Jewish Feminism Esther Fuchs, 2018-03-12 In the last three decades hundreds of books and essays have been published on women gender and Jewish Studies This burgeoning scholarship has not been adequately theorized contextualized or historicized This book argues that Jewish feminist studies is currently constrained by multiple frames of reference that require re-examination a self-critical awareness and a serious reflective inquiry into the models paradigms and assumptions that inform shape and define this area of academic interest This book is the first critical analysis of Jewish feminist scholarship tracing it from its tentative beginnings in the late 1970s to contemporary academic articulations of its disciplinary projects It focuses on the assumptions evasions omissions inconsistencies and gaps in this scholarship and notably the absence of debate contestation and interrogation of authoritative articulations of its presumed goals investments and priorities The book teases out implicit thinking about mapping direction and orientation from introductions to leading anthologies and engages critically with the few explicitly theoretical works on Jewish feminist studies contesting ideas that have become hegemonic in some areas and interrogating the limitations these theories impose on future trajectories in Jewish feminist studies Each chapter outlines the theoretical assumptions that inform salient publications in the field providing a close reading of scholarly texts that justify certain practices The book is divided into four chapters each of which focuses on a different frame of reference It outlines the way in which the various frames that have so far been imposed on Jewish feminism the ethnocentric liberal personal masculinist and essentialist have arrested its theoretical elaboration and articulation The book includes both interdisciplinary anthologies on gender and Jewish identity and disciplinary publications in history literature philosophy cultural studies and Holocaust studies

Sayyid Qutb's Radical Islamism and the Comparative Political Theology Dragos

Stoica, 2024-12-15 Sayyid Qutb's Radical Islamism and The Comparative Political Theology argues that Sayyid Qutb's radical critique of secular modernity seen as a product of a great theft of sovereignty that usurps the monopoly of God over the entire world of creation is not idiosyncratic or incoherent but a quintessential expression and an extreme type of a specific tradition of political theology that until now has been exclusively the province of the Western thought Dragos Stoica claims that Sayyid Qutb's political theology of Hakimiyah God's Sovereignty is better understood by integrating it in a wider context of the antimodern political theology Thus throughout this book he compares Qutb's critique of modernity with the Pakistani Islamist thinker Abu al A la Mawdudi 1903-1979 the Spanish Catholic counter revolutionary political theologian Juan Donoso Cortes 1809-1853 as well as the Protestant political theologians Abraham Kuyper 1837-1920 and Rousas J Rushdoony 1916-2001. This book employs a family resemblance cross cultural comparative method and applies a cross disciplinary analytical model that combines comparative political theology with critical discourse analysis. Employing these analytical instruments this book compares Qutb and his counterparts via the category of anti modern political theology more precisely through a set of shared antitheses organized around the master concept of God's Sovereignty. The ultimate objective is to augment the understanding of the Qutbian critique of secular modernity as an essential dimension of anti modern political theology. Thus by recasting Sayyid Qutb as an essential Muslim political theologian of God's Sovereignty placed within a larger cross cultural paradigm this book contributes as well to the necessary process of decolonization of political theology.

Antisemitism Susan Sarah Cohen, 1987 Encyclopedia of Race and Ethnic Studies Ellis Cashmore, 2004-03. The book comprises essays each highlighting a particular word or term germane to the study of race and ethnic studies.

Discourse and Communication Ma Luisa Blanco Gómez, Juana I. Marín Arrese, 2010. The present volume deals with different issues related to discourse and communication from a cognitive and functional perspective. Some of the chapters focus on analysing different types of text such as advertisements, conversation, tales and songs and multimodal texts. Others present a more theoretical approach to key aspects in the field like syntax, politeness, subjectivity and intersubjectivity.

Difference, Deviance, Threat? Ineke van der Valk, 2002. This book examines the political discourse on ethnic issues in the Netherlands and in France. It was written to highlight the socially constructed character and social effects of this discourse and its different variants and expressions and thus offer perspectives for evolution and change. The underlying conviction is that discourses and thus the beliefs and knowledge that they contain are historically specific phenomena that are constructed in communities in particular times and places. In other words, knowledge is not as objective as it sometimes pretends to be; it is affected by gender, class, ethno cultural origin and the political affiliations of its producers. This book has been written for an international audience of academics, politicians, journalists, policymakers and members of social movements engaged in the development of truly diverse societies and interested in the role of politics in attaining such an objective. Ineke van der Valk is researcher at the Department of Discourse Studies, Faculty of Humanities, University of Amsterdam. Prior to researching she worked as a community organizer with the migrant movement, the anti racist movement and the human rights movement. She has published on the history of the migrant movement in the Netherlands, human rights in Morocco and the discourse on ethnic minorities in the Netherlands and France. She also works as a consultant and trainer in the field of diversity management.

The Discourse of Politics in Action Ruth Wodak, 2009-04-28. Offers first hand evidence of the everyday lives of politicians: what politicians actually do on the backstage in political organizations. This book deals with questions of performance of politicians in EU organizations and with TV soaps representing the everyday lives of politicians in answering relevant questions about global politics.

Discourse and Transformation in Central and Eastern Europe Aleksandra

Galasinska,Aleksandra Galasińska,Michal Krzyzanowski,2009-02-15 This volume explores the discursive nature of post 1989 social change in Central and Eastern Europe Through a set of national case studies the construction of post communist transformation is explored from the point of view of accelerating and unique dynamics of linguistic and discursive practices

Democracy Unrealized Okwui Enwezor,2002 Recently democracy has been the watchword for a range of disparate yet apparently convergent contestations and negotiations within the global order Democracy Unrealized detailing the results of Platform1 the first of four conferences held in conjunction with Documenta 11 presents a context within which the interpretive and conceptual regimes surrounding democracy can be reargued against the claims of a neoliberal ideology From this globalist viewpoint democracy described as an unfinished project requires no structural changes for it is complete in all its foundational features requiring only small technical adjustments and minor tinkering This is how the main Western democracies have seen themselves at best as incomplete implementations of equality and justice rather than as limited flawed dead ended and problematic In response to this presumption this book proceeds from the idea that realizing democracy is partly a matter of bringing to light what liberal democracy has promised but failed to deliver The emphasis here is on the potential for revision a reevaluation of values and the extension and creative transformation necessary to keep in step with 21st century globalizing processes This is democracy as an ever open essentially unfinishable project that in principle has fallen short of its ideals Qualitative Discourse Analysis in the Social Sciences Ruth Wodak,Micha?

Krzyzanowski,2008-06-01 What can language tell us about society Looking at a range of genres from political speeches to internet chat this book shows how qualitative methods are used to analyse discourses throughout the social sciences The practical problems of designing and conducting discourse based research are solved in this key resource for all social scientists Michigan State Journal of International Law ,2013 Studies in American Language, Culture and

Literature Piotr P. Chruszczewski,Jacek Fisiak,2009 Crossroads of Language, Interaction, and Culture ,2002
