Dynamo for Structural Design

Julien Benoit, Groupe Legendre, Julien.BENOIT@groupe-legendre.com

Håvard Vasshaug, Dark Architects, hvasshaug@gmail.com

Class Description

The visual programming interface of Dynamo is enabling structural engineers with the tools to build complex structures with minimal energy and make their own structural design tools. Based on the Revit Platform, tomorrow's structural designers can use their creativity to develop optimized structural systems using computational logic in an advanced building information modeling environment. This lab will discuss how to run analytical simulations in the Dynamo+Revit environment, by collecting data from analysis software, virtually manipulate and modify the analytical model in Dynamo, run iterations to optimize the design based on results. Participants will also learn how to create organic and computational structural forms and systems, create interactions between elements and collect structural data in order to increase productivity and avoid boring and repeating labor. We are passionate about empowering young engineers and architects with exceptional digital design tools, and firmly believe this to be the next generation for many of them.
