health clinical training and practice Creativity Fostering Teacher Behavior: Measurement And Research Kay Cheng Soh, 2018-02-12 This book deals with teachers behaviors that promote the creativity of students It includes a rating scale for measuring a teacher s creativity fostering behavior a scale known as the CFTIndex and a series of conceptualization and research papers including a lead article by Professor Authur Cropley whose original ideas served as the basis of the CFTIndex The other papers in this volume are by international authors who have used the scale in their research and who can now share their experiences using it in this volume There is a dearth of measuring instruments that cover teacher behaviors where creativity is concerned but the CFTIndex fills this vacuum as evidenced by the many articles using this index in the international arena of creativity research EBOOK: Psychological Testing and Assessment Ronald Jay Cohen, Mark Swerdlik, Edward Sturman, 2012-09-16 Psychological Testing and Assessment presents students with a solid grounding in psychometrics and the world of testing and assessment The book distinguishes itself through its logical organisation readable text and many pedagogical aids such as the Meet an Assessment Professional feature in every chapter which highlights the works of people such as Dr Stephen Finn architect of therapeutic assessment Now in its eighth edition this text has consistently won enthusiastic reviews not only for its balance of breadth and depth of coverage but for content that brings a human face to the assessment enterprise The Quantified Process Approach to Neuropsychological Assessment Amir M. Poreh, 2012-12-06 Since the late 1800s psychologists have been interested in discerning the strategies subjects employ to solve psychological tests Piaget 1928 Werner 1940 Gesell 1941 Much of this work however has relied on qualitative observations In the 1970s Edith Kaplan adopted this approach to the analysis of standardized neuropsychological measures Unlike her predecessors Dr Kaplan and her colleagues emphasized the application of modern behavioral neurology to the analysis of the test data Her approach was later termed the Boston Process Approach to neuropsychological assessment While Edith Kaplan s work generates a great deal of enthusiasm the qualitative nature of her analyses did not allow for its adoption by mainstream neuropsychologists However in recent years this limitation has begun to be addressed Clinicians and researchers have developed new methodologies for quantifying the Boston Process Approach leading to the emergence of a new field which is collectively termed the Quantified Process Approach Quantified Process Approach to Neuropsychological Assessment outlines the rationale for the emergence of this new approach and reviews the state of the art research literature and up to date clinical applications as they pertain to the evaluation of neuropsychiatric head injured and learning disabled patients When available norms and scoring forms are included in the appendices Malingering, Feigning, and Response Bias in Psychiatric/ Psychological Injury Gerald Young, 2014-02-11 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the definitions concepts and recent research on malingering feigning and other response biases in psychological injury forensic disability populations It presents a new model of malingering and related biases and develops a diagnostic system based on it that is applicable to PTSD chronic pain and TBI Included are suggestions for effective practice and future research based on the literature reviews and the new systems which are useful also because they can be used readily by psychiatrists as much as psychologists In Malingering Feigning and Response Style Assessment in Psychiatric Psychological Injury Dr Young ambitiously sets out to articulate and synthesize the polarities involved in the assessment of response styles in psychological disabilities including PTSD pain and TBI He does so thoroughly and very even handedly neither minimizing the degree that outright faking can be found in substantial numbers of examinees nor disregarding the possibility that there can be causes for validity test failure other than malingering He reviews the prior systems for classifying evidence of malingering and proposes his own criteria for feigned PTSD These are conservative and well grounded in the prior literature Finally the book contains dozens of very recent references giving testament to Dr Young s immersion in the personal injury literature as might be expected from his experience as founder and Editor in Chief for Psychological Injury and the Law Reviewer Steve Rubenzer Ph D ABPP Board Certified Forensic Psychologist

Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform Coert Loock, Vanessa Scherman, 2019-11-20 Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform provides background information on large scale examination systems more generally and the South African examination specifically It traces the reforms in the education system of South Africa since 1994 and provides a description of the advances in modern test theory that could be considered for future standard setting endeavours At the heart of the book is the debate on whether the current standard of education in Africa is good enough If not then how can it be improved The aim of this book is to provide a point of departure for discussions on standard setting quality assurance equating of examinations and assessment approaches From this point of departure recommendations for practices in general and the exit level Grade 12 examination results in particular can be made This book is ideal reading for principals teachers academics and researchers in the fields of educational assessment measurement and evaluation
