

The background of the cover is a photograph of a geothermal landscape. In the foreground, there's a light-colored, rocky or mineral-rich ground. A bright orange, mineral-rich stream flows from the right towards the center. To the left of this stream is a large, calm pool of water with a greenish-blue hue. White steam or smoke is rising from the pool and the surrounding area, partially obscuring the background. In the far background, there are dark, forested hills under a blue sky with scattered white clouds.
