Managerial Economics and Organizational Architecture James A. Brickley, Clifford W. Smith, Jerold L. Zimmerman, 1997
With two distinct objectives this text's approach to managerial economics takes models from recent economics research and applies the research to the internal structure of a firm After teaching basic applied economics the authors look inside the firm and apply this analysis to management decision making Authors Brickley Smith and Zimmerman contend that organizational architecture consists of three aspects of corporate organization the assignment of decision rights within the company methods of rewarding individuals the structure of systems to evaluate the performance of both individuals and business units These three components can be likened to a stool with three legs If one of the legs is shorter the stool is out of balance These three elements must be in balance in the organization as well The Routledge Companion to Innovation Management Jin Chen, Alexander Brem, Eric Viardot, Poh Kam Wong, 2019-02-14 Innovation contributes to corporate competitiveness economic performance and environmental sustainability In the Internet era innovation intelligence is transferred across borders and languages at an unprecedented rate yet the ability to benefit from it seems to become more divergent among different corporations and countries How much an organization can benefit from innovation largely depends on how well innovation is managed in it Thus there is a discernible increase in interest in the study of innovation management This handbook provides a comprehensive guide to this subject The handbook introduces the basic framework of innovation and innovation management It also presents innovation management from the perspectives of strategy organization and resource as well as institution and culture The book's comprehensive coverage on all areas of innovation management makes this a very useful reference for anyone interested in the subject Chapter 5 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/9781315276670> Rural Socio-Economic Transformation: Agrarian, Ecology, Communication and Community, Development Perspectives Rilus A. Kinseng, Arya Hadi Dharmawan, Juara Lubis, Annisa Utami Seminar, 2019-07-24 Most of Indonesian population live in rural areas and the majority of poor people also live in rural areas namely 13.47% in rural and 7.26% in urban In the past decades rural communities as well as the ecology have changed fundamentally Many factors contribute to this transformation development programs from the government as well as from private and NGOs the diffusion of information technology the development of transportation facilities the rise of education and health levels interaction with outsiders and so on A main driving factor for rural development has been agrarian liberalization This can be seen in the development of transnational plantations which trigger land grab and rise of land demand Development through liberalization also had a negative impact since the development of modern and industrialized agriculture affected the environment and the expansion of plantations caused changes in the agricultural systems of villages and the life orientation of local communities Interventions in villages by private companies intermediary institutions no doubt have brought a structural transformations in rural live local institutions livelihood systems population structures ecosystems and relation to the land Unfortunately the social economic cultural and ecological transformation of the rural community not always produces improvement of quality of life for the rural community At the same time information and data related to rural transformations are scarcely available at research institutions universities NGOs private enterprises Rural Socio Economic Transformation Agrarian Ecology Communication and Community Development Perspectives discusses many aspects of the social economic cultural and ecological transformation of rural life in Indonesia and is of interest to academics and policy makers interested or involved in these areas

Shutdown Adam Tooze, 2021-09-07 This book s great service is that it challenges us to consider the ways in which our institutions and systems and the assumptions positions and divisions that undergird them leave us ill prepared for the next crisis Robert Rubin The New York Times Book Review Full of valuable insight and telling details this may well be the best thing to read if you want to know what happened in 2020 Paul Krugman New York Review of Books Deftly weaving finance politics business and the global human experience into one tight narrative a tour de force account of 2020 the year that changed everything from the acclaimed author of Crashed The shocks of 2020 have been great and small disrupting the world economy international relations and the daily lives of virtually everyone on the planet Never before has the entire world economy contracted by 20 percent in a matter of weeks nor in the historic record of modern capitalism has there been a moment in which 95 percent of the world s economies were suffering all at the same time Across the world hundreds of millions have lost their jobs And over it all looms the specter of pandemic and death Adam Tooze whose last book was universally lauded for guiding us coherently through the chaos of the 2008 crash now brings his bravura analytical and narrative skills to a panoramic and synthetic overview of our current crisis By focusing on finance and business he sets the pandemic story in a frame that casts a sobering new light on how unprepared the world was to fight the crisis and how deep the ruptures in our way of living and doing business are The virus has attacked the economy with as much ferocity as it has our health and there is no vaccine arriving to address that Tooze s special gift is to show how social organization political interests and economic policy interact with devastating human consequences from your local hospital to the World Bank He moves fluidly from the impact of currency fluctuations to the decimation of institutions such as health care systems schools and social services in the name of efficiency He starkly analyzes what happened when the pandemic collided with domestic politics China s party conferences the American elections what the unintended consequences of the vaccine race might be and the role climate change played in the pandemic Finally he proves how no unilateral declaration of independence or isolation can extricate any modern country from the global web of travel goods services and finance
