

Definition of DoD Value Engineering Terms

- Value – Ratio of function to cost, where:
 - function is a non-prescriptive representation of the intended purpose of a component in a given systems operational context
 - cost are assessed in a life-cycle context, which includes intrinsic and extrinsic development, acquisition, operations, training, support and disposal costs
 - Systems operational context addresses a community and continuum of use – develop, equip, train and employ
- Value Engineering is a formal analytical process that examines alternatives and attempts to maintain or improve function while minimizing cost, yielding greater value to the customer community
- Value Engineering Change Proposal (VECP) - A proposal submitted by a vendor to the customer that proposes changes in design, manufacture, service, maintenance or disposal that delivers increased value
- Value Engineering Proposal (VEP) - A customer generated analysis that directly proposes changes to a product or service to increase value

The Role of Value Engineering in Support of Defense Management Objectives, 1968 Value Engineering Guide for DoD Contractors United States. Defense Supply Agency, 1976 Use of Value Engineering in Defense Acquisitions

Katherine V. Schinasi, 2003 Value engineering VE is a recognized technique for reducing costs while maintaining or improving productivity and quality The Department of Defense's DOD VE program consists of both government and contractor developed cost reduction projects designed to reduce a system's life cycle costs In response to Congress request we agreed to provide information on 1 the role the VE program has played in supporting cost reduction in DOD weapons system programs and 2 the alternative measures program managers take to reduce costs and or incentivize contractors In summary we found that the VE program has made a minimal contribution to cost reduction in DOD Value engineering is only one of a number of approaches used by the services to control costs and its use varied significantly from project to project In part its limited use is attributable to new cost reduction initiatives introduced by the department since the 1990s and in part due to the cumbersome processes required to implement the program Perhaps more importantly VE projects are typically undertaken during production or after a system has been fielded At this point opportunities for substantially reducing costs are more limited Our work on commercial best practices suggests that the opportunities to significantly influence costs occur earlier in the life cycle of a system Generally we found significant variance in both the use and support of value engineering throughout the services For example neither the Air Force or the Navy have full time staff resources dedicated to the VE program and consider VE just one of many tools available to reduce costs At one Navy buying activity we could not identify any VE projects while at other Air Force and Navy buying activities we identified isolated instances where VE projects were being undertaken In contrast the Army has a more structured program with staff resources committed to managing the program and developing VE projects However even within the Army there were variances in management emphasis from command to command For the 11 weapons system programs we examined we found that DOD program managers use a variety of strategies as alternatives to or in conjunction with VE But how or when VE or other strategies are used varies by project Like VE other strategies often seek to motivate contractors to submit cost reduction ideas and sometimes provide opportunities for contractors to share in the savings Some program managers said they consider the VE tool or methodology but said they use other approaches better suited to their programs or integrated into their management approach The limited use of the VE program has been the result of a changing acquisition environment and the administrative burdens associated with the program DOD introduced a variety of new cost reduction initiatives in the 1990s as it looked for ways to reduce costs and create a more efficient acquisition environment DOD also changed its procedures and processes to foster greater efficiency and cost effectiveness For example DOD encouraged programs to replace military specifications and standards with performance specifications giving contractors configuration control and resulting in less need for contractors to submit changes to DOD for approval Administrative requirements also contributed to limited contractor participation in the VE program The proposal process is seen as complex and resource intensive

Summary Audit Report on DoD Value Engineering Programs ,1997 This report summarizes the results of the joint audit of the DoD Value Engineering Programs The audit was requested by the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology to satisfy the requirement in Office of Management and Budget Circular No A 131 Value Engineering May 21 1993 that agency value engineering programs be audited 2 years after issuance of the Circular During the audit the Inspector General DoD and the Army and Air Force Audit Agencies issued 12 audit reports on DoD Value Engineering Programs Office of Management and Budget Circular No A 131 requires Federal agencies to use value engineering as a management tool where appropriate to ensure realistic budgets to identify and remove nonessential capital and operational costs and to improve and maintain optimum quality of program and acquisition functions The DoD Value Engineering Program involves both in house and contractor programs The DoD has reported more value engineering savings than other Federal agencies For FY 1994 the DoD reported value engineering savings of 855 million and investment costs of 248 million For FY 1995 DoD reported value engineering savings of 734 4 million and investment costs of 43 9 million The audit objective was to determine whether DoD value engineering policies procedures and implementation of the revised Office of Management and Budget Circular No A 131 were adequate and the reported value engineering savings for FY 1994 and FY 1995 were valid The audit also assessed how extensively value engineering was included in contracts whether contractors believed they were encouraged to participate in the value engineering program and how value engineering related to other streamlining or savings initiatives The audit also evaluated the adequacy of management control programs applicable to the VE programs

