Transfiction: Characters in Search of Translation Studies Marko Miletich, 2023 This book explores the uses of translation translators and interpreters in fiction as a gateway to introduce issues related to Translation Studies The volume follows recent scholarship on Transfiction a term used to describe the portrayal of translation both a topic and a motif as well as translators and interpreters in fiction and film It expands on the research by Kalus Kaindl Karleheinz Splitzl Michael Cronin and Rosemary Arrojo among others Although the volume reflects the preoccupation with translator visibility it concentrates on the importance of power struggles within the translatorial task The volume could be an invaluable tool to be used for pedagogical purposes to discuss theoretical aspects within Translation and Interpreting Studies

Glamour, 2003 Without You, There Is No Us Suki Kim, 2015-10-13 A haunting account of teaching English to the sons of North Korea's ruling class during the last six months of Kim Jong-il's reign. Every day three times a day the students march in two straight lines singing praises to Kim Jong-il and North Korea. Without you there is no motherland. Without you there is no us. It is a chilling scene but gradually Suki Kim too learns the tune and without noticing begins to hum it. It is 2011 and all universities in North Korea have been shut down for an entire year; the students sent to construction fields except for the 270 students at the all male Pyongyang University of Science and Technology (PUST), a walled compound where portraits of Kim Il-sung and Kim Jong-il look on impassively from the walls of every room and where Suki has gone undercover as a missionary and a teacher. Over the next six months she will eat three meals a day with her young charges and struggle to teach them English all under the watchful eye of the regime. Life at PUST is lonely and claustrophobic, especially for Suki whose letters are read by censors and who must hide her notes and photographs not only from her minders but from her colleagues, evangelical Christian missionaries who don't know or choose to ignore that Suki doesn't share their faith. As the weeks pass she is mystified by how easily her students lie, unnerved by their obedience to the regime. At the same time they offer Suki tantalizing glimpses of their private selves: their boyish enthusiasm, their eagerness to please, the flashes of curiosity that have not yet been extinguished. She in turn begins to hint at the existence of a world beyond their own, at such exotic activities as surfing the Internet or traveling freely and more dangerously at electoral democracy and other ideas forbidden in a country where defectors risk torture and execution. But when Kim Jong-il dies and the boys she has come to love appear devastated, she wonders whether the gulf between her world and theirs can ever be bridged. Without You There Is No Us offers a moving and incalculably rare glimpse of life in the world's most unknowable country and at the privileged young men she calls soldiers and slaves.

Asian American Women's Popular Literature Pamela Sue Thoma, 2013
Popular genre fiction written by Asian American women and featuring Asian American characters gained a market presence in the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries. These crossover books—mother-daughter narratives, chick lit, detective fiction, and food writing—attempt to bridge ethnic audiences and a broader reading public. In Asian American Women's Popular Literature, Pamela Thoma considers how these books both depict contemporary Americanness and contribute critically to public dialogue about national belonging. Novels such as Michelle Yu and B
The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Asian American Literature Guiyou Huang, 2008-12-30 Asian American literature dates back to the close of the 19th century and during the years following World War II it significantly expanded in volume and diversity. Monumental in scope, this encyclopedia surveys Asian American literature from its origins through 2007. Included are more than 270 alphabetically arranged entries on writers, major works, significant historical events, and important terms and concepts. Thus the encyclopedia gives special attention to the historical, social, cultural, and legal contexts surrounding Asian American literature and central to the Asian American experience. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and cites works for further reading and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography of essential print and electronic resources While literature students will value this encyclopedia as a guide to writings by Asian Americans the encyclopedia also supports the social studies curriculum by helping students use literature to learn about Asian American history and culture as it pertains to writers from a host of Asian ethnic and cultural backgrounds including Afghans Chinese Japanese Koreans Filipinos Iranians Indians Vietnamese Hawaiians and other Asian Pacific Islanders The encyclopedia supports the literature curriculum by helping students learn more about Asian American literature In addition it supports the social studies curriculum by helping students learn about the Asian American historical and cultural experience

Translating and Interpreting Conflict Myriam Salama-Carr, 2007 The relationship between translation and conflict is highly relevant in today s globalised and fragmented world and this is attracting increased academic interest This collection of essays was inspired by the first international conference to directly address the translator and interpreter s involvement in situations of military and ideological conflict and its representation in fiction The collection adopts an interdisciplinary approach and the contributors to the volume bring to bear a variety of perspectives informed by media studies historiography literary scholarship and self reflective interpreting and translation practice The reader is presented with compelling case studies of the embeddedness of translators and interpreters either on the ground or as portrayed in fiction and of their roles in mediating memorizing or rewriting conflict Contemporary Authors Lisa Kumar, 2004-04 A biographical and bibliographical guide to current writers in all fields including poetry fiction and nonfiction journalism drama television and movies Information is provided by the authors themselves or drawn from published interviews feature stories book reviews and other materials provided by the authors publishers

Detective Fiction in a Postcolonial and Transnational World Nels Pearson, 2016-04-22 Taking up a neglected area in the study of the crime novel this collection investigates the growing number of writers who adapt conventions of detective fiction to expose problems of law ethics and truth that arise in postcolonial and transnational communities While detective fiction has been linked to imperialism and constructions of race from its earliest origins recent developments signal the evolution of the genre into a potent framework for narrating the complexities of identity citizenship and justice in a postcolonial world Among the authors considered are Vikram Chandra Gabriel Garc a M rquez Michael Ondaatje Patrick Chamoiseau Mario Vargas Llosa Suki Kim and Walter Mosley The essays explore detective stories set in Latin America the Caribbean India and North America including novels that view the American metropolis from the point of view of Asian American African American or Latino characters Offering ten new and original essays by scholars in the field this volume highlights the diverse employment of detective fictions internationally and uncovers important political and historical subtexts of popular crime novels Transfiction Klaus Kaindl, Karlheinz Spitzl, 2014-01-28 This volume on Transfiction understood as an aestheticized imagination of translatorial action recognizes the power of fiction as a vital and pulsating academic resource and in doing so helps expand the breadth and depth of TS The book covers a selection of peer reviewed papers from the 1st International Conference on Fictional Translators and Interpreters in Literature and Film held at the University of Vienna Austria in 2011 and links literary and cinematic works of translation fiction to state of the art translation theory and practice It presents not just a mixed bag of cutting edge views and perspectives but great care has been taken to turn it into a well rounded transficcionario with a fluid dialogue among its 22 chapters Its investigation of translatorial action in the mirror of fiction i e beyond the cognitive barrier of fact and its multiple transdisciplinary trajectories make for thought provoking readings in TS comparative literature as well as foreign language and literature courses
