Aurelia Gerard De Nerval:

The Imagery of Gerard de Nerval Jean A. Crute, 1952 The style of Nerval's "Aurélia" William Beauchamp, 2019-05-20
No detailed description available for The style of Nerval's Aurélia Dream, Creativity, and Madness in

Nineteenth-Century France Tony James, 1995-12-28 This is an important new analysis of the problematic relationship between dreams and madness as perceived by nineteenth century French writers thinkers and doctors Those wishing to know the nature of madness wrote Voltaire should observe their dreams The relationship between the dream state and madness is a key theme of nineteenth century European and specifically French thought The meaning of dreams and associated phenomena such as somnambulism ecstasy and hallucinations including those induced by hashish preoccupied writers philosophers and psychiatrists In this path breaking cross disciplinary study Tony James shows how doctors such as Esquirol Llut and Janet thinkers including Maine de Biran and Taine and writers for example Balzac Nerval Baudelaire Victor Hugo and Rimbaud grappled in very different ways with the problems raised by the so called phenomena of sleep Were historical figures such as Socrates or Pascal in fact mad Might dream be a source of creativity rather than a merely subsidiary automatic function What of lucid dreaming By exploring these questions Dreams Madness and Creativity in Nineteenth Century France makes good a considerable gap in the history of pre Freudian psychology and sheds new and fascinating light on the central French writers of the period Aurélia ; Followed by Sylvie Gérard de Nerval, 1993

Throughout his life the poet and writer Gerard de Nerval 1808 1855 struggled with bouts of madness and ended his life wandering homeless on the streets of Paris until he was found hanging from a sewer grating an apparent suicide As one of the most individualistic of the colorful French Romantics the details of Nerval's life have passed into legend as writers and commentators have served up any number of versions of his mysterious love affair with the actress Jenny Colon not to mention his famous habit of walking a lobster on a pale blue leash through the gardens of the Palais Royal Soon after the completion of his novella Sylvie in 1853 Nerval began under advice from his doctor an extended personal journal essay chronicling his psychic experiences and visions What emerged from these writings is Aurelia a masterpiece in the literature of dreams and hallucinations and one of the most remarkable prose works of nineteenth century French literature Book jacket

Aurelia and Letters to Aurelia Gerard De Nerval, Benn Sowerby, 2013-11 Gerard de Nerval 1808 1855 was the nom de plume of Gerard Labrunie a French romantic poet essayist and translator He was a leading figure in the romantic movement and a precursor of the symbolists and surrealists He travelled widely in the Orient and viewed dreams as a means of communication between the real world and the spirit world From 1841 onwards he suffered from a series of mental breakdowns It was during this period that he produced some of his best writing His works greatly influenced Andre Breton Marcel Proust Rene Duhamel and Antonin Artaud His translation of Goethe's Faust was highly praised by the author whose preferred translator he was His major works are the collection of poems Les Chimeres Voyage en Orient Sylvie considered by

Marcel Proust and Umberto Eco to be a masterpiece and Aurelia

Promenades Et Souvenirs, Et La Pandora Gerard Labrunie Gerard de Nerval (known as), 1958 Selected Writings
Gerard de Nerval, 2006-09-28 Poet visionary short story writer and autobiographer Gerard de Nerval 1808 1855 explored the uncertain borderlines between dream and reality irony and madness autobiography and fiction with his groundbreaking writings This comprehensive selection of his works includes Aurelia the memoir of his madness the haunting novella of love and memory Sylvie considered to be a masterpiece by Proust the hermetic sonnets of The Chimeras as well as Nerval's experimental fictions and selections from his correspondence which demonstrate his lucid awareness of how nineteenth century psychiatry consigned his fertile imagination to the status of mental illness Together these pieces confirm Nerval's place as a pioneering modernist a precursor of the French Symbolists and a vital model for such writers as Marcel Proust Andr Breton Antonin Artaud and Michel Leiris Aurelia, Aurélia Kathryn Davis, 2022-03-01 An eerily dreamlike memoir and the first work of nonfiction by one of our most inventive novelists Aurelia Aurelia begins on a boat The author sixteen years old is traveling to Europe at an age when one can try on personae like dresses She has the confidence of a teenager cultivating her earliest obsessions Woolf Durrell Bergman sure of her maturity sure of the life that awaits her Soon she finds herself in a Greece far drearier than the Greece of fantasy climbing up and down the steep paths every morning with the real old women looking for kindling Kathryn Davis's hypnotic new book is a meditation on the way imagination shapes life and how life as it moves forward shapes imagination At its center is the death of her husband Eric The book unfolds as a study of their marriage its deep joys and stinging frustrations it is also a book about time the inexorable events that determine beginnings and endings The preoccupations that mark Davis's fiction are recognizable here fateful voyages an intense sense of place the unexpected union of the magical and the real but the vehicle itself is utterly new Aurelia Aurelia explodes the conventional bounds of memoir It is an astonishing accomplishment On Psychological and Visionary Art C. G. Jung, 2025-07-22 The first English translation of Jung's landmark lecture on Nerval's hallucinatory memoir In 1945 at the end of the Second World War and after a long illness C G Jung delivered a lecture in Zurich on the French Romantic poet Gerard de Nerval The lecture focused on Nerval's visionary memoir Aurelia which the poet wrote in an ambivalent attempt to emerge from madness Published here for the first time Jung's lecture is both a cautionary psychological tale and a validation of Nerval's visionary experience as a genuine encounter Nerval explored the irrational with lucidity and exquisite craft He privileged the subjective imagination as a way of fathoming the divine to reconnect with what the Romantics called the life principle During the years of his greatest creativity he suffered from madness and was institutionalized eight times Contrasting an orthodox psychoanalytic interpretation with his own synthetic approach to the unconscious Jung explains why Nerval was unable to make use of his visionary experiences in his own life At the same time Jung emphasizes the validity of Nerval's visions differentiating the psychology of a work of art from the psychology of the artist. The lecture suggests how Jung's own experiments with active imagination influenced his reading of Nerval's Aurélia as a parallel text to his own Red Book. With Craig Stephenson's authoritative introduction, Richard Sieburth's award-winning translation of Aurélia and Alfred Kubin's haunting illustrations to the text, and featuring Jung's reading marginalia, preliminary notes, and revisions to a 1942 lecture On Psychological and Visionary Art, documents the stages of Jung's creative process as he responds to an essential Romantic text.

