City Montessori School Lucknow India:

Enough Blood Shed Mary-Wynne Ashford, 2006-05-01 Enough Blood Shed confronts the reality of a world awash in weapons and the belief that war is inevitable with people powerless to change the system. It provides an alternative perspective based on solutions known to be successful because they have been used already. The first part of the book describes the culture of violence that has led the world to this precipice of hopelessness and then points to signs of hope that a different future is possible. It outlines the steps being made to build a culture of peace including the phenomenal power of civil society, the second superpower or the conscience of society. Part Two then focuses on the solutions that are possible for all sectors of society: For individuals including women, children and youth; For schools, educators, activist groups and religious organizations; For the media, professionals, business and labor; For cities, nations and the global community. Focusing on the power of ordinary people to make a difference and packed with effective nonviolent success stories often in a setting of hate and provocation, the book provides guidance, inspiration, hope and empowerment that peace is not only possible but can be fun along the way.

Students' Quality Circles Dinesh P. Chapagain, 2022-07-13 This book explains what Students Quality Circles (SQCs) are, how they function, key constraints and issues in implementation and possible solutions to make it a valuable co-curricular activity. It showcases how Quality Control Circle (QCC) is reengineered with the sole purpose of prosocial personality development of students at their early age. It is a research outcome which depicts the direction of the education system toward character building rather than only developing knowledge and skills. The logical sequence of presentation of the book is why, what and toward the end, how SQCs in education. The book satisfies four hierarchical levels of readers. The first level is of educationists and national policy makers who may take up SQCs as an important approach of the education system in their country for prosocial personality development of students and thereby targeting to produce quality citizens in the future. At the second level are chief executives or managers of educational institutes who may identify the potential of SQCs approach for developing the positive personality of their students. Teachers and SQCs facilitators are at the third level and they can use the book to train and educate their students while initiating and promoting SQCs activities at their institutes. And finally at the fourth level obviously are students who may refer to this book from time to time and practice SQCs on their own for self-development and empowerment.
