Land Law Manual In Tanzania:

Tanzania Business Law Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Basic Laws IBP, Inc, 2012-01-01 Tanzania Business Law Handbook Strategic Information and Basic Laws Customary Land Law of Tanzania : a Source Book Rudolph William James, G. M. Fimbo, 1973 Land as a Human Right Abdon Rwegasira, 2012 On the importance of judicial independence

Essays in Land Law, Tanzania G. M. Fimbo, 1992 Land Law and Urban Policy in Context Thanos Zartaloudis, 2016-10-14 This book is a collection of essays honouring and engaging with the work of the late Professor Patrick McAuslan. It is a collection that narrates analyses and critiques McAuslan's contributions as well as offering substantive perspectives on how his work has impacted the legal fields in which he was involved including those of land law, urban planning, law and policy, land use and participation in developing countries, democratic constitutionalism and legal education. The essays present McAuslan's contributions in the contexts in which they emerged and according to both the circumstances and motivations that shaped them as well as the challenges they encountered. It thus provides an ideal point of engagement for scholars, students and policy makers that have already interacted with McAuslan's ideas and work or who have yet to do so. Land Law and the Extractive Industries Victoria R Nalule, 2021-08-26 This book analyses the nexus between land access and the extractive industries in Africa, specifically highlighting the gaps in energy, land and mining laws and the practical solutions needed to settle the increasing number of land disputes in resource-rich areas. Access to land is essential for the successful operation of energy and mining projects. However, there are often social, environmental and economic issues associated with acquiring land for these projects. Socially, many people are relocated; economically, local communities are not given adequate compensation; environmentally, pollution negatively impacts on the agricultural and fishing industries relied on by over 80% of the local communities. Against this stark background and drawing from the author's fieldwork research, this book addresses the important question of whether the different land tenure systems coupled with administration and registration procedures are adequate to address the increasing land disputes in oil and mineral-rich African countries. State and Business in Tanzania's Development Samuel Mwita Wangwe, 2023-11-23 It is widely accepted that countries' institutions play a major role in their economic development. Yet the way they affect and are affected by development and how to reform them are still poorly understood. In this companion volume, State and Business in Tanzania diagnoses the main weaknesses, root causes and developmental consequences of Tanzania's institutions and shows that the uncertainty surrounding its development paths and its difficulty in truly taking off are related to institutional challenges. Based on a thorough account of the economic, social and political development of the country, this diagnostic offers evidence on the quality of its institutions and a detailed analysis of critical institution and development-sensitive areas among which state-business relations rank high, even though the institutional features of land management, civil service and the power sector are shown to be also of prime importance. This title is also available as Open Access. Land Law Reform in Eastern

Africa: Traditional or Transformative? Patrick McAuslan, 2013-06-26 Land Law Reform in East Africa reviews development and changes in the statutory land laws of 7 countries in Eastern Africa over the period 1961-2011. The book is divided into two parts. Part 1 sets up the conceptual framework for consideration of the reforms and pursues a contrast between transformational and traditional developments where the former aim at change designed to ensure social justice in land laws and the latter aim to continue the overall thrust of colonial approaches to land laws and land administration. Part 2 provides an in-depth and critical survey of the land law reforms introduced into each country during the era of land law reform which commenced around 1990. The overall effect of the reforms, as Patrick McAuslan argues, has been traditional: it was colonial policy to move towards land markets, individualisation of land tenure and the demise of customary tenure, all of which characterise the post-1990 reforms. The culmination of over 50 years of working in this area, Land Law Reform in East Africa will be invaluable reading for scholars of land law and of law and development more generally. Source: Book of Uganda's Land Law

J. T. Mugambwa, 2002 As a companion volume to Principles of Land Law in Uganda, this book provides law students and practising lawyers with an easy access to vital materials and cases on all aspects of Uganda land tenure law. Non-lawyers will also find it a useful source of understandable information on common land problems. Back cover Manual for Transfers of Rights of Occupancy

Zebron Steven Gondwe, 2001 In Tanzania, transfers of rights of occupancy frequently encounter procedural problems and, as regards land transfers, existing legal structures are inadequate. Case law in this area remains insufficiently documented, is contradictory, and there is a dearth of adequate information to guide practitioners through existing precedents. By way of response to these limitations, this manual addresses aspects of procedures involved in land transfer. It sets out the governing laws and summarises principles governing the acquisition and transfer of rights of occupancy and regulating land ownership in Tanzania. It covers acquisition of public land by individuals and institutions and the rights and duties of parties between date of contract and date of completion, and the author makes reference to the new 1999 Village Land and Land Acts. He provides a checklist of the steps constituting a transfer and, in a series of annexes, presents in detail the relevant statutory provisions, specimen forms, scales of duties and fees payable. Issa Shivji, renowned academic, Professor of Law and Advocate to the High Court in Tanzania, Zanzibar, provides a forward to the manual. The Impact of Tanzania's New Land Laws on the Customary Land Rights of Pastoralists

Kennedy Gastorn, 2008 This book investigates the effects of the 1999 Tanzanian land legislation on customary land tenure, particularly that of pastoralists. It is an original empirical and theoretical critical study of the laws and their implementation in securing land tenure of customary landholders in the face of the changing social-political structures and, as such, constitutes a contribution to the current debate about the future of customary landholders in the reformed Tanzanian economy. Among issues that receive particular attention in this study are the development of pastoral land tenure, the main features of the new land laws introduced, land schemes for pastoralists, land dispute mechanisms, the certification of village lands, investments on village land, the inclusion of unused or unoccupied village lands into the category of general land women s land rights and villager participation in the administration and management of village lands The Land Law of Tanzania G. M. Fimbo,2013 Land Law and Land Ownership in Africa Robert Debusmann,1996 The Tanzania Law Reports ,1995 Proceedings of a National Workshop on Women and Law in Eastern Africa ,1993 OMIMEE's Book of Books from Tanzania ,1998 Land Law Paul Palia Kiapi,1997 Mobilizing Rural People of Tanzania to Plant Trees Arnold J. Ahlbäck,1992 East African Law Journal ,1975 The Law Reports of Tanzania Court of Appeal for East Africa,1973
