Shaping Literate Minds Linda Dorn, Carla Soffos, 2023-10-10 How can teachers create a literacy curriculum that builds processing links between reading writing and spelling knowledge In Shaping Literate

Minds Developing Self Regulated Learners Linda J Dorn and Carla Soffos illustrate how processing theory can be applied to the everyday practices of classroom teaching If instruction emphasizes the interrelationships of these three language areas students learn how to transfer knowledge skills and strategies across literacy events This is complex theory but the authors provide clear and practical examples to support teachers as they incorporate these ideas into their classroom practices Grounded in authentic experiences from primary classrooms this book provides Explanations of processing behaviors among reading writing and spelling knowledge Observational tools that support teachers in noticing changes over time in specific literacy behaviors Guidance on creating conditions for developing self regulated learners Authentic reading and writing samples and teacher student interactions Figures and pictures that clearly describe how teachers can use assessment to inform and guide instruction with links to national standards Details for establishing a school based literacy model that includes team meetings assessment walls high standards and a curriculum for literacy Appendixes with reproducible assessment checklists report cards task cards for literacy corners and guided reading observation forms for team meetings With a national emphasis on accountability high standards and literacy achievement Shaping Literate Minds will help teachers and administrators implement a high quality literacy curriculum that links to national and state goals

Growing Readers Kathy Collins, 2004 Primary grade teachers face an important challenge teaching children how to read while enabling them to build good habits so they fall in love with reading Many teachers find the independent reading workshop to be the component of reading instruction that meets this challenge because it makes it possible to teach the reading skills and strategies children need and guides them toward independence intention and joy as readers In Growing Readers Kathy Collins helps teachers plan for independent reading workshops in their own classrooms She describes the structure of the independent reading workshop and other components of a balanced literacy program that work together to ensure young students grow into strong well rounded readers Kathy outlines a sequence of possible units of study for a yearlong curriculum Chapters are devoted to the individual units of study and include a sample curriculum as well as examples of mini lessons and reading conferences There are also four Getting Ready sections that suggest some behind the scenes work teachers can do to prepare for the units Topics explored in these units include print and comprehension strategies reading in genres such as poetry and nonfiction connecting in school reading and out of school reading developing the strategies and habits of lifelong readers A series of planning sheets and management tips are presented throughout to help ensure smooth implementation We want our students to learn to read and we want them to love to read To do this we need to lay a foundation on which children build rich and purposeful reading lives that extend beyond the school day The ideas found in Growing Readers create the kind of primary classrooms where that happens

Making the Most of Small Groups Debbie Diller, 2007 Debbie Diller has already shown us how to productively occupy the rest of the class while meeting with small groups Now she turns her attention to the groups themselves and the teacher s role in small group