Barriers to More Active Contractor Participation in the Department of Defense Value Engineering Program John Ray,Naval Postgraduate School (U.S.),1998-06-01 The purpose of this thesis is to determine the barriers to more active contractor participation in the DOD Value Engineering VE program A review of professional literature such as DOD Inspector General General Accounting Office and other research reports provide the background information necessary to explain potential barriers to more active contractor participation in the DOD VE program Thirty telephone surveys were conducted with Government and contractor personnel to solicit the opinions of these acquisition professionals concerning barriers to more active contractor participation in the DOD VE Program The results and analysis of the interviews are reported It was concluded that there are four significant barriers preventing more active contractor participation in the DOD VE program The four significant barriers to more active contractor participation in the DOD VE program are insufficient funding the VECP submission and approval process a low level of VE awareness among acquisition professionals and a lack of support for the VE program among top level DOD management Recommendations to improve contractor participation in VE are establishment of a centrally managed VE fund streamlining the VECP process increased VE awareness training additional VE personnel resources enforcement of VE savings goals and greater top level management support

Value Engineering in the DOD Acquisition Process Michael Gluck, DEFENSE SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT COLL FORT BELVOIR VA., 1976 The report describes Value Engineering from its conception and introduction into the defense systems acquisition process The Value Engineering discipline the emphasis interest and image is described together with its interrelationships with other recent developed cost reduction techniques Finally the issue of revitalizing Value Engineering from top Government officials is addressed and recommendations offered The data and narrative in the report is based on interviews with key personnel in the Value Engineering Office of OSD DA and DOD components The revitalization and renewed interest is supported with copies Appendices C through I of memoranda and letters among OSD and DOD level Author

Government Management of Contractor Submission of Value Engineering Change Proposals Gary George Given, NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL MONTEREY CA., 1985 The purpose of this thesis is to determine how the Department of Defense value engineering policies and processing procedures affect a contractor's motivation to submit value engineering change proposals A comparative analysis of the DOD Value Engineering Program with private industry's value analysis program and also an examination of how the Hughes Aircraft Company has used the DOD Value Engineering Program resulted in three conclusions The first conclusion is that the incentives offered by the DOD Value Engineering Program have been found by private industry to be ineffective in attracting supplier participation in value analysis The second conclusion is that delays in incorporating the VECP in the end item significantly reduces a contractor's motivation to submit future VECPs The third conclusion is that the contractor's perception of the government buying activity's willingness to fairly evaluate VECPs is the most significant influence on a contractor's motivation to submit VECPs Author

Dod Value Engineering Introduction

In the digital age, access to information has become easier than ever before. The ability to download Dod Value Engineering has revolutionized the way we consume written content. Whether you are a student looking for course material, an avid reader searching for your next favorite book, or a professional seeking research papers, the option to download Dod Value Engineering has opened up a world of possibilities. Downloading Dod Value Engineering provides numerous advantages over physical copies of books and documents. Firstly, it is incredibly convenient. Gone are the days of carrying around heavy textbooks or bulky folders filled with papers. With the click of a button, you can gain immediate access to valuable resources on any device. This convenience allows for efficient studying, researching, and reading on the go. Moreover, the cost-effective nature of downloading Dod Value Engineering has democratized knowledge. Traditional books and academic journals can be expensive, making it difficult for individuals with limited financial resources to access information. By offering free PDF downloads, publishers and authors are enabling a wider audience to benefit from their work. This inclusivity promotes equal opportunities for learning and personal growth. There are numerous websites and platforms where individuals can download Dod Value Engineering. These websites range from academic databases offering research papers and journals to online libraries with an expansive collection of books from various genres. Many authors and publishers also upload their work to specific websites, granting readers access to their content without any charge. These platforms not only provide access to existing literature but also serve as an excellent platform for undiscovered authors to share their work with the world. However, it is essential to be cautious while downloading Dod Value Engineering. Some websites may offer pirated or illegally obtained copies of copyrighted material. Engaging in such activities not only violates copyright laws but also undermines the efforts of authors, publishers, and researchers. To ensure ethical downloading, it is advisable to utilize reputable websites that prioritize the legal distribution of content. When downloading Dod Value Engineering, users should also consider the potential security risks associated with online platforms. Malicious actors may exploit vulnerabilities in unprotected websites to distribute malware or steal personal information. To protect themselves, individuals should ensure their devices have reliable antivirus software installed and validate the legitimacy of the websites they are downloading from. In conclusion, the ability to download Dod Value Engineering has transformed the way we access information. With the convenience, cost-effectiveness, and accessibility it offers, free PDF downloads have become a popular choice for students, researchers, and book lovers worldwide. However, it is crucial to engage in ethical downloading practices and prioritize personal security when utilizing online platforms. By doing so, individuals can make the most of the vast array of free PDF resources available and embark on a journey of continuous learning and intellectual growth.
