The Global Startup Ecosystem Ranking 2015:

Global Business Mahesh Joshi, James R. Klein, 2018-08-02 In the wake of the Brexit vote and the election of Donald Trump globalization has found itself increasingly under the microscope An active international discussion is underway and the ideological viewpoint that the reversal of globalization and a return to protectionism and isolation will cure the world's ills is touted by many In the midst of the growing prominence of international interconnectivity and contradicting attention attained by skewed misinformation about global impact Global Business is a straightforward commentary on mega trends in globalization With insights and observations from academics practitioners and practical thinkers from around the world Global Business demystifies the economic social and cultural impacts of globalism and globalization and presents a balanced explanation of what is happening and how it affects everyone It highlights that technology and change are not new and explores the path taken to reach our current interconnected global state It encourages a realistic examination of where we are and invites a dialogue on where we can go together

Smart World Cities in the 21st Century Agnes Mainka, 2018-08-06 The term smart city has become a buzzword City planners develop ubiquitous connectivity through Wi-Fi hotspots establish science parks introduce bike and car sharing and push entrepreneurship All this is happening under the flagship of becoming a knowledge city This book investigates the digital and cognitive infrastructure of 31 cities and how they meet the demands of the knowledge society in an increasingly digitized environment

Start-up Latin America 2016 Building an Innovative Future OECD, 2016-10-20 Start up Latin America 2016 presents an update of start up promotion policies in the region Start ups are becoming a reality in Latin America and public policies are playing an important role in supporting their creation and expansion This second edition reviews and compares the experiences

Innovation and entrepreneurship. Theory and Practice Marcin Lis, Michal Szyszka, 2020-06-30 In recent years there has been a growing awareness that innovation plays the key role in the success and the functioning of organizations This publication reveals an interdisciplinary dimension because it addresses the increasing need for sustainable innovation that combines economic environmental and social elements Its aim is to present the international exchange of ideas research results and practical experience in the field broadly understood as innovation to highlight the importance of innovation management in a competitive global economy and to discuss the current problems related to innovation and entrepreneurship In the economy reliant on innovation of various organizations cross sectoral co operation is of paramount importance It allows to achieve synergy between entities with diverse resources and competences in generating innovative projects Originally analysis of cross sectoral relations focused on building links between business and science in particular the realms of research and development This is the most obvious system by means of which the economy is fed with innovative concepts and their implementation solutions Over time the public sector too has begun to be perceived not only as an entity that creates economic regulations but also as a real partner in the process of shaping economic development it provides innovative projects which are then commercialised in business Therefore the role of the public sector is not only to legislate but also to conduct joint actions with the innovative business sector in order to stimulate local development of innovative projects This publication will address the so called triple helix the most effective process of generating innovation the system of co operation between business science and government that contributes to the creation of innovative economy

Economic Survey ,2016 Move Over, Silicon Valley Steve Hendershot,2015 Silicon Valley has been synonymous with technological innovation for decades The northern California USA enclave has nurtured a project culture that makes it relatively easy for startup companies to succeed Team leaders can find top flight talent and budding entrepreneurs can seek guidance from seasoned executives about growth strategies and project hurdles But Silicon Valley is now just one of many tech project hot spots as cities around the world try to capture a little of California s energy The world s top 10 startup ecosystems according to research firm Compass and its 2015 Global Startup Ecosystem Ranking now include Tel Aviv Israel London England and

