yikes I gotta go back and reread because I m not getting this part These are the flickering thoughts of a strategic reader If only we could bottle all these mental moves and pour them into the minds of our students then readers achievement would grow exponentially In Think Big With Think Alouds Molly Ness delivers a process that comes close to bottling that magic Molly spent a year researching teachers think alouds and she uses these findings to help you know just what to do The big time saver You focus on just these five strategies asking questions making inferences synthesizing understanding the author s purpose and monitoring and clarifying Select the one or two strategies that align to your text and get ready with a stack of sticky notes Grab a pencil and you are on your way to dynamic lessons using Molly s three step planning process Read Once Go wild putting a flurry of sticky notes on spots that strike you Read Twice Whittle your notes down to the juiciest stopping points Read Three Times Jot down what you will say so there s no need to wing it in front of the kids Other practical tools include More than 20 ready made think aloud scripts for favorite texts by Sandra Cisneros Seymour Simon Shel Silverstein and many others to use for think alouds for fiction informational text and poetry Fun small group and partner activities to gradually transfer comprehension strategies to your students Downloads on the companion website including spinner and dice templates planning forms and think aloud scripts Molly Ness is an associate professor at Fordham University s Graduate School of Education She graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Johns Hopkins University and earned her PhD in reading education from the University of Virginia A former Teach For America corps member she is an experienced classroom teacher and reading clinician Her numerous books and articles focus on reading comprehension the instructional decisions of teachers and the assessment and diagnosis of struggling readers

Discourse and language learning across L2 instructional settings, 2012-01-01 Studies on discourse and language learning originated in the field of general education and they focused on first language learning environments However since 1980s research on discourse and language learning broadened the scope of investigation to respond to second and foreign language environments Recently the emergence of new language learning contexts such as computer mediated communication multilingual settings or content and language integrated contexts requires further research that focuses on discourse and language learning From this perspective the present volume aims to broaden the scope of investigation in foreign language contexts by exploring discourse patterns in the classroom and examining the impact of factors such as gender explicitness of feedback or L1 use on language learning through discourse With that aim in mind this volume will bring together research that investigates discourse in various instructional settings namely those of primary secondary and university L2 learning environments content and language integrated contexts and other new language learning settings The number and variety of languages involved both as the first language e g English Finnish Basque Spanish Japanese French Italian Catalan as well as the target foreign language e g English French Italian Japanese Spanish makes the volume specially attractive Additionally the different approaches adopted by the researchers participating in this volume such as information processing sociocultural theory or conversation analysis widen the realm of investigation on discourse and language learning Finally the strength of the volume also lies in the range of educational settings primary secondary and tertiary education and the worldwide representation of contributors across seven different countries namely those of Spain France Austria Finland Germany Canada Australia and the United States The uniqueness of the volume is due to its eclectic and comprehensive nature in tackling instructional discourse Worldwide outstanding researchers like Julianne House Carme Muñoz Ute Smit Tarja Nikula or Roy Lyster to quote but a few adopt different perspectives in this joint contribution that will certainly broaden the scope of research on language learners discourse
