Intelligence and Its Practical Applications in the Digital Economy Yahya Mohamed Elhadj, Mohamedade Farouk Nanne, Anis Koubaa, Farid Meziane, Mohamed Deriche, 2024-12-17 Artificial Intelligence AI technologies hold immense promise for developing countries by offering innovative solutions to longstanding challenges. By leveraging AI in health care, education, economic development, infrastructure, and resource management, these countries can potentially leapfrog traditional development stages and improve the quality of life for their populations. However, it is essential to approach AI deployment with ethical considerations to ensure that the technology serves the best interests of these communities and thus to maximize the expected benefits. The I2COMSAPP 24 International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and its Applications in the Age of Digital Transformation aims to provide an excellent opportunity to gather experts, researchers, practitioners, and innovators from various fields to explore the latest advancements, challenges, and practical implementations of artificial intelligence and machine learning (ML) technologies. Moreover, it aims to foster knowledge sharing, collaboration, and networking among professionals who are driving responsible and innovative use of AI and leveraging real-world applications for the betterment of society and industries.

Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century Kassem Wahba, Zeinab A. Taha, Liz England, 2014-06-03 This landmark volume offers an introduction to the field of teaching Arabic as a foreign or second language. Recent growth in student numbers and the demand for new and more diverse Arabic language programs of instruction have created a need that has outpaced the ability of teacher preparation programs to provide sufficient numbers of well-qualified professional teachers at the level of skill required. Arabic language program administrators anticipate that the increases in enrollment will continue into the next decades. More resources and more varied materials are seriously needed in Arabic teacher education and training. The goal of this Handbook is to address that need. The most significant feature of this volume is its pioneer role in approaching the field of Arabic language teaching from many different perspectives. It offers readers the opportunity to consider the role, status, and content of Arabic language teaching in the world today. The Handbook is intended as a resource to be used in building Arabic language and teacher education programs and in guiding future academic research. Thirty-four chapters authored by leaders in the field are organized around nine themes: Background of Arabic Language Teaching; Contexts of Arabic Language Teaching; Communicative Competence in Arabic; The Learners; Assessment; Technology Applications; Curriculum Development; Design and Models; Arabic Language Program Administration and Management; and Planning for the Future of Arabic Language Learning and Teaching. The Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century will benefit and be welcomed by Arabic language teacher educators and trainers, administrators, graduate students, and scholars around the world. It is intended to create dialogue among scholars and professionals in the field and in related fields; dialogue that will contribute to creating new models for curriculum and course design, materials, and assessment tools, and ultimately better instructional effectiveness for all Arabic learners everywhere in both Arabic-speaking and non-Arabic-speaking countries.

Translation between English and Arabic Nouredin Abdelaal, 2020-02-18 This textbook provides a comprehensive resource for translation students and educators embarking on the challenge of translating into and out of English and Arabic. Combining a solid basis in translation theory with examples drawn from real texts including the Qu'ran, the author introduces a number of the problems and practical considerations which arise during translation between English and Arabic, equipping readers with the skills to recognise and address these issues in their own work through practical exercises. Among these considerations are grammatical, semantic, lexical and cultural problems, collocations, idioms and fixed expressions. With its coverage of essential topics including culturally bound terms and differences, both novice and more experienced translators will find this book useful in the development of their translation practice.

Applications in Arabic/English/ Translation Albashir Alhaj Ali, 2015-06-04 This book is intended primarily for practicing students of translation and those preparing to become professional translators; it is my hope that it may also be of interest for teachers of translation and new translators who wish to know more about Arabic-English translation. The book is also for those who have a little training in translation; hence it is intended to provide an overview or shop window of what translation is about as seen through the eyes of the professional and applied linguist, as the author of this book.
