The Cranberries Zombie:

Hollywood or History? Starlynn R. Nance, 2022-05-01 Teaching with film is not a new approach in the social studies classroom. Different publications such as Hollywood or History have bridged the gap with challenges attached to using historical film and engage students through inquiry not entertainment. To continue with the Hollywood or History strategy, this text uses television shows, sitcoms to bring issue-centered curriculum to middle and high school classrooms. By exploring issues in specific episodes, students can learn the history behind an issue, relate it to their lives, and develop an informed decision associated with the issue. The College Career and Civic Life C3 framework is an integral part to the exploration of issue-centered curriculum. In each chapter, the students will work through the four dimensions and develop critical thinking, reading, and writing skills. My hope is that this text can play a small role in walking practicing teachers through the C3 framework while allowing students to learn about issues that affect society and the communities where they live.

The Revolution Will Be Spotified Triauna Carey, 2024-07-08 The Revolution Will Be Spotified investigates the rhetorical strategies present in mainstream popular music and how those strategies are implemented to empower resistance. Case studies across the genres of popular music in the West are surveyed throughout the book to consider the power of music as a rhetorical tool during cultural flashpoints and times of crisis. Carey analyzes songs such as This is America by Childish Gambino, Alien Superstar by Beyoncé, Thought Contagion by Muse, and more to consider the impact of contemporary music on culture and social justice movements.
