Die Stadt in der Stadt Oswald Mathias Ungers, Rem Koolhaas, Peter Riemann, Florian Hertweck, Sébastien Marot, 2013 In the manifesto The City in the City Berlin A Green Archipelago Oswald Mathias Ungers and a number of his colleagues from Cornell University presented the first concepts and intellectual models for the shrinking city In contrast to the reconstruction of the European city that was popular at the time they developed the figure of a polycentric urban landscape However the manifesto really began to exert an effect beginning in the 1990s onwards when the focus of the urban planning discourse turned to the examination of crises recessions and the phenomenon of demographic shrinking This critical edition contains a previously unpublished version of the manifesto by Rem Koolhaas as well as interviews with co authors Rem Koolhaas Peter Riemann Hans Kollhoff and Arthur Ovasca Introductory texts explain the development of the manifesto between Cornell and Berlin position the work in the planning history of Berlin and reveal its influence on current approaches FLORIAN and general readers wanting to improve the cities in which they work and live Unorthodox Ways to Think the City Teresa Stoppani, 2018-12-07 This book argues that architecture and the city and their processes can be better understood by drawing categories from disciplines that exceed the architectural and urban cultural context It performs an open intellectual reading that traverses architecture and architectural theory but also art theory and history cartography philosophy literature and cultural studies to unfold a series of figures that are ambiguously placed between the representation and the construction of space in architecture and the city The paradigm and philosophy the island and the city the map and representation the model and making and the questioning of form performed by dust are explored beyond their definition as processes that differently make space between architecture and the city and are proposed as unorthodox analytic techniques to decipher contemporary spatial complexity The book analyses how these figures have been employed at different times and in different creative disciplines beyond architecture and in relation to changing notions of space and traces the role that they have played in the shift towards the dynamic that has taken place in contemporary theory and design research What emerges is the idea of an architecture of the city that is not only physical but is largely defined by the way in which its physical spaces are regulated lived and perceived but also imagined and projected Post DomestiCity Diego Garcia-Setien, Enrique Espinosa, Begona de Abajo, Almudena Ribot / CoLaboratorio, 2022-07-06 PostDomestiCity is an inquiry and speculative exercise into the conditions of obsolescence in the post industrial city from a contemporary perspective Working with three paradigmatic cases that were conceived from industrial logics the Packard plant in Detroit Lima's PREVI neighbourhood and the Grand Mare complex in Rouen we explore alternative ways of reusing reprogramming and redensifying the built environment as alternatives to demolition Relevant voices in the field of architecture share their approaches and visions of the future for the pre existing city helping us imagine post domesticity in the current climate crisis and socio technological context With Contributions of Anne Lacaton Marina Otero Ippolito Pestellini Duplex Architects Lacol Antonio Viquez de Castro Carmen Espegel Luis Takahashi Lys Villalba OF architects DABG Patricia Lucas Ramon Araujo Paulo Dam Renato Manrique CoLaboratorio Diego Garcia Setien Enrique Espinosa Begona de Abajo Almudena Ribot The Possibility of an Absolute Architecture Pier Vittorio Aureli, 2011-02-11 Architectural form reconsidered in light of a unitary conception of architecture and the city In The Possibility of an Absolute Architecture Pier Vittorio Aureli proposes that a sharpened formal consciousness in architecture is a precondition for political cultural and social engagement with the city Aureli uses the term absolute not in the conventional sense of pure but to denote something that is resolutely itself after being separated from its other In the pursuit of the possibility of an absolute architecture the other is the space of the city its extensive organization and its government Politics is agonism through separation and confrontation the very condition of architectural form is to separate and be separated Through its act of separation and being separated architecture reveals at once the essence of the city and the essence of itself as political form the city as the composition of separate parts Aureli revisits the work of four architects whose projects were advanced through the making of architectural form but whose concern was the city at large Andrea Palladio Giovanni Battista Piranesi Louis Boulle and Oswald Mathias Ungers The work of these architects Aureli argues addressed the transformations of the modern city and its urban implications through the elaboration of specific and strategic architectural forms Their projects for the city do not take the form of an overall plan but are expressed as an archipelago of site specific interventions
