that women s empowerment is needed to create a sustainable future at micro meso and macro levels which presumes safety peace ecological considerations and compassionate leadership

A Question of Commitment Thomas Waldock,2020-04-09 With the adoption of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child 1989 commentators began to situate the evolution of the status of children within the context of the property to persons trajectory that other human rights stories had followed In the first edition of A Question of Commitment editors R Brian Howe and Katherine Covell provided a template of analysis for understanding this evolution They identified three overlapping stages of development as children transitioned from being regarded as objects to subjects in their own right social laissez faire paternalistic protection and children s rights In the social laissez faire stage children are regarded as objects and largely as the property of parents In the paternalistic protection stage children are seen as vulnerable and in need of protection The children s rights stage lays emphasis on children as rights bearers as individuals in their own right with entitlements In this second edition new essays assess the extent to which children s rights have been incorporated into their respective areas of policy and law The authors draw conclusions about what the situation reveals about the status of children in Canada Overall many challenges remain on the pathway to full recognition and citizenship

Power, Pedagogy and Praxis ,2008-01-01 The aim of the text is to respond to gaps in an emergent discourse running along minority majority world fault lines through various perspectives linking globalization education and human rights The editors standpoint allows the consideration of equity in education as the foremost expression of social justice in this era of economic and technological globalization regardless of political or cultural contexts This project continues the tradition of critical social pedagogy in creating common ground that accesses new approaches to political and classroom based relations of power and praxis

Mental Health Promotion in Schools Raymond J. Waller,2016-11-10 This second volume in the book series gives clear explanations of some special topics and challenges related to the roles of the school in adolescent mental healthcare such as disability temperament psychological resilience school safety and LGBT issues Each chapter addresses beneficial and detrimental practices that schools and any involved professionals may engage in Key features of this volume include 1 a multidisciplinary approach to mental healthcare provision in school settings 2 a discussion of school based intervention in each chapter and 3 the incorporation of DSM V standards in discussions of diagnostic criteria where applicable This volume serves as a reference work for all educational and mental health professionals teachers administrators psychologists social workers
