

"The Fight" by Adam Bagdasarian Questions

Answer these on a separate sheet of paper and do not write on this copy. You may work together to discuss answers. Each question should be answered in a complete sentence (unless otherwise stated) using R.A.C.E. (restate, answer, cite, explain).

Example

1. Why do you think Hans chose to fight Mike, even though he stated he didn't hate Mike?

Hans chose to fight Mike because he had mentioned in paragraph one that he had something to prove. Hans was going to show everyone how tough he was by fighting Mike, even though he didn't hate Mike.

All Classes

1. How do the characters show their traits throughout the story?
2. How did the setting impact the story?
3. How do the characters change over time?
4. What was the conflict?
5. What question(s) do you still have about the fight?
6. Who do you think is the stronger character and why?
7. If you went to this school, whose side would you take and why?
8. Provide an example of sensory detail within the story.

Pre-AP

1. How did the setting impact the story?
2. How do the characters change over time?
3. Create an argument, as Hans or Mike, on why you didn't start the fight, make sure to incorporate their character traits.
4. Why does the inner Hans not match the outer Hans?
5. What type(s) of conflict was it (Man v. Self, Man v. World/Society, Man v. Nature, or Man v. Man) and how do you know?
6. If you were Hans or Mike, how would you have changed the story?
7. Criticize or defend Hans's reasoning for giving up the fight.
8. How do you think the story would have changed if Mike and Hans did not fight?

A Parent/Teacher Guide to Children's Books on Peace and Tolerance Bob Blumenthal,2005 How do you teach children to value peace and appreciate diversity One way is to provide them with books with themes that promote these ideas The Parent Teacher Guide to Children s Books on Peace and Tolerance offers readers a wide variety of award winning titles along with annotations and grade level recommendations The book is divided into the following sections Preschool grade three Grades 4 6 Middle school and High school Each section has over 100 listings Topics include civil rights the Holocaust slavery Native Americans bullying war child abuse bigotry cooperation acceptance apartheid family relationships Arab Israeli conflict controlling anger the Civil War the Vietnam War WWII gays and lesbians and other social issues Many of these books are the recipients of the following awards and honors Newbery Award School Library Journal starred review Caldecott Award Boston Globe Horn Book Award American Library Association Notable Book Jane Addams Children s Book Award American Bookseller Pick of the List Kirkus Reviews starred review Publishers Weekly starred review Booklist starred review Coretta Scott King Award VOYA Top Picks National Book Award and the Michael L Printz Award This guide is an excellent resource for parents who would like their children to become peace loving accepting adults Teachers who are looking for books to supplement their curriculum will find the suggested titles to be among the best written works in the designated areas For example one would be hard pressed to find a better written book on the Holocaust for middle and high school students than I Have Lived One Thousand Years The author has done a great service by providing parents and teachers with a list of books that cannot be found anywhere else

What Are You Grouping For?, Grades 3-8 Julie Wright,Barry Hoonan,2018-07-26 Bring out daring readers with dynamic small groups Like many educators in intermediate classrooms across the country you may be using guided reading principles to teach reading Whether you re following targeted reading levels or sticking with your school s established routines chances are that guided reading has become synonymous with small group reading for you and your students But are your students getting the most out of small groups Are readers of all ability levels experiencing the dynamic learning that can occur in small groups Do you feel confident that the way you re grouping kids is based on their wants and needs Intermediate grade readers don t need to be guided as much as they need to be engaged and authors Julie Wright and Barry Hoonan have solutions for doing just that using small groups What Are You Grouping For offers the practical tools classroom examples and actionable steps essential for starting sustaining and mastering the management of small groups This book explains the five teacher moves that work together to support students reading independence through small group learning kidwatching pivoting assessing curating and planning and provides examples to guide you and your students toward success From must have beginning of the year strategies to step by step advice for implementation this guide breaks down the processes that support small groups and help create effective instructional reading programs Based on more than 45 years of combined experience in the classroom this resource will empower you with tools to ensure that your readers are doing the reading thinking and doing not you Second-Generation Memory and Contemporary Children's Literature Anastasia

Ulanowicz,2013-09-02 Winner of the Children s Literature Association Book Award This book visits a range of textual forms including diary novel and picturebook to explore the relationship between second generation memory and contemporary children s literature Ulanowicz argues that second generation memory informed by intimate family relationships textual mediation and technology is characterized by vicarious rather than direct experience of the past As such children s literature is particularly well suited to the representation of second generation memory insofar as children s fiction is particularly invested in the transmission and reproduction of cultural memory and its form promotes the formation of various complex intergenerational relationships Further children s books that depict second generation memory have the potential to challenge conventional Western notions of selfhood and ethics This study shows how novels such as Lois Lowry s The Giver 1993 and Judy Blume s Starring Sally J Freedman as Herself 1977 both of which feature protagonists who adapt their elders memories into their own mnemonic repertoires implicitly reject Cartesian notions of the unified subject in favor of a view of identity as always already social relational and dynamic in character This book not only questions how and why second generation memory is represented in books for young people but whether such representations of memory might be considered radical or conservative Together these analyses address a topic that has not been explored fully within the fields of children s literature trauma and memory studies and Holocaust studies A Day No Pigs Would Die Robert Newton

Peck,2010-01-13 Originally published in hardcover in 1972 A Day No Pigs Would Die was one of the first young adult books along with titles like The Outsiders and The Chocolate War In it author Robert Newton Peck weaves a story of a Vermont boyhood that is part fiction part memoir The result is a moving coming of age story that still resonates with teens today

Dr. Franklin's Island Ann Halam,2007-12-18 Semi Miranda and Arnie are part of a group of 50 British Young Conservationists on their way to a wildlife conservation station deep in the rain forests of Ecuador After a terrifying mid air disaster and subsequent crash these three are the sole survivors stranded together on a deserted tropical island Or so they think Semi Miranda and Arnie stumble into the hands of Dr Franklin a mad scientist who s been waiting for them eager to use them as specimens for his experiments in genetic engineering
