Hkcee English Past Paper:

Narratives of English Language Learners in Private Tutoring Kevin Wai Ho Yung, 2025-12-04 Yung offers a groundbreaking exploration of the dynamic interplay between motivation private tutoring and second language learning Examining the under researched topic of shadow education in the context of applied linguistics this book provides a fresh and insightful outlook on the unique experiences of English as a second language L2 learners engaged in English private tutoring By examining L2 learners experiences from the perspective of the L2 motivational self readers will gain valuable insights into how personal goals identity and aspirations drive learning processes The book features an in depth analysis of L2 learners narratives shedding light on the diverse factors that shape students L2 motivation in learning English in cram schools Researchers educators policymakers schoolteachers and tutors alike will benefit from the understanding of how private tutoring influences the development of learners L2 motivational selves informing teaching strategies policies and language learning approaches in both mainstream and shadow education settings This book is a must read for researchers in applied linguistics and educators and practitioners working with L2 learners seeking to understand the underpinnings of motivation in English language learning With its unique focus on the private tutoring context this book serves as a vital resource for those striving to optimise language learning experiences and outcomes within and outside school

English Language Education and Assessment David Coniam, 2014-07-06 This volume gathers contributions in the closely linked fields of English language assessment and language education The contributors from China and Hong Kong represent a mixture of established and new scholars Areas covered in the language education section range across major developments in the redefining of Hong Kong s secondary and tertiary curricula as well as the huge field of China s vocational education curriculum Regarding assessment the contributions reflect major changes in the marking of examinations in Hong Kong whereby all examinations from 2012 onwards are marked onscreen to quality control issues in the administration of China s College English Test which is taken by over 10 million candidates every year

Changing Language Teaching Through Language Testing Liying Cheng, 2005-10-06 There has been growing interest in recent years in the influence of tests on teaching and learning a phenomenon commonly referred to as washback Despite persistent assertions about its nature and scope empirical studies investigating test washback are still limited in number and few of these make use of both qualitative and quantitative methods in washback research This volume presents a study of how the introduction of the 1996 Hong Kong Certificate of Education in English a high stakes public examination impacted on classroom teaching and learning in Hong Kong secondary schools The washback effect was observed initially at the larger macro level among different stakeholder groups within the Hong Kong educational context and also at the more local micro level in terms of teachers attitudes teaching content and classroom interactions This study provides a theoretical background to the washback concept discusses the need for empirical investigation of washback describes the use of a mixed methodology approach in washback research offers insights into the role of tests as agents of innovation and change in the classroom and broader educational context This volume will be of particular relevance to language test developers and researchers interested in the consequential validity of tests it will also be of interest to teachers curriculum designers policymakers and others in education concerned with the interface between language testing and teaching practices programs Book jacket

Validating Technological Innovation David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2016-04-02 This book discusses Hong Kong's use of onscreen marking OSM in public examinations Given that Hong Kong leads the way in OSM innovation this book has arisen from a recognised need to provide a comprehensive coherent account of the findings of various separate but linked validation studies of onscreen public examinations in Hong Kong The authors discuss their experience of the validation process demonstrating how high stakes innovation should be fully validated by a series of research studies in order to satisfy key stakeholders

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 2008 000000, 1982 Living in Hong Kong, 2003 Medium of Instruction in Hong Kong Anita Y. K. Poon, Yuqiong Pan, 2000-09-26 Poon's book is a qualitative case study of Hong Kong's medium of instruction policy proposed in the Education Commission Report No 4 in 1990 The study utilizes not only documents but interviews and observations in analyzing the formal policy and its implementation in school instruction Poon finds many factors that signify that the Hong Kong government's medium of instruction policy is not likely to be implemented to a large extent territorially Poon proposes a solution to revise the existing medium of instruction policy to incorporate bilingualism as a language goal and to practice language planning societally and in the domain of education 000000000000 Hong Kong, 2009-05-08
