The Family Dynamic A Canadian Perspective Canadian Ed 5th Ed:

Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 Canadian Social Policy, Fifth Edition Anne Westhues, Brian Wharf, 2012-05-25 Social policy shapes the daily lives of every Canadian citizen and should reflect the beliefs of a majority of Canadians on just approaches to the promotion of health safety and well being Too often those on the front lines social workers nurses and teachers observe that policies do not work well for the most vulnerable groups in society In the first part of this new edition of Canadian Social Policy Westhues and Wharf argue that service deliverers have discretion in how policies are implemented and the exercise of this discretion is how citizens experience policy whether or not it is fair and reasonable They show the reader how social policy is made and they encourage active citizenship to produce policies that are more socially just New material includes an examination of the reproduction of systemic racism through the implementation of human rights policy and a comparative analysis of the policy making process in Quebec and English Canada The second part of the book discusses policy issues currently under debate in Canada Included are new chapters that explore parental leave policies and housing as a determinant of health All chapters contain newly updated statistical data and research and policy analysis A reworked section on the process of policy making and the addition of questions for critical reflection enhance the suitability of the book as a core resource in social policy courses The final chapter explores how front line workers in the human services can advocate for change in organizational policies that will benefit the people supported distinctive voice and style blended with Neil Guppy's definitive views on Canadian sociology highlighting the place of Canada in a globalizing world

Socioeconomic Inequality and Student Outcomes Louis Volante, Sylke V. Schnepf, John Jerrim, Don A. Klinger, 2019-08-31 This book examines socioeconomic inequality and student outcomes across various Western industrialized nations and the varying success they have had in addressing achievement gaps in lower socioeconomic status student populations. It presents the national profiles of countries with notable achievement gaps within the respective school-aged student populations, explains the trajectory of achievement results in relation to both national and international large-scale assessment measures, and discusses how relevant education policies have evolved within their national contexts. Most importantly, the national profiles investigate the effectiveness of policy responses that have been adopted to close the achievement gap in lower socioeconomic status student populations. This book provides a cross-national analysis of policy approaches designed to address socioeconomic inequality.

Promoting the Health of Older Adults Irving Rootman, Peggy Edwards, Mélanie Levasseur, Frances Grunberg, 2021-07-28 Taking a unique look at health promotion and aging in Canada, this edited collection uses the action framework in the Ottawa Charter for Health Promotion to explore the factors and issues related to the health of older adults. The book is organized around the five action areas for health promotion: building healthy public policy, creating supportive environments, strengthening community action, developing personal skills, and reorienting health and social services. Adhering to the holistic approach that health in older age involves physical, mental, emotional, and social well-being, this comprehensive collection covers a wide range of interventions that are designed to benefit and protect the aging population's health, quality of life, rights, and dignity while building intergenerational solidarity and collaboration. Readers will learn about aging from a health promotion perspective, the context, environment, and issues related to older adults in Canada, as well as best practices in health promotion, public health, and the care of older adults. Promoting the Health of Older Adults is an invaluable resource for both graduate and undergraduate students in gerontology, health promotion, nursing, social work, and related fields.

FEATURES Considers the implications of the COVID-19 pandemic for health promotion and aging. Provides an up-to-date profile of older adults in Canada and current future trends in aging and health, including the use of new technologies and policies and practices in health promotion, public health, and other disciplines. Includes a wealth of pedagogical features such as learning objectives, critical thinking questions, a glossary, and online supplementary materials.
