Handbook of Entrepreneurial Dynamics William B Gartner, Kelly G. Shaver, Nancy M Carter, Paul D Reynolds, 2004-06-21 This important Handbook of Entrepreneurial Dynamics reports on the Panel Study of Entrepreneurial Dynamics PSED the most comprehensive scientifically representative study to date of nascent entrepreneurs The book is unique because the study identified individuals in the process of creating new businesses to understand how at its very source people move from considering the option of starting a new business to its actual founding This has never been done before in the history of entrepreneurship research I cannot recommend this book more strongly to entrepreneurship scholars and those interested in where entrepreneurs come from and how they move from their initial idea to new venture founding Claudia Bird Schoonhoven University of California Irvine This Handbook makes a terrific contribution to understanding entrepreneurship and new business creation Its 38 chapters report major findings from the Panel Study of Entrepreneurial Dynamics PSED an unprecedented research program involving more than a hundred researchers from 10 countries This Handbook is must reading for anyone interested in entrepreneurship research Andrew H Van de Ven Carlson School of Management University of Minnesota Entrepreneurial activity provides profound positive benefits across an important set of measures of social and economic well being much of it concentrated in new economic sectors such as information technology Yet even though entrepreneurship has been shown to provide many benefits it is surprising that there has not been a systematic study of the entrepreneurial process The Handbook of Entrepreneurial Dynamics The Process of Business Creation fills this gap by offering theories ideas and measures that can be used to explore and understand the factors that encompass and influence the creation of new businesses The chapters in the handbook provide the rationale for questionnaires used in the Panel Study of Entrepreneurial Dynamics PSED The PSED is a research program that was initiated to provide systematic reliable and generalizable data on important features of the new business creation process The PSED includes information on the proportion and characteristics of the adult population involved in efforts to start businesses the activities and characteristics that comprise the nature of the business start up process and the proportion and characteristics of those business start up efforts that actually become new businesses The handbook also describes the PSED data collection process provides documentation of the interview schedules codebooks data preparation and weighting scheme as well as offers examples of how analyses of PSED data might be conducted The authors identify specific measures that can be used to operationalize theory as well as provide evidence from the PSED data sets on these measures reliability and validity The Handbook of Entrepreneurial Dynamics is ideal for a sizeable audience including graduate students academics and librarians in schools of business and management who need a comprehensive reference on business creation In addition researchers and policy makers at the federal state and local level will find this an invaluable reference covering all of the factors involved in new venture formation

Key Features Considers categories of data not available prior to the PSED Includes a comprehensive overview of theories about new business formation Provides demographics of nascent entrepreneurs Analyzes the cognitive characteristics of nascent entrepreneurs Explores all of the processes of new business formation

The book does exactly what the editors say it does it delivers a rich variety of European research it comprehensively inspires important and worthwhile dialogue Anne M J Smith International Journal of Entrepreneurship Innovation This overview of the current research in the field will provide academics researchers and policy makers with new insights through which to understand the contextual dimensions and the broadening aspects of the current state of the art in European research International Journal of Sustainability in Higher Education The authors of the chapters offer a broad variety of topics and approaches that significantly contribute to the understanding of changes in society and the diversity of the contexts in which entrepreneurship occurs I am convinced that the book will inspire a dialogue not only among researchers but also between research and policy makers in order that the changes and dynamics of society be better understood From the foreword by Hans Landström Lund University Sweden This book introduces the expanding European dialogue between entrepreneurship environment and education It considers the shape dimensions and horizon of this multidisciplinary landscape in entrepreneurship research The striking differences and contradictions in entrepreneurial activities readiness and innovativeness within European countries and the proactive attitude and activities of European competitors impose a demand for a better understanding of the complex dynamics The Dynamics between Entrepreneurship Environment and Education reflects how the European landscape of entrepreneurship research is now more complex than ever. It presents an overview of the current state of entrepreneurship research in Europe and also reflects on the future directions of research in this field. The dynamics between entrepreneurship and society are evaluated and the discussion is then continued from an education perspective. The authors also focus on the ability and capability of different kinds of ventures to compete in different contexts. This comprehensive overview of the current research in the field will provide academics, researchers and policy makers with new insights through which to understand the contextual dimensions and the broadening aspects of the current state of the art in European research.

