of ANGER across Languages: Universality and Variation Zoltan Kövecses, Réka Benczes, Veronika Széldi, 2024-11-04

Anger is one of the basic emotions of human emotional experience informing and guiding many of our choices and actions. Although it has received considerable scholarly attention in a number of disciplines including linguistics, a basic question has still remained unresolved: why do variations in the folk model of anger exist across languages if it is indeed a basic emotion rooted in largely universal bodily experience? By drawing on a wide selection of comparable linguistic data from dozens of languages including a number of less researched languages, this volume provides the most comprehensive account of what is universal and what is variable in the folk model of anger and why. It also investigates the role that metonymies might play in the emergence of anger-related metaphors and in what ways context influences or shapes anger metaphors and thereby the resulting folk model of anger. No such volume exists in the cognitive linguistic literature on anger or on emotions for that matter. The book is thus an essential contribution to the study of anger and will serve as basic reading for any researcher interested in how the conceptualization of anger is constructed via the interplay of bodily experience, language, and the larger cultural context.

A Grammar of the Asante and Fante Language Called Tshi [Chwee, Twi], Based on the Akuapem Dialect, with Reference to the Other [Akan and Fante] Dialects, by Rev. J. G. Christaller, ... Johann Gottlieb Christaller, 1875 The Bible Translator, 2005 All Things New Gene L. Green, Stephen T. Pardue, K. K. Yeo, 2019-09-30 The Christian faith presents a distinctive vision of last things that God in Christ aims to reconcile the world to himself and through his Spirit and a new people to set all things to right. This good news is for all nations and peoples, but for too long the Christian doctrine of eschatology has focused on debates and arguments rooted solely in the Western church. In All Things New, leading theologians and biblical scholars from Africa, Asia, Latin America, and North America offer readers a glimpse of how Christians around the globe are perceiving and describing the Christian hope. The result is a remarkably refreshing and distinctive vision of eschatology guaranteed to raise new questions and add new insights to the global church's vision of the eschaton.

Biblical Exegesis in African Context Frederick Mawusi Amevenku, Isaac Boaheng, 2021-09-07 Biblical Exegesis in African Context explores how the Church in Africa can affirm its uniqueness in terms of the African identity and experiences and at the same time remain faithful to the gospel message. The volume begins with an explanation of exegesis and hermeneutics, and the agenda for the rest of the book is set. The second chapter deals with textual criticism, which is the task of determining the originality of a biblical text. In chapter three, issues related to the context of the text are considered, after which the volume proceeds to examine the various literary forms present in the Bible, prominent among them being Narrative, Law, Poetry, Prophecy, Wisdom Literature, Gospels, Acts of the Apostles, Epistles, and Revelation. The authors then dedicate the next chapter to discussions on socio-rhetorical interpretation. The final chapters of the book deal with matters solely related to the context of Africa this part intends to equip readers to be able to interpret the Bible from African cultural perspectives and then apply the gospel message meaningfully to the life of African Christians Chapter seven deals with the emergence and historical development of African Biblical Studies ABS noting its relevance and how Africans can benefit from it The main contention of the chapter is that Africans will better understand and apply God's word to their lives if they read the Scriptures in an African way The volume then explores how African languages can be used to derive the meaning of scripture and apply it to real life situations Here the authors contribute to the development of MTBH by developing a methodological framework for this interpretative tool The next chapter of the volume deals with mother tongue theologizing in Ghana The final chapter considers the legitimacy of female leadership in the Church within the African context through the examination of two Pauline texts This volume will be of interest to undergraduate and graduate seminary students students of Biblical Interpretation in religions departments as well as practicing pastors
