

The background of the slide is a painting of a landscape. It features a winding path that leads from the bottom left towards the center. The path is flanked by fields of various colors, including green, yellow, and brown. In the distance, there are rolling hills or mountains under a sky with soft, white and orange-tinted clouds, suggesting a sunrise or sunset. The overall style is impressionistic and romantic.

The Madonna Of Excelsior Zakes Mda:

The Madonna of Excelsior Zakes Mda, 2007-05-15 A new novel by a towering presence in contemporary South African literature In 1971 nineteen citizens of Excelsior in South Africa's white ruled Free State were charged with breaking apartheid's Immorality Act which forbade sex between blacks and whites Taking this case as raw material for his alchemic imagination Zakes Mda tells the story of a family at the heart of the scandal and of a country in which apartheid concealed interracial liaisons of every kind Niki the fallen madonna transgresses boundaries for the sake of love her choices have repercussions in the lives of her black son and mixed race daughter who come of age in post apartheid South Africa where freedom prompts them to reexamine their country's troubled history at first hand By turns earthy witty and tragic The Madonna of Excelsior is a brilliant depiction of life in South Africa and of the dramatic changes between the 1970s and the present

The Madonna of Excelsior Zakes Mda, 2002 In 1971 nineteen citizens of Excelsior a farming community in South Africa's rural Free States were charged with breaking apartheid's Immorality Act which forbade sexual relations between blacks and whites on the pretext of avoiding miscegenation The women were jailed as they awaited trial and their white counterparts were released on bail In the end the state withdrew the charges but the accused women's lives already complicated became harder than ever Mda tells the story of a family at the heart of the scandal revealing a country in which apartheid even as it sought to keep the races apart concealed interracial liaisons of every kind Niki the fallen Madonna transgresses boundaries for the sake of love her choices have profound repercussions in the lives of her black son Viliki and her mixed race daughter Popi who come of age in the years after the end of apartheid when freedom allows them indeed compels them to figure out their racial identities for themselves As the story advances to the present the mixed society of Excelsior comes to suggest South Africa today a society far more complex and more dramatic than conventional notions of black and white will allow

Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel, 2012-01-01 The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma memory and narrative By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth van der Kolk Herman and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD Post Traumatic Stress Disorder What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition in the case of South Africa that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid For most black and coloured South Africans the structural violence of apartheid s laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist The living conditions in the townships pass laws relocation and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations This trauma however is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context writing from within a Fanonian tradition have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here

Race, Decolonization, and Global Citizenship in South Africa Chielozona Eze, 2018 Examines the importance of South Africa s peaceful transition to democracy especially in light of Nelson Mandela s belief that cosmopolitan dreams are not only desirable but a binding duty

Black Cultural Life in South Africa Lily Saint, 2018-09-01 Under apartheid black South Africans experienced severe material and social disadvantages occasioned by the government s policies and they had limited time for entertainment Still they closely engaged with an array of textual and visual cultures in ways that shaped their responses to this period of ethical crisis Marshaling forms of historical evidence that include passbooks memoirs American B movies literary and genre fiction magazines and photocomics Black Cultural Life in South Africa considers the importance of popular genres and audiences in the relationship between ethical consciousness and aesthetic engagement This study provocatively posits that states of oppression including colonial and postcolonial rule can elicit ethical responses to imaginative identification through encounters with popular culture and it asks whether and how they carry over into ethical action Its consideration of how globalized popular culture travels not just in material form but also through the circuits of the imaginary opens a new window for exploring the ethical and liberatory stakes of popular culture Each chapter focuses on a separate genre yet the overall interdisciplinary approach to the study of genre and argument for an expansion of ethical theory that draws on texts beyond the Western canon speak to growing concerns about studying genres and disciplines in isolation Freed from oversimplified treatments of popular forms common to cultural studies and ethical theory alike this book demonstrates that people can do things with mass culture that reinvigorate ethical life Lily Saint s new volume will interest Africanists across the humanities and the social sciences and scholars of Anglophone literary globalization and cultural studies race ethical theories and philosophies film studies book history and material cultures and the burgeoning field of comics and graphic novels

The Undergraduate's Companion to African Writers and Their Web Sites Miriam E. Conteh-Morgan, 2005-10-30 Now a firmly established part of world literature course offerings in many general education curricula African literature is no longer housed exclusively with African Studies programs and is often studied in English French Portuguese Women s Studies and Comparative Studies departments This book helps fill the great need for research materials on this topic presenting the best resources available for 300 African writers These writers have been carefully selected to include both well known writers and those less commonly studied yet highly influential They are drawn from both the Sub Sahara and the Maghreb the major geographical regions of Africa The study of Africa was introduced into the curriculum of institutions of higher learning in the United States in the 1960s when the Black Consciousness movement in the United States and the Cold War and decolonization movements in Africa created a need for the systematic study of other regions of the world Between 1986 and 1991 three Africans won Nobel literature prizes Soyinka Mahfouz and Gordimer and the visibility of African writers increased They are now a firmly established part of world literature courses in many general education curricula throughout North America African Writers is meant to serve as a resource for introductory material on 300 writers from 39 countries These writers were selected on the basis on two criteria that there is material on them in an easily available reference work and that there is some information of research value on free Web sites Each writer is from the late 19th or 20th century with the notable exception of Olaudah Equiano an 18th century African whose slave narrative is generally considered the first work of African literature All entries are annotated