Handbook of Entrepreneurial Dynamics William B. Gartner, Paul D. Reynolds, Nancy M. Carter, Kelly G. G. Shaver, 2010. This handbook reports on the creation and results of the Panel Study of Entrepreneurial Dynamics (PSED) that was conducted by the Entrepreneurship Research Consortium (ERC) founded in 1995. The PSED was created to develop a representative portrait of entrepreneurial activity in the United States. A panel of nascent entrepreneurs was created along with a control group of non-entrepreneurs. Individuals in the process of creating new businesses could be studied to generate systematic, reliable and generalizable data on business creation. The handbook reports on the creation of the ERC, provides detailed information about the rationale used in developing the questionnaires for the PSED and summarizes the theoretical perspectives, operationalized and variables used in the PSED. The PSED model has three transition points: 1. the conception, 2. the startup process and 3. outcomes of the new firm. These points generate various research questions: What are the tendencies and features of those who start businesses? How do nascent entrepreneurs go about forming a business? Why are some successful and why are some firms likely to succeed, persist or die? The research design had two major parts: 1. identifying and interviewing nascent entrepreneurs and a control group and 2. the content of the interviews. Each of the 38 chapters in the handbook was written by a scholar in the ERC who reports on a key theoretical perspective and variables associated with that theory. The results showed the great diversity and variety in the process of business creation. Chapters in Part I: Demographic Characteristics of the Entrepreneur discuss the theory, measures and evidence about the demographic characteristics of both nascent entrepreneurs and the comparison group. Aspects discussed include age and other demographics, income and net worth, work and education background and family background. Part II: Cognitive Characteristics of the Entrepreneur surveys the cognitive characteristics that might determine whether nascent entrepreneurs think differently than the comparison group and how types of nascent entrepreneurs might be distinguished. Topics surveyed include career reasons, job and life satisfaction, entrepreneurial expectations, innovation and problem solving style and social skills. Chapters in Part III: The Start-up Process explore the process of business formation. They describe the kinds and types of businesses, steps and phases of the process, social networks, funding and business expectations. Part IV: The Entrepreneurial Environment explores the context of the startup effort and the strategic and technology orientations of the emerging new firms. Three appendixes explain the PSED.

Entrepreneurship Katja Rusinovic, 2006 Annotation The nature of immigrant entrepreneurship is changing in Dutch society Nowadays many immigrant entrepreneurs start businesses in producer and personal services instead of more traditional sectors such as retail or hotel and catering At the same time a growing number of second generation immigrants are setting up their own firms in the Netherlands These second generation immigrants born and or raised in the receiving country are following different trajectories in comparison with first generation immigrant entrepreneurs indeed displaying a move away from traditional immigrant niches Yet studies on second generation immigrant entrepreneurs remain limited in both the Dutch and international literature on this subject This study presents one of the first explicit comparisons between first and second generation self employed immigrants The embeddedness of immigrants in local and transnational networks and the dynamics of the markets in which these entrepreneurs are active are examined based on in depth interviews with immigrant entrepreneurs in Dutch cities In doing so this study provides a vivid longitudinal view of first and second generation immigrant entrepreneurs their incorporation into Dutch society their businesses and business development s This title can be previewed in Google Books <http://books.google.com/books/vid/ISBN9789053569726> This title is available in the OAPEN Library <http://www.oapen.org> Dynamics of Entrepreneurship Amanjeet Singh Sethi, Yasha Tejwani, 2014 The entrepreneurship under incomplete markets Chong Wang, Neng Wang, Jinqiang Yang, 2011 Abstract An entrepreneur faces substantial non diversifiable business risk and liquidity constraints both of which we refer to as frictions We show that these frictions have significant economic effects on business start up capital accumulation asset sales portfolio allocation consumption saving and business exit decisions Compared with the complete markets benchmark these frictions make entrepreneurs invest substantially less in the business consume less and allocate less to the market portfolio The endogenous exit option provides flexibility for the entrepreneur to manage downside risk The entrepreneur s optimal entry decision critically depends on the outside option the start up cost risk aversion and wealth We show that the flexibility to build up financial wealth before entering into entrepreneurship is quite valuable Finally we provide an operational framework to calculate the private equity idiosyncratic risk premium for an entrepreneurial firm and show that this premium depends on entrepreneurial wealth non diversifiable risk exposure and risk aversion The Dynamics of Entrepreneurial Ecosystems