Singapore Korea ,2015 Kinh tế và dự báo ,2021 Which Factors Determine the Success Or Failure of Startup Companies? A Startup Ecosystem Analysis of Hungary, Germany and the US Christoph Kotsch,2017-09 As more and more startup companies are founded every year worldwide building up one's own business does not get easier Since 9 out of 10 startups fail future entrepreneurs are well advised to take a look at potential reasons for failure and success Learning from others mistakes and studying success stories can improve their own performance and help to avoid critical errors The academic paper at hand will provide valuable insights for entrepreneurs It not only states the most important terms concerning startups but also lists the most important factors for a startup company's success according to literature review Delineating both internal and external factors this thesis not only delivers a synoptic view of potential challenges inside a startup as well as in its ecosystem but also juxtaposes these influences in opposition The second part of this paper analyzes a series of interviews with twelve startup founders from three different regions the province of North Rhine Westphalia in Germany Budapest in Hungary and the state of California in the US Their views and experiences will be summarized and put into the context of their respective startup ecosystem Startup Ecosystems Fabio Greco,2023 This book analyzes the components of the startup ecosystem including the characteristics that can favor or disadvantage the development of new innovative ventures The author believes it is essential to identify crucial variables of start up ecosystems that have a context specific influence on the well being and development of startups In this regard the book analyzes the concept of the start up ecosystem both from the point of view of scholars and professionals The author then deals with the diverse approaches to studying startup ecosystems which have over the years become increasingly complex and less linear making systematization indispensable The author provides therefore a classification with a transversal logic with respect to this diversity of contributions in the literature The main theoretical contributions to start up ecosystems are grouped according to the attention they place on three different variables territorial contexts resources and actors The author also presents qualitative interview based research using narrative analysis mode to understand the three variables The work provides on the one hand the proposal of a framework as a theoretical interpretative model useful both for the description of the fundamental components of the start up ecosystem and also useful for giving a boost to future research On the other hand the book also presents evidence of a practical nature useful to support and guide the choices of startup founders and of managers of companies and institutions that orbit within start up ecosystems Startup Cities Peter S. Cohan,2018-02-07 This book offers a comprehensive model for explaining the success and failure of cities in nurturing startups presents detailed case studies of how participants in that model help or hinder startup activity and shows how to apply these lessons to boost local startup activity Startup Cities explains the factors that determine local startup success based on a detailed comparison of regional startup cities pairing the most successful and less successful cities within regions along with insights and implications from case studies of each of the model's elements The book compares local city pairs highlighting factors that distinguish successful from less successful cities and presents implications for stakeholders that arise from these principles Peter Cohan is a lecturer of Strategy at Babson College and one of the world's leading authorities on regional startup ecosystems Starting in 2012 he created and led Startup Strategy courses that explore four regional startup ecosystems Hong Kong Singapore Israel Paris and Spain Portugal These courses are based on an original framework for evaluating why a few cities host most startup creation and the rest fail to do so In running these courses Peter has built a network of local policymakers investors entrepreneurs and professors from which he draws practical insights for what distinguishes successful Startup Commons from their peers The book provides vital benefits to these stakeholders What You'll Learn Local policymakers will know how to build a local team to set objectives for their local Startup Commons and develop a comprehensive strategy to realize those goals Entrepreneurs will know how to choose where to locate their startups based on factors such as the supply and quality of talent from chief marketing and technology officers to coders and sales people quality of life access to capital customers and mentors and costs such as salary and real estate expense University administrators and faculty will know how to take research out of their labs and house it in companies that can commercialize that research create academic programs that will encourage more entrepreneurship among their students and connect with local policymakers and capital providers to spur local startup activity Capital providers will know how to scout out emerging startup cities where they can get access to the best investment opportunities at more favorable valuations and have greater influence on how the local startup scene evolves Who This Book Is For All key startup stakeholders including local policymakers mayors directors of economic development treasurers controllers presidents of regional chamber of commerce entrepreneurs CEOs chief marketing officers chief financial officers chief HR officers chief technology officers universities presidents deans of faculty provosts professors of finance management and entrepreneurship directors of international education and capital providers venture capital partners and associates angel investors bank loan officers managers of accelerator operations future shows is an informative and entertaining read not only for startup experts Out-Innovate Alexandre "Alex" Lazarow,2020-04-07 The new playbook for innovation and startup success is emerging from beyond Silicon Valley at the frontier Startups have changed the world In the United States many startups such as Tesla Apple and Amazon have become household names The economic value of startups has doubled since 1992 and is projected to double again in the next fifteen years For decades the hot center of this phenomenon has been Silicon Valley This is changing fast Thanks to technology startups are now taking root everywhere from Delhi to Detroit to Nairobi to Sao Paulo Yet despite this globalization of startup activity our knowledge of how to build successful startups is still drawn primarily from Silicon Valley As venture capitalist Alexandre Lazarow shows in this insightful and instructive book this Silicon Valley gospel is due for a refresh and it comes from what he calls the frontier the growing constellation of startup ecosystems outside of the Valley and other major economic centers that now stretches across the globe The frontier is a truly different world where startups often must cope with political or economic instability and lack of infrastructure and where there might be little or no access to angel investors venture capitalists or experienced employee pools Under such conditions entrepreneurs must be creators who build industries rather than disruptors who change them because there are few existing businesses to disrupt The companies they create must be global from birth because local markets are too small They focus on resiliency and sustainability rather than unicorn style growth at any cost With rich and wide ranging stories of frontier innovators from around the world Out Innovate is the new playbook for innovation wherever it has the potential to happen Upstart Nation ,2023 Building Startup Ecosystems David Shelters,2017-02-13 As we progress further into the information age technology online businesses e commerce and innovation play an increasingly larger impact on economic growth social development and the personal lives of human beings throughout the world As we progress further into the information age technology online businesses e commerce and innovation play an increasingly larger impact on economic growth social development and the personal lives of human beings throughout the world Tech entrepreneurship provides the propulsion for such progress As individual nations and international organizations increasingly recognize and embrace the vital importance entrepreneurship and innovation has become the need for greater understanding and focused study on the development of start up ecosystems supportive of tech entrepreneurs has urgently assumed greater proportions This is the first book to treat the topic of start up ecosystem development from both an academic and practical perspective The book will commence with an introduction to the Vibrancy Rating a qualitative methodology to evaluate and track the progress of the development of local start up ecosystems The existing methodologies that rate start up ecosystems are primarily quantitative thus only record current status and results They do not offer a proper conceptual framework nor actionable information to assist the various participants in a start up community to make informed decisions throughout the stages of development a local start up ecosystem progresses through To illustrate the methodology a narrative of the untold story of the development of the Thai start up ecosystem will be presented In 2008 when the author decided to make Thailand his home there was no start up community Now it has rapidly developed into one of the most vibrant start up communities in the world Thailand is rated 1 globally in social media usage and the top global destination for digital nomads It is a global leader in women and social entrepreneurship Thailand is renowned for its vast network of well designed and vibrant co working spaces and is positioned in the heart of ASEAN the fastest growing region in the world It has become the preferred launching pad for the biggest global e commerce players targeting the Southeast Asian market and is leading the way in ASEAN in developing crowd funding regulations The book reveals how this happened since the very beginning from the perspective of an observer and participant The book finishes with a review of the proper roles of each start up participant during each development stage Start up participants include entrepreneurs early stage investors media start up organizations universities corporations and government The review is intended to answer the following question How can each start up community member optimally contribute to and benefit from the start up community in which it is based The final chapter of the book will present the Innovative Venture policy proposal for governments to consider in support of the development of their local start up ecosystem The Innovative Venture is a designation granted to a start up venture for successfully demonstrating that they would be introducing an innovation to the local economy whether it be an innovative technology business model or process It is structured as both a regulatory and branding vehicle that serves as a drop box for specific regulatory relief and incentives to be enjoyed by both founders and investors of local start ups The government may also market their Innovative Venture program both domestically and abroad to attract new participants to the local start up ecosystem For the first time start up ecosystems can now be properly evaluated and compared by all the major start up community players so they may optimally contribute and benefit
