Macroeconomics PDF eBook Olivier Blanchard, Alessia Amighini, Francesco Giavazzi, 2017-06-16 This is a truly outstanding textbook that beautifully marries theory empirics and policy It is surely destined to become the gold standard

against which all other texts must be measured Charles Bean Deputy Governor Bank of England This book gives students a thorough understanding of macroeconomics by taking a unified view of the subject allowing connections to be made between the short medium and long run Re written almost from scratch in light of the experience of the Great Recession this text is essential reading for anyone studying macroeconomics in the aftermath of the financial crisis The book has been re written almost from scratch after a thorough re think of how macroeconomics should be taught after the financial crisis Among the new features The text recognizes that modern central banks set interest rates not the quantity of money this gets rid of the LM curve greatly simplifying the discussion of financial markets It presents the Medium Run starting directly from the Phillips curve thus avoiding the intermediate AS AD step which was clunky and for good reasons undergraduates find it difficult to understand Output above potential or unemployment below the natural rate put upward pressure on inflation The nature of the pressure depends on the formation of expectations an issue central to current developments The yield curve now incorporates a risk premium whose fluctuations have been central to the crisis especially since Quantitative Easing policies have shown that monetary policy can affect this premium Olivier Blanchard studied at the University of Paris Nanterre and has taught at MIT since 1983 He was chief economist at the International Monetary Fund from 2008 to 2015 He is now a Senior Fellow at the Peterson Institute for International Economics Francesco Giavazzi is Professor of Economics at Bocconi University in Milan and has been a regular Visiting Professor at MIT Alessia Amighini is Assistant Professor of Economics at Universita del Piemonte Orientale Novara
