A Dictionary of Cinema Quotations from Filmmakers and Critics Stephen M. Ringler, 2008-05-03

The cinema isn't a slice of life; it's a slice of cake. Alfred Hitchcock: If you make a popular movie, you start to think where have I failed. Woody Allen: A film is the world in an hour and a half. Jean-Luc Godard: I think you have to be slightly psychopathic to make movies. David Cronenberg: This compendium contains more than 3,400 quotations from filmmakers and critics discussing their craft. About 1,850 film people are included: Bunuel, Capra, Chaplin, Disney, Fellini, Fitzgerald, Griffith, Kael, Kurasawa, Pathe, Sarris, Schwarzenegger, Spielberg, Waters, and Welles among them. The quotations are arranged under 31 topics such as acting, animation, audience, budget, casting, critics, costume design, directing, locations, reviews, screenwriting, special effects, and stardom. Indexing by filmmakers or critics, by film titles, and by narrow subjects provides a rich array of points of access.

Rewatching on the Point of the Cinematic Index Allen H. Redmon, 2022-08-24

Rewatching on the Point of the Cinematic Index offers a reassessment of the cinematic index as it sits at the intersection of film studies, trauma studies, and adaptation studies. Author Allen H. Redmon argues that far too often scholars imagine the cinematic index to be nothing more than an acknowledgment that the lens-based camera captures and brings to the screen a reality that existed before the camera. When cinema's indexicality is so narrowly defined, the entire nature of film is called into question: the moment film no longer relies on a lens-based camera. The presence of digital technologies seemingly strips cinema of its indexical standing. This volume pushes for a broader understanding of the cinematic index by returning to the early discussions of the index in film studies and the more recent discussions of the index in other digital arts. Bolstered by the insights these discussions can offer, the volume looks to replace what might be best deemed a diminished concept of the cinematic index with a series of more complex cinematic indices: the impoverished index, the indefinite index, the intertextual index, and the imaginative index. The central argument of this book is that these more complex indices encourage spectators to enter a process of ongoing adaptation of the reality they see on the screen and that it is on the point of these indices that the most significant instances of rewatching movies occur. Examining such films as John Lee Hancock's Saving Mr. Banks (2013), Richard Linklater's oeuvre, Paul Greengrass's United 93 (2006), Oliver Stone's World Trade Center (2006), Stephen Daldry's Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close (2011), and Christopher Nolan's Dunkirk (2017), Inception (2010), and Memento (2000), Redmon demonstrates that the cinematic index invites spectators to enter a process of ongoing adaptation.

Filming the First Helen J. Knowles-Gardner, Bruce E. Altschuler, Brandon T. Metroka, 2024-10-15

The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution prohibits Congress from abridging freedom of the press. But as the printed press has been transformed into mass media, with Americans now more likely to get their political information from television or social media than from print, confidence in this important mediating institution has fallen dramatically. Movies in their role as cultural artifacts have long reflected and influenced those public attitudes inventing such iconic phrases as "I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take this anymore from Network Television." The First Cinematic Portrayals of Freedom of the Press analyzes eighteen films that span from Citizen Kane to Spotlight, showing changes in how the press has been portrayed over time, which voices receive the most attention, and why. The relationship between the press's Fourth Estate role and the imperatives of capitalism, and how despite the First Amendment's seemingly absolute language the government has sometimes been able to limit what the public can read or view.

A Leader's Legacy James M. Kouzes, Barry Z. Posner, 2008-12-22 Uncover the latest developments in leadership development and coaching with insights from two of the most respected voices on the subject. In this provocative book, leadership experts and authors of the best-selling The Leadership Challenge, Jim Kouzes and Barry Posner take on a unique challenge and explore questions of leadership and legacy. In 22 stand-alone chapters, Kouzes and Posner examine the critical questions all leaders must ask themselves before they can leave a lasting impact. These powerful essays are grouped into four categories: Significance, Relationships, Aspirations, and Courage. In each essay, the authors consider a thorny and often ambiguous issue with which today's leaders must grapple, such as how leaders serve and sacrifice, why leaders need loving critics, why leaders should want to be liked, why leaders can't take trust for granted, why it's not just the leader's vision that matters, why failure is always an option, why it takes courage to make a life for everyone, and ultimately how the legacy you leave is the life you lead. In the book, you'll find a free-flowing discussion of leadership topics and lessons, incisive explorations of ambiguous issues and paradoxes that have bedeviled leaders for generations, concise and to the point essays representing new approaches to familiar themes, new stories and new experiences. A Leader's Legacy is an indispensable resource for managers, executives, and other business leaders looking for insightful new ways to push their leadership development further than they ever thought possible.
