Living With Herds Human Animal Co Existence In Mongolia:

Living with Herds Natasha Fijn, 2011-04-11 Domestic animals have lived with humans for thousands of years and remain essential to the everyday lives of people throughout the world. In this book, Natasha Fijn examines the process of animal domestication in a study that blends biological and social anthropology, ethology, and ethnography. She examines the social behavior of humans and animals in a contemporary Mongolian herding society. After living with Mongolian herding families, Dr. Fijn has observed through firsthand experience both sides of the human-animal relationship. Examining their reciprocal social behavior and communication with one another, she demonstrates how herd animals influence Mongolian herders' lives and how the animals themselves are active partners in the domestication process. Living with Herds Cass Postdoctoral Fellow, School of Archaeology and Anthropology, Natasha Fijn, 2014-05-14 Examines the process of animal domestication in an ethnographic account of herders and their animals in the mountains of Mongolia. Now Kohanov takes those horse-inspired insights on the nonverbal elements of exceptional communication and leadership into the realms of our workplaces and relationships. Here we explore the benefits of nonpredatory power in developing assertiveness, fostering creativity, dealing with conflict, and heightening mind-body awareness. In A Brief History of Power, the first part of this far-reaching book, Kohanov profiles cultural innovators who employed extraordinary nonverbal leadership skills to change history, usually on horseback: Winston Churchill, George Washington, Alexander the Great, and Siddhartha Gautama, the Buddha, among others. She also draws on the behavior of mature horse herds as well as the herding cultures of Africa and Mongolia to debunk theories of dominance hierarchies, challenge ingrained notions of survival of the fittest, and demonstrate the power of a consensual leadership in which governing roles are fluid. Kohanov then adapts these lessons into twelve powerful guiding principles we can all incorporate into our work and personal lives. Eloquent and provocative, this is horse sense for everyone who seeks to thrive in the herds we all run in: our communities, careers, families, and friendships. Human-Animal Interactions in Anthropocene Asia Victor Teo, 2023-03-03 This book examines the theme of human-animal interactions contextualized against the idea of the Anthropocene. Focused on China and its immediate Asian borderlands, this interdisciplinary collection provides a powerful and insightful analysis of the ecological challenges that mankind's traditional activities have created. Through in-depth case studies, each focusing on a particular human-animal dynamic, the book contextualizes and advances the understanding of existing environmental and ecological problems faced by local communities in Asia. In particular, the book hopes to transcend the duality of the nature versus culture debate by locating animal ecological problems in the behavior of human institutions.

beliefs and practices which are often affected by prevailing cultural proclivities political ideologies economic interests and scientific agendas Through interrogation of theoretical concepts of Anthropocene and human animal binary the volume highlights the controversial debates that follow their usage as well as their empirical utility understanding human animal interactions historically thereby engaging a broader interdisciplinary conversation increasingly links these two fields together Providing a platform for discussion and dialogue for a wide audience this book will appeal to students and scholars of environmental history and politics anthropology political science and policy studies China studies and Asian studies more generally

Reimagining Human-Animal Relations in the Circumpolar North Peter Whitridge, Erica Hill, 2023-12-21 This volume provides fresh insight into northern human animal relations and illustrates the breadth and practical utility of archaeological human animal studies It surveys recent archaeological research in northern North America and Eurasia that frames human animal relations as not merely economically exploitative but often socially complex and deeply meaningful and attuned to the intelligence and agency of nonhuman prey and domesticates The case studies sample a wide swath of the circumpolar region from Alaska Nunavut and Greenland to northern Fennoscandia and western Siberia and span sites finds and scenarios ranging in age from the Mesolithic to the twenty first century Many taxa on which northern lives hinged figure in these analyses including large marine mammals polar bear reindeer marine fish and birds and are variously approached from relational multispecies semiotic osteobiographical and political economic perspectives Animals themselves are represented by osteological remains harvesting gear and depictions of animal bodies that include zoomorphic figurines petroglyphs ornamentation and intricate portrayals of human animal harvesting encounters Far from settling the problem of how archaeologists should approach northern human animal relations these chapters reveal the irreducible complexity of northern worlds and highlight the diversity of human and nonhuman animal lives This book will be of particular interest to northern archaeologists and zooarchaeologists and all those interested in the possibilities of a multispecies approach to the archaeological record

