Configuring the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank Ian Tsung-Yen Chen, 2020-12-29 Studying the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank AIIB through the lens of international relations IR theory Chen argues that it is inappropriate to treat the AIIB as either a revisionist or a complementary institution. Instead, the bank is still evolving and the interaction of power interests and status that will determine whether the bank will go wild. Theoretically, the current shape of the AIIB will influence global strategic conditions and global perceptions of the bank itself, consequently affecting China's level of dissatisfaction with its power and status in the international financial system and maneuvering in the AIIB. To empirically show that this book presents the evolution of the AIIB, it compares the bank with its main competitors in the Asia Pacific region and conducts ten comparative case studies to show how countries around the world have positioned themselves in response to the emergence of the AIIB. This book presents critical insights for scholars and foreign policy practitioners to understand China's surging influence in international organizations and how China can shape the world order. It should prove of interest to students and scholars of IR, strategic studies, China Studies, Asian Studies, developmental studies, economics, and global finance.

The Transactions Cost of Primary Market Issuance: The Case of Brazil, Chile, and Mexico, Balancing Power without Weapons Ashley Thomas Lenihan, 2018-03-22. Why do states block some foreign direct investment on national security grounds even when it originates from within their own security community? Government intervention into foreign takeovers of domestic companies is on the rise, and many observers find it surprising that states engage in such behaviour not only against their strategic and military competitors but also against their closest allies. Ashley Lenihan argues that such puzzling behaviour can be explained by recognizing that states use intervention into cross-border mergers and acquisitions as a tool of statecraft to internally balance the economic and military power of other states through non-military means. This book tests this theory using quantitative and qualitative analysis of transactions in the United States, Russia, China, and fifteen European Union states. It deepens our understanding of why states intervene in foreign takeovers, the relationship between interdependence and conflict, the limits of globalization, and how states are balancing power in new ways. This title is also available as Open Access.

The Bankers' New Clothes Anat Admati, Martin Hellwig, 2023-11-07. A Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, and Bloomberg Businessweek Book of the Year. Why our banking system is broken and what we must do to fix it. New bank failures have been a rude awakening for everyone who believed that the banking industry was reformed after the Global Financial Crisis and that we'd never again have to choose between massive bailouts and financial havoc. The Bankers' New Clothes uncovers just how little things have changed and why banks are still so dangerous. Writing in clear language that anyone can understand, Anat Admati and Martin Hellwig debunk the false and misleading claims of bankers, regulators, politicians, academics, and others who oppose effective reform, and they explain how the banking system can be made safer and healthier. Thoroughly updated for a world where bank failures have made a dramatic return, this acclaimed and important book now features a new preface and four new chapters that expose the shortcomings of current policies and reveal how the dominance of banking even presents dangers to the rule of law and democracy itself.

The Green Investment Bank Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee, Joan

Walley,2011-03-11 This report warns that the UK could lose out on hundreds of billions of pounds of vital investment in green energy projects if the Government waters down its plans for a Green Investment Bank The Coalition Agreement promised to establish a Green Investment Bank and the Chancellor pledged 1 billion to capitalise it in the Spending Review plus unspecified proceeds from the sale of government assets But there have been reports of disagreement within Government as to whether it should be a fully fledged investment bank able to borrow money and raise further capital or simply a fund If the Office for National Statistics ONS classifies the Bank as public sector its borrowing could appear on the Government s balance sheet and so undermine its deficit reduction strategy Evidence presented to the Environmental Audit Committee by energy companies NGOs and financial institutions suggests that between 200 billion and 1 trillion of private sector investment is needed over the next 10 20 years if the UK is to meet its climate change and renewable energy targets But traditional sources of private sector capital are only likely deliver 50 80 billion of investment in green infrastructure by 2025 leaving the UK with a massive investment shortfall The report argues that establishing a proper Investment Bank is crucial in order to lever in the unprecedented levels of private sector investment needed The Committee concludes that as a priority the Bank should concentrate on new fledgling environmental investment where the market has yet to be established The

Interaction Between Competition Law and Corporate Governance Florence Thépot,2019-02-14 Florence Th pot provides the first systematic account of the interaction between competition law and corporate governance She challenges the black box conception of the firm or undertaking in competition law as applied to increasingly complex corporate relations The book opens the black box of the firm to understand the internal drivers of collusive behaviour and proposes a unified approach to cartel enforcement based on the agency theory It explores key issues including corporate compliance programmes the attribution of liability in corporate groups and structural links between competitors and should be read by anyone interested in how the evolution of the corporate landscape impacts competition law Rural Development
