Isra Iliyyat Islam:

Muslim-Jewish Encounters Ronald L. Nettler, 2014-01-02 First Published in 1998 This book brings together contributions which examine various Islamic and selected Jewish writings of this kind analysing their ideas methods sources and meanings relating them to the new historical and political situations as well as to ancient and medieval writings for comparative purposes The texts discussed either elaborate attitudes towards the other within the two traditions or address themes that are part of their common heritage

The Islamic Moses Mustafa Akyol, 2024-09-10 A theological and historical exploration of the connection between Islam and Judaism through the single most mentioned character in the Quran Moses There is one human mentioned in the Quran more than any other Moses Why is it that the Jewish prophet dominates the Islamic scripture Because he is the role model for Muhammad Islam's own prophet Because Islam just like Christianity is deeply intertwined with Judaism although surprisingly little attention has been given to this fascinating connection between the two religions Author and journalist Mustafa Akyol takes readers on a theological and historical walk through that much neglected side of the Abrahamic triangle the Judeo Islamic tradition Using Moses presence in the Quran as a jumping off point Akyol explores the first historical encounter between Muslims and Jews the creative symbiosis and mutual enrichment that occurred between the two belief systems in medieval times and the modern emergence development and perception of the two religions At a time of bitter conflict in the Middle East The Islamic Moses dives into the older deeper and often unexpectedly brighter story of Jews and Muslims Readers of any background will be surprised by the common historical and theological ground that exists between the two religions and will come away with a better understanding of both

Narratives about Jews among Muslims in Norway Vibeke Moe Bjørnbekk, 2024-06-17 What is the nature of Muslim Jewish relations in Europe today Based on qualitative interview data this book explores narratives about Jews among Muslims in Norway Drawing on culturally embedded narratives as well as personal experiences interviewees reflect on the relationship between Jews and Muslims The interreligious exchange between Islam and Judaism is as old as Islam Today the Arab Israeli conflict has become an important frame of reference in the public discourse on Muslim Jewish relations The narratives presented in this book delineate shifting community boundaries and identifications that transcend dichotomised notions of Muslims versus Jews The analysis shows how Jewish history in Europe and the history of modern antisemitism serve as interpretative keys in the narratives used for explaining the situation of the Muslim minority today Furthermore the book demonstrates how interviewees perceptions of society's attitudes toward Muslim and Jewish experiences also strongly influence their perceptions of Muslim Jewish relations

Riddell, 2001-09-30 This highly informative and insightful study opens numerous windows into the history of Islamic religious thought in the Malay Indonesian world from the thirteenth to the late twentieth century The author begins by addressing theological issues relevant to the wider Islamic world then examines Malay Indonesian Islamic thought in the pre twentieth century period and

Islamic religious thought in Southeast Asia in the modern era Women in the Qur'an, Traditions, and Interpretation Barbara Freyer Stowasser, 1996-08-22 Islamic ideas about women and their role in society spark considerable debate both in the Western world and in the Islamic world itself Despite the popular attention surrounding Middle Eastern attitudes toward women there has been little systematic study of the statements regarding women in the Qur'an Stowasser fills the void with this study on the women of Islamic sacred history By telling their stories in Qur'an and interpretation she introduces Islamic doctrine and its past and present socio economic and political applications Stowasser establishes the link between the female figure as cultural symbol and Islamic self perceptions from the beginning to the present time The Jews of Islam Bernard Lewis, 2014-09-28 This landmark book probes Muslims attitudes toward Jews and Judaism as a special case of their view of other religious minorities in predominantly Muslim societies With authority sympathy and wit Bernard Lewis demolishes two competing stereotypes the Islamophobic picture of the fanatical Muslim warrior sword in one hand and Qur'an in the other and the overly romanticized depiction of Muslim societies as interfaith utopias Featuring a new introduction by Mark R Cohen this Princeton Classics edition sets the Judaeo Islamic tradition against a vivid background of Jewish and Islamic history For those wishing a concise overview of the long period of Jewish Muslim relations The Jews of Islam remains an essential starting point By the Soft Lyres: The Search for the Prophet Elijah Gerda Neu-Sokol, Mishael M. Caspi, 2020-08-10 No detailed description available for By the Soft Lyres: The Search for the Prophet Elijah Things that Make for Peace Anthony Rees, 2020-09-30 In a world that increasingly sees religion as a source of violence this book explores resources from within religious traditions that might help build peace Drawing from the rich textual histories of Christianity and Islam the contributors mine their faith traditions for ways of thinking and ways of being that help shift perceptions about religion and actively contribute to the growth of peace in our troubled times Not content with retreat into religious exclusivism these essays are an act of sharing something held dear In sharing the thing offered no longer remains the possession of the one who offers and so these essays are an act of vulnerability and trust building In sharing precious things together in giving and receiving peace becomes not only a matter of dialogue but also shared commitments to ways of being Between Muslim and Jew Steven M. Wasserstrom, 2014-07-14 Steven Wasserstrom undertakes a detailed analysis of the creative symbiosis that existed between Jewish and Muslim religious thought in the eighth through tenth centuries Wasserstrom brings the disciplinary approaches of religious studies to bear on questions that have been examined previously by historians and by specialists in Judaism and Islam His thematic approach provides an example of how difficult questions of influence might be opened up for broader examination In Part I Trajectories the author explores early Jewish Muslim interactions studying such areas as messianism professions authority and class structure and showing how they were reshaped during the first centuries of Islam Part II Constructions looks at influences of Judaism on the development of the emerging Shi'ite community This is tied to the wider issue of how early Muslims conceptualized the Jew In Part III Intimacies