And Whither Are We Gone?" Rosa E. Penna, Karoline Szatek-Tudor, Janet Hadley Williams, 2010-09-13 In the summer of 2008 the twelfth in a series of biennial conferences on the Literature of Region and Nation was held at Aberdeen University in the North East of Scotland Over fifty scholars representing no fewer than twenty different countries convened for the occasion and twenty two of the papers presented are included in this volume As at previous conferences in the series the papers range widely in approach in subject matter and in geographical coverage readers of this book will find explorations of literature from all five continents The papers are arranged thematically the central concepts of region and nation are examined in the first section and subsequent sets of papers go on to consider literary and pictorial representations of places and peoples literature of diaspora and exile a keynote topic of the conference the use of language particularly non standard languages in literary texts and artistic interactions between cultures All the papers have been peer reviewed and some extensively revised The collection demonstrates the vitality of scholarship in the field of regional literary studies Food and Appetites Ann McCulloch, Pavlina Radia, 2013-02-14 This book traces the various configurations of food as hunger desire and appetite which point to the complex dialectic of consumption and consummation of ideas and forms underpinning the arts It examines the relationship between nature and science space and the act of artistic creation desire and the arts appetite and hunger One of the aims of the book is to explore established theoretical and historical conceptions of nature in the arts and re think their relationship to appetite in the globalized world Examining the many guises and figurations of hunger in literature and the arts this book gives an overview of the themes that emerge from the idea of the Hunger Artist alongside the fact of food the latter's significance as a barometer of social class its rich source as a metaphor in literature and art its unequal distribution throughout the world and the means by which its consumption can lead to gluttony and further exploitation of the hungry One of the great strengths of this book is the trans disciplinary nature of the contributions achieved by mapping how the arts in their representation of social psychological political and philosophical perspectives draw attention to the problems associated with excessive human cravings

Emerging Traditions Vicki Briault Manus, 2012-07-10 The monograph explores the linguistic impact of the colonial and postcolonial situations in South Africa on language policy on literary production and especially on the stylistics of fiction by indigenous South Africans writing in English A secondary concern is to investigate the present place of English in the multilingual spectrum of South African languages and to see how this worldly English relates to Global English in the South African context The introduction presents a socio linguistic overview of South Africa from pre historic times until the present including language planning policies during and after the colonial era and a cursory review of how the difficulties encountered in implementing the Language Plan provided for by the new South African constitution impinge on the development of black South African English Six chapters track the course of English in South Africa since the arrival of the British in 1795 considered from the point of view of the indigenous African population The study focuses on ways in which indigenous authors indigenize their writing innovating and subverting stylistic conventions including those of African orature in order to bend language and genre towards their own culture and objectives Each chapter corresponds to a briefly outlined historical period that is largely reflected in linguistic and literary developments A small number of significant works for each period are discussed one of which is selected for a case study at the end of each chapter where it is subjected to detailed stylistic analysis and appraised for the degree of indigenization or other linguistic or socio historic influences on style The methodology adopted is a linguistic approach to stylistics focusing on indigenization of English inspired by the work of Chantal Zabus in her book The African Palimpsest Indigenization of Language in the West African Europhone Novel 2007 1991 The conclusion reappraises the original hypothesis that the specific characteristi The Postcolonial Animal Evan Mwangi, 2019-09-06 Despite the central role that animals play in African writing and daily life African literature and African thinkers remain conspicuously absent from the field of animal studies The Postcolonial Animal African Literature and Posthuman Ethics demonstrates the importance of African writing to animal studies by analyzing how postcolonial African writing including folktales religion philosophy and anticolonial movements has been mobilized to call for humane treatment of nonhuman others Mwangi illustrates how African authors grapple with the possibility of an alternative to eating meat and how they present postcolonial animal consuming cultures as shifting toward an embrace of cultural and political practices that avoid the use of animals and minimize animal suffering The Postcolonial Animal analyzes texts that imagine a world where animals are not abused or used as a source of food clothing or labor and that offer instruction in how we might act responsibly and how we should relate to others both human and nonhuman in order to ensure a world free of oppression The result is an equitable world where even those who are utterly foreign to us are accorded respect and where we recognize the rights of all marginalized groups
