is most inspiring about Claudia's book making me want to shout from the rooftop is that it is told from the perspective of an everyday woman who pushed hard through barriers, doubts and setbacks that any entrepreneur would face. On top of all that she overcame obstacles that are uniquely ours as women today, Claudia is now a standout among women, but with her book in hand, women who want to build a business to scale have a blueprint and path to do so. Here's to making dreams come true.

Coco Brown, CEO and Founder, The Athena Alliance

As I read through the book, there were multiple points where I thought every man in any startup or fast-growing business should read this. As a man in technology, I took away lots of new ideas along with examples that were explained in a way that I wouldn't have been able to do prior to reading Claudia's book.

Brad Feld, Managing Director at Foundry Group, author of Venture Deals and Do More, Faster

Reuter breaks the stigma about mothers that chose to leave the workforce. She provides practical tools to start a business by showing the path to success for every woman that wants to write her own rules.

Sharon Kan, CEO of Pepperlane Co, Founder of the WIN Lab

Reuter manages to put into words what women have been facing and feeling for decades. She leaves the readers with stories, steps and inspiration to create the career path they are worthy of, no matter if it's starting from scratch or breaking glass ceilings. This book will fuel the next generation of women in leadership and entrepreneurship, giving them guides and confidence as it has fueled me to start the business I have always wanted.

Accelerate Luke Deering, Matt Cartagena, Chris Dowdeswell, 2013-12-14 Ever wondered what entrepreneurs learn from participating in the world's leading startup accelerator programs Accelerate is a great survey of a wide range of entrepreneurs that will give anyone interested in participating in an accelerator a deep understanding of what goes on Brad Feld Managing Director Foundry Group and Co founder of Techstars Key takeaways from Accelerate Do Stuff If you haven't acted at least twice as much as you've talked then there is something wrong User Acquisition it starts here and it ends here almost everything else depends on it Focus Know what's a waste of time and what's important In other words separate the ice cream from the horseshit the ice cream does nothing for the horseshit but the horseshit ruins the taste of the ice cream Accelerators In 1959 there was one accelerator incubator Batavia Industrial Center in New York in 2005 there was one accelerator Y Combinator which graduated a class of eight startups that included Reddit Now in 2013 there are hundreds of accelerators each offering a unique set of values The story this trend tells us is that accelerator programs are growing in popularity just as startups are Teams Accelerators pick teams not individuals not necessarily ideas and not your pitch Your team is the linchpin of it all it ties all the other good stuff together Accelerator Startup Fit You need to figure out what's most important to your company who you need to know what you need to know and which accelerator can get you that Know the type of founders industry experts and influencers you need to know If the network or community that you need to bring your product to market isn't there then it isn't there and maybe you shouldn't be either Fundraising is of course a factor but it shouldn't be of the highest priority The money you'll get out of an accelerator experience is one form of currency but the various other forms such as mentorship exposure and introductions have far greater multiplier effects than the linear nature of money

Bend the Curve Andrew Razeghi, 2015-03-02 It's supposed to look like a hockey stick up and to the right Growth curves of runaway hits are even more dramatic akin to field hockey sticks quick start short dip followed by an immediate near vertical climb in a northeasterly direction It's a beautiful thing The problem with growth curves is that they're like footprints in the sand You can only see them in hindsight To make matters more difficult innovation is a non-linear business Success does not come in the form of a straight line As Woody Allen suggests If you want to make God laugh tell him about your plans In the world of innovation there is no single path forward The only road that all entrepreneurs share is the road less travelled by But you can still learn from those who went before you what to do and what not to do in order to increase your odds of success Bend the Curve is a book about how to get more out of your big idea from people who know successful entrepreneurs the venture capitalists who've funded them and the experienced mentors of the world's leading new venture accelerator Techstars