the author tackles the complex esoteric symbiosis between Muslim and Jewish theologies An investigation of the milieu in which Jews and Muslims interacted sheds new light on their shared religious imaginings Throughout Wasserstrom expands on the work of social and political historians to include symbolic and conceptual aspects of interreligious symbiosis This book will interest scholars of Judaism and Islam as well as those who are attracted by the larger issues exposed by its methodology Originally published in 1995 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Jews and the Qur'an Meir M. Bar-Asher, 2022-01-11 In this book Meir Bar Asher shines light on the deeply ambivalent views toward Jews and Judaism in the Qur'an and in post Qur'anic Islamic writing On the one hand these texts clearly recognize the Jews as a people chosen by God a people of the Book deserving of respect and communal protection for their contribution On the other hand an undeniably darker view is also on offer and is found for example in passages that accuse Jews of falsifying their own Torah to suppress all pronouncements of the advent of Muhammad the final Prophet whose message is the culmination of the good news brought by all the prophets from Moses to Jesus Bar Asher's view is that one must concede the existence of such polemical anti Jewish passages while keeping in mind that they do not constitute the final word of the Qur'an or Islam on the Jews Bar Asher argues that passages concerning Jews and Judaism in the Qur'an need to be examined alongside the post Qur'anic Islamic literature rather than read in isolation His book thus concerns not only Islam's holy scripture but also Hadith the authoritative oral tradition of sayings attributed to the Prophet Muhammad along with other Islamic commentaries on Jews and Judaism The book begins with a historical overview of the Jewish presence in the Arab peninsula before the time of Muhammad and covers what scholars have uncovered to date about the relationship between Muhammad his followers and the Jews of Medina in particular Then the book turns to the Qur'an and the aforementioned post Qur'anic traditional materials

Goodman,2003-03-27 This book is an attempt to explain how in the face of increasing religious authoritarianism in medieval Islamic civilization some Muslim thinkers continued to pursue essentially humanistic rational and scientific discourses in the quest for knowledge meaning and values Drawing on a wide range of Islamic writings from love poetry to history to philosophical theology Goodman shows that medieval Islam was open to individualism occasional secularism skepticism even liberalism

David in the Muslim Tradition Khaleel Mohammed,2014-12-24 In Chapter 38 21 25 the Qur'an relates a very short narrative about the biblical King David's seeking and receiving God's forgiveness The earliest Muslim exegetes interpreted the quranic verses as referring to the Hebrew Bible's story of David's adultery with Bathsheba as related in 2 Samuel 12 1-13 Later Muslims however having developed the concept of prophetic impeccability radically reinterpreted those verses to show David as innocent of any wrongdoing since in the Muslim tradition he is not only a king but a prophet as well David in the Muslim Tradition The Bathsheba Affair outlines the approach of the Qur'an to shared scriptures and provides a detailed look at the development of the exegetical tradition and the factors that influenced such exegesis By establishing four distinct periods of exegesis Khaleel Mohammed examines the most famous explanations in each stratum to show the metamorphosis from blame to exculpation He shows that the Muslim development is not unique but is very much in following the Jewish and Christian traditions wherein a similar sanitization of David's image has occurred