Gérard de Nerval Kari Lokke, 1987 Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008

In this volume, a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age, seen from cross-cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives. The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions, the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing, and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present, both in Europe and in the New World. Through its combination of chapters on thematic, generic, and discursive features, Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism, but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization.

SPECIAL OFFER: 30% discount for a complete set. Order 5 vols. The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration. The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World, but also the ways in which the affected literatures, in reaction to Romanticism, have redefined themselves into Modernism. A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series' total contents.

Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution, and by combining cross-cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams. Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large, fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera, and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd. Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments. Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse, including Romanticism's own self-commentary in theoretical statements on the arts, society, life, the sciences, and more. Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume, Romantic Prose Fiction, where the basic Romantic themes and story types—the romance, novel, novella, short story, and other narrative forms—are considered throughout.

Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

The Theatre of the Dream Salomon Resnik, 2005-11-08 The Theatre of the Dream is a profound study of our dream world and its place in everyday life The author grounds his ideas in Freud and psychoanalysis authors such as Klein Bion Rosenfeld and Matte Blanco but also draws on the approach to dream phenomena in the work of philosophers artists and poets He argues that dreams are indeed as the ancients held messages The dream is a theatrical re recreation of certain unconscious experiences which are both subjective and objective at the same time It expresses not only desire but a complex working over of a problematic situation that is not quite resolved In waking the dream is a new elaboration of everyday experience and one which creates the seeds of oracular awareness Resnik develops his thesis with ample and enlightening examples of dreams and their significance from his own patients The author's achievement is a new psychoanalytic reading of dreams one which does justice to Freud's momentous discovery but which broadens it and places it within the wider context of subsequent developments in psychoanalysis semiotics and social and cultural anthropology The book will be of great value to the professional psychotherapist or psychoanalyst as well as to students of literature the arts and linguistics and the wider public interested in the ongoing relationship between dream reality and what is commonly called external reality As has been remarked each era can be defined on the basis of relations between dream and life

Voices from the Asylum is a fascinating investigation of the lives of four women incarcerated in French psychiatric hospitals in the second half of the nineteenth century. The renowned sculptor and mistress of Rodin, Camille Claudel, the musician Hersilie Rouy, the feminist activist Marie Esquiron, and the self-proclaimed mystic and eccentric Pauline Lair Lamotte all left first-hand accounts of their experiences. These rare and unsettling documents provide the foundation for a unique insight into the experience of psychiatric breakdown and treatment from the patient's viewpoint. By linking the question of gender to the process of medical diagnosis made by contemporary clinicians such as Sigmund Freud, this book argues that psychiatric medicine functioned as an integral part of an essentially misogynistic and oppressive society. Wilson suggests that delusional utterances can be read as meaningful when read as metaphorical expressions of real suffering and as strategies to ensure the survival of a self under threat. These narratives therefore constituted an act of resistance on the part of the women who wrote them and they prefigure the feminist revisionist histories of psychiatry that appeared later in the twentieth century. Straddling the disciplines of literature and social history and based on extensive archival research, this book makes an important contribution to the feminist project of writing women back into literary history. It brings to light a remarkable but hitherto unrecognised literary tradition in the prehistory of psychoanalysis: the psychiatric memoir.