Human-Animal Relations in Tourism, Leisure and Development Carlos Monterrubio, Xavier López-Medellín, Katherine Dashper, Helen Wadham, 2025-04-17 Humans and animals have developed multiple and complex interactions in the fields of tourism leisure and development However much of the existing research on how humans and animals interact in these fields has emerged from within the context of developed countries As a result little has been documented about human animal interactions in the socioeconomic cultural and environmental contexts of countries in the Global South Specifically the diversity and complexity of interspecies relationships in tourism leisure and local development in Latin America have been largely ignored in Anglo Saxon literature This has resulted in a limited partial and hegemonic understanding and debate about human animal relationships globally dominated by certain regions of the world This book addresses this gap by documenting multiple and complex relationships between humans and animals in the fields of tourism leisure and local development in countries in Latin America

Animals as Experiencing Entities Michael J. Glover, Les Mitchell, 2024-03-04 This volume explores the experiences of those with little or no power usually although not exclusively animals The theme of animals as experiencing entities is what links the chapters and characterises the volume Broadly each author in this volume contributes in one of two ways The first group in Section 1 theoretically engages animal subjectivity animal experiences and ways in which these are to some extent accessible and knowable to humans The second group of authors in Section 2 offer narrative accounts about specific animals or groups of animals and explore to some extent their subjective historical experiences In summary the first section diversely theorises about animal experiences while the second section s authors assume animals subjective experiences and construct narratives that take into account how animals might have subjectively experienced historical phenomena

The Archaeology of Human-Environment Interactions Daniel Contreras,2016-08-25 The impacts of climate change on human societies and the roles those societies themselves play in altering their environments appear in headlines more and more as concern over modern global climate change intensifies Increasingly archaeologists and paleoenvironmental scientists are looking to evidence from the human past to shed light on the processes which link environmental and cultural change Establishing clear contemporaneity and correlation and then moving beyond correlation to causation remains as much a theoretical task as a methodological one This book addresses this challenge by exploring new approaches to human environment dynamics and confronting the key task of constructing arguments that can link the two in concrete and detailed ways The contributors include researchers working in a wide variety of regions and time periods including Mesoamerica Mongolia East Africa the Amazon Basin and the Island Pacific among others Using methodological vignettes from their own research the contributors explore diverse approaches to human environment dynamics illustrating the manifold nature of the subject and suggesting a wide variety of strategies for approaching it This book will be of interest to researchers and scholars in Archaeology Paleoenvironmental Science Ecology and Geology

Hoofprints on the Land

Ilse Köhler-Rollefson, 2023-01-05 Perfect for fans of English Pastoral and Wilding Hoofprints on the Land shows that herding cultures are not a thing of the past but a regenerative model for our future Hoofprints on the Land is a fascinating and lyrical book exploring the deep and ancient working partnerships between people and animals UN advocate and camel conservationist Ilse Köhler-Rollefson writes a passionate rallying cry for those invisible and forgotten herding cultures that exist all over the world and how by embracing these traditional nomadic practises we can help restore and regenerate the Earth Ilse has spent the last 30 years living with and studying the Raika camel herders in Rajasthan India and she shows how pastoralists can address many of the problems humanity faces Whether it be sheep cattle reindeer camels alpacas goats or yaks this ancient and natural means of keeping livestock challenges the myth that animal free agriculture is the only way forward for a healthy planet From the need to produce food more sustainably and equitably to the consequences of climate change land degradation and loss of biodiversity we can learn from pastoralists to help repair the human relationship with livestock to return to a model of intelligent cooperation rather than dominance As Ilse writes Herding is therapy not just for the planet but also for our souls

Contradiction

Linda Jaivin, Esther Sunkyung Klein, Sharon Strange, 2022-05-10 In the second year of the COVID 19 pandemic the many facets of crisis the theme of last year's China Story Yearbook fractured into pictures of contradiction throughout Chinese society and the Chinese sphere of influence Contradiction the ancient Chinese word for the concept holds within it the image of an unstoppable spear meeting an impenetrable shield It describes a wide range of phenomena that English might express with words like conflict clash paradox incongruity disagreement rebuttal opposition and negation This year's Yearbook presents stories of action and reaction of motion and resistance The theme of contradiction plays out in different ways across the different realms of society culture environment labour politics and international relations Great powers do not necessarily succeed in dominating smaller ones The seemingly irresistible forces of authoritarianism patriarchy and technological control come up against energised and surprisingly resilient means of resistance or cooptation Efforts by various authorities to establish monolithic narrative control over the past and present meet a powerful insistence on telling the story from an opposite angle The China Story Yearbook Contradiction offers an accessible take on this complex and contradictory moment in the history of China and of the world