Allan O'Connor, Colin Mason, Morgan P. Miles, David Audretsch, 2021-12-26 This book aims to provide new approaches to analysing and thinking about how entrepreneurial ecosystems develop and evolve over time as well as shed light on the relatively unexplored area of entrepreneurship ecosystem dynamics The concept of entrepreneurial ecosystems has emerged as a framework to understand the nature of places in which entrepreneurial activity flourishes Time is fundamental to the analysis of the dynamics of an entrepreneurial ecosystem New firm creation survival growth and demise all occur within a temporal context that is over and within time Systems approaches to research invariably model the influential effects of the actors and elements that shape re shape maintain shift and change the system itself An entrepreneurial ecosystem point of view therefore is inherently time dependent and provides an analytical framework that reveals how the number and diversity of entrepreneurial actors situated in a place and time influence the creation of new firms their survival growth and ultimately the stability of markets and industry in a time and place Whether for better or worse the historic and present time dimensions underpin the functioning and trajectory of entrepreneurial ecosystem performances and how they are shaped over time Each chapter in this edited volume outlines a particular perspective and or a unique case drawn from a range of countries that collectively reveal the dynamics of an ever changing entrepreneurial ecosystem The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the journal Entrepreneurship and Regional Development Entrepreneurship as Networking Tom Elfring, Kim Klyver, Elco van Burg, 2021-05-11 Tom Elfring Kim Klyver and Elco van Burg propose a new perspective on entrepreneurship and demonstrate how networking is the core of entrepreneurial action Showing that your networking behavior is equally important to who you already know this book addresses the importance of networking for business venturing The Entrepreneurship Dynamic Claudia Bird Schoonhoven, Elaine Romanelli, 2001 New organizations do not emerge full blown from the idiosyncratic minds of individual entrepreneurs Their ideas for new organizations their ability to acquire capital and other essential resources and their likelihood of survival as entrepreneurs derive from the contexts in which they live and work The Entrepreneurship Dynamic explores the conditions that prompt the founding of large numbers of new organizations or entirely new industries and the effects on existing industries economies and societies Locational Dynamics of Business Services Martin Hessels, 1992 Dynamics of Knowledge Intensive Entrepreneurship Franco Malerba, Yannis Caloghirou, Maureen McKelvey, Slavo Radošević, 2015-07-24 Knowledge intensive entrepreneurship lies at the core of the structural shift necessary for the growth and development of a knowledge based economy yet research reveals that the EU has fewer young leading innovators and Europe's new firms do not adequately contribute to industrial growth This is especially true in the high R D intensive high tech sectors This structural malaise undermining Europe's growth potential is well diagnosed but poorly understood This volume fills this important gap by exploring new firms that have significant knowledge intensity in their activity and develop and exploit innovative opportunities in diverse sectors Through an evolutionary and systemic approach to entrepreneurship focusing on knowledge intensive entrepreneurship as both a micro and a macro phenomena and analyzing firms in the context of various socio economic models the authors explore firms creation and origins around the world their organization strategies and business models as well as the role of innovation systems and institutions in their formation and growth This comprehensive research text is vital reading for academics researchers and students of high tech and knowledge intensive entrepreneurship as well as those with an interest in industrial dynamics innovation management and public policy The Dynamics of Entrepreneurial Contexts Ulla Hytti,Robert Blackburn,Silke Tegtmeier,2018-02-23 Context is everything in entrepreneurship research This book compellingly demonstrates the ways in which the distinctive European cultural societal and geographic environments enable research into new entrepreneurial phenomena It also gives guidance as to how future research should endeavour to understand the influences of context
