Rethinking Orality I Andrea Ercolani, Laura

Lulli, 2022-04-04 The volume deals with the mechanisms of the oral communication in the ancient Greek culture Considering the critical debate about orality the analysis of the communicative system in a predominantly oral aural ancient society implies a reassessment and a deep reconsideration of the traces which orality embedded in the texts transmitted to us In particular the focus is on the cultural message a set of information which is processed and transmitted vertically as well as horizontally by a living being so to be differently from a genetically encoded information a culturally defined process The survey intertwines different approaches the methodologies of cognitivism biology ethology to analyze the embryonal processes of the cultural messages and the tools of historical and literary analysis to highlight the development of the cultural messages in the traditional knowledge their codification transmission and evolutions in the dialectics between orality and writing The reconstructed pattern of the mechanisms of cultural messages in a prevailing oral aural system cast a light on a shadowy aspect of a sophisticated communication system that has long influenced European culture
