Journalism Online By Mike Ward:

Journalism Online Mike Ward, 2013-08-06 Journalism Online tackles the pressing question of how to apply fundamental journalism skills to the online medium. It provides an essential guide to the Internet as a research and publishing tool. In particular, it examines how to forge key journalism skills with the distinctive qualities of the World Wide Web to provide compelling web content. Trainee and practicing online journalists will learn core journalism skills of identifying, collecting, selecting and presenting news and information. Multimedia skills such as audio recording and editing online research methods including use of search tools, newsgroups and listservs, story construction and writing for the Web, an introduction to HTML web site design for the effective use of content. Journalism Online takes the best of the new and old media to provide an essential primer for this emerging discipline. Leading web designers such as Jakob Nielsen rub shoulders with established journalists like Harold Evans in the search for clear guidance in this rapidly developing field. It also provides a useful insight for non-news organisations into how to prepare and present effective web content and avoid the deepest pitfall of the online world being ignored. Supplementary resources can be found on the book's supporting web site www.journalismonline.co.uk which features additional exercises, useful links and reviews.

Convergence Journalism Janet Kolodzy, 2006-06-15 Book Companion Site. For at least a decade, media prognosticators have been declaring the death of radio, daily newspapers, journalistic ethics and even journalism itself. But in Convergence Journalism, an introductory text on how to think, report, write and present news across platforms, Janet Kolodzy predicts that the new century will be an era of change and choice in journalism. Journalism of the future will involve all sorts of media: old and new, niche and mass, personal and global. This text will prepare journalism students for the future of news reporting.

Writing Feature Articles Brendan Hennessy, 2013-05-02 Hennessy's classic text tells you everything you need to know about writing successful features. You will learn how to formulate and develop ideas and how to shape them to fit different markets. Now in its fourth edition, Writing Feature Articles has been fully revised and updated to take into account the changing requirements of journalism and media courses. You will also discover how to exploit new technology for both researching and writing online. Learn step by step how to plan research and write articles for a wide variety of popular, quality and specialist publications. Discover more and make the advice stick by completing the tasks and reading the keen analysis of extracts from the best of today's writing. Packed with inspirational advice in a friendly, highly readable style, this guide is a must-have for practising and aspiring journalists and writers.

Practical Newspaper Reporting David Spark, Geoffrey Harris, 2010-11-15 Now in its fourth edition, this classic textbook has grown up alongside the newspaper industry. Today as ever, it provides students of newspaper journalism with a toolkit for gathering news and filling ever-increasing space with first-rate copy for print and online. Detailed and down-to-earth, this book delivers guidance on news gathering from government and business to sport and religion.
