Boundas,2009-04-15 Gilles Deleuze The Intensive Reduction brings together eighteen essays written by an internationally acclaimed team of scholars to provide a comprehensive overview of the work of Gilles Deleuze one of the most important and influential European thinkers of the twentieth century Each essay addresses a central issue in Deleuze's philosophy and that of his regular co-author Félix Guattari that remains to this day controversial and unsettled. Since Deleuze's death in 1994, the technical aspects of his philosophy have been largely neglected. These essays address that gap in the existing scholarship by focusing on his contribution to philosophy. Each contributor advances the discussion of a contested point in the philosophy of Deleuze to shed new light on as yet poorly understood problems and to stimulate new and vigorous exchanges regarding his relationship to philosophy, schizoanalysis, his aesthetic, ethical, and political thought. Together, the essays in this volume make an invaluable contribution to our understanding of Deleuze's philosophy.

A Logic of Sense, Nonsense, and Sacrament Joseph Holt, 2002 Negotiations, 1972-1990 Gilles Deleuze, 1995. This text traces the intellectual journey of a man often acclaimed as one of the most important philosophers in France. A guide to Deleuze by Deleuze: it explains the life and work of this figure in contemporary philosophy, tying together the strands of his long and prolific career.

Gilles Deleuze: Affirmation in Philosophy J. Conway, 2010-10-27. Why does knowledge of philosophy presuppose knowledge of reality? What are the characters in Deleuze's theatre and philosophy? How are his famous metaphysical distinctions secondary to the concept of philosophy as practice and politics? These questions are answered through careful analysis and application of Deleuzian principles.

Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari François Dosse, 2011. In May 1968, Gilles Deleuze was an established philosopher teaching at the innovative Vincennes University just outside of Paris. Félix Guattari was a political militant and director of an unusual psychiatric clinic at La Borde. Their meeting was unlikely, and the two were introduced in an arranged encounter of epic consequence. From that moment on, Deleuze and Guattari engaged in a surprising, productive partnership, collaborating on several groundbreaking works, including Anti-Oedipus, What Is Philosophy? and A Thousand Plateaus. François Dosse, a prominent French intellectual, examines the prolific if improbable relationship between two men of distinct and differing sensibilities. Drawing on unpublished archives and hundreds of personal interviews, Dosse elucidates a collaboration that lasted more than two decades, underscoring the role that family and history, particularly the turbulence of May 1968, played in their monumental work. He also takes the measure of Deleuze and Guattari's posthumous fortunes and weighs the impact of their thought within intellectual, academic, and professional circles.

Logic and Existence Jean Hyppolite, 1997-01-01. This first English translation illuminates Hegelianism's most obscure dialectical synthesis: the relation between the phenomenology and the logic. This book is essential for understanding the development of French thought in this century.

Ontological Priority of Events in Gilles Deleuze's "The Logic of Sense" Sean Bowden, 2009. The aim of this thesis is to examine the way in which Deleuze affirms the ontological priority of events over substances in his 1969 work The Logic of Sense. In particular, the thesis analyses the way in which Deleuze grounds this affirmation by establishing a complex and structural relation between the works representative of several of the philosophers and intellectual movements which Deleuze privileges in The Logic of Sense, namely the Stoics, Leibniz, Albert Lautman, Gilbert Simondon, Structuralism, and Psychoanalysis. We will show Deleuze constructs a concept of the ontologically primitive event by extracting from the works of these thinkers on the one hand a number of event related problems and on the other hand a system of concepts which are capable with several important qualifications of resolving these problems and thus functioning as the elements of a concept of the event on which in the final analysis every substance depends We conclude that the process of associating ordering and bringing into relation the worldly events characterizing things in general that is of discovering the laws which govern them and of constructing their corresponding concepts is itself an event always already underway which is produced in an intersubjective and linguistic context This sense event can be described in terms of a moving structure of relations between events Within this structure events of all orders and levels determine one another to determine things in general and without reference to some already given substance which would fix this structure from outside
