Lost In Translation A Life New Language Eva Hoffman:

Lost in Translation Eva Hoffman, 1991 In 1959 13 year old Eva Hoffman left her home in Cracow Poland for a new life in America This personal memoir evokes with deep feeling the sense of uprootedness and exile created by this disruption something which has been the experience of tens of thousands of people this century Silence in Second Language Learning Colette A. Granger, 2004-01-01 This text examines the under researched and often troubling phenomenon of silence in second language learning through a triangulation of SLA research memoirs and language learner diaries and psychoanalytic concepts of anxiety ambivalence conflict and loss It moves beyond the view of silence as the mere absence of speech inviting the reader to consider it as both a psychical event and a linguistic moment in the continuous process of identity formation Deciphering Culture Jane Crisp, Kay Ferres, Gillian Swanson, 2013-07-23 Representation subjectivity and sexuality continue to be central to scholarly inquiry in the humanities and social sciences Deciphering Culture explores their relationship each author taking a distinct approach to the concept of curiosity as a way of deciphering the working of particular cultural formations In the process they address a variety of topics including the historical formation of subjectivities identities and differences cultural conduct and habits of the self everyday cultures and negotiation consumption and the body memory history and autobiography the ethics of critical and textual inquiry This fascinating book will appeal to students and academics from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds in the social sciences and cultural studies A New Language, A New World Nancy C. Carnevale, 2010-10-01 An examination of Italian immigrants and their children in the early twentieth century A New Language A New World is the first full length historical case study of one immigrant group s experience with language in America Incorporating the interdisciplinary literature on language within a historical framework Nancy C Carnevale illustrates the complexity of the topic of language in American immigrant life By looking at language from the perspectives of both immigrants and the dominant culture as well as their interaction this book reveals the role of language in the formation of ethnic identity and the often coercive context within which immigrants must negotiate this process Sociocultural Theory Second Language Learning James P. Lantolf, 2013-05-20 This book represents a major statement of the current research being conducted on the learning of second languages from a sociocultural perspective The book is divided into a theoretical and an empirical part Specific topics covered include learning and teaching languages in the zone of proximal development L1 mediation in the acquisition of L2 grammar sociocultural theory as a theory of second language learning gestural mediation in a second language and constructing a self through a second language Archive, Slow Ideology and Egodocuments as Microhistorical Autobiography Sigurður Gylfi Magnússon, 2021-08-29 This book aims to demonstrate how scholars in recent times have been utilizing egodocuments from various angles and providing an opening for the multivocality of the sources to be fully appreciated The first part of the book is concerned with the significance of egodocuments both for the individual him herself who creates such documents and also for the other who receives them The author approaches the subject on the basis of his own personal experience and goes on to discuss the importance of such documents for the academic world emphasizing more general questions and issues within the fields of historiography philosophy of history microhistory and memory studies The second part of the book is based upon a photographic collection an archive that belonged to the author's grandfather who over decades accumulated photographs of vagabonds and outsiders This part seeks to explore what kind of knowledge can be applied when a single source an archive document letter illustration etc is examined and whether the knowledge derived may not be quite as good in its own context as in the broader perspective

Intertextual Loops in Modern Drama Christine Olga Kiebuszinska, 2001 Kiebuszinska who teaches modern drama comparative literature and film at Virginia Tech considers intertextuality in modern drama In nine essays she examines the connections between the works of modern playwrights such as Kundera Jelinek and Hampton and the texts of earlier writers such as Diderot

New Readings of Yiddish Montreal - Traduire le Montréal yiddish Pierre Anctil, Norman Ravvin, Sherry Simon, 2007-06-30 The texts collected in this volume unveil the practice and the methods of the translators and scholars who contributed to the reemergence of Yiddish in contemporary Canada Each of the personalities discussed enlarged the historical position and interpreted various aspects of the Yiddish language in Montreal that until recently remained obscure or inaccessible Published in English

Transcultural Graffiti Russell West-Pavlov, 2005-01-01 Transcultural Graffiti reads a range of texts prose poetry drama in several European languages as exemplars of diasporic writing The book scrutinizes contemporary transcultural literary creation for the manner in which it gives hints about the teaching of literary studies in our postcolonial globalizing era Transcultural Graffiti suggests that cultural work in particular transcultural work assembles and collates material from various cultures in their moment of meeting The teaching of such cultural collage in the classroom should equip students with the means to reflect upon and engage in cultural bricolage themselves in the present day The texts read from Césaire's adaptation of Shakespeare's Tempest via the diaspora fictions of Marica Bodrožić or David Dabydeen to the post 9/11 poetry of New York poets are understood as graffiti like inscriptions the result of fleeting encounters in a swiftly changing public world Such texts provide impulses for a performative risk pedagogy capable of modelling the ways in which our constitutive individual and social narratives are constructed deconstructed and reconstructed today

European Writers in Exile Robert C. Hauhart, Jeff Birkenstein, 2018-10-26 European Writers in Exile collects a series of original essays that address the writers' universal existential dilemma when viewed through the lens of exile who am I where am I from and what do I write and to whom While we often understand the term exile to refer to writers who have either been forced to leave their home country or region or chosen self-exile this term need not be defined so narrowly and the contributors to this volume explore a range of interesting and evolving definitions Various countries in Europe have long been both a refuge for people and writers from many countries and a strife torn region which has forced many to flee within the continent or beyond it The phrase in exile involves writers moving across borders in multiple directions and for multiple reasons including for reasons of duress or personal quest and these themes are addressed and critiqued in these essays This volume naturally examines the cataclysmic and near universal exilic experiences relating to the world wars including essays on Thomas Mann Vladimir Nabokov Hannah Arendt and Leo Strauss Additionally essays address the unique early twentieth century experiences of Emile Zola Franz Kafka Joseph Conrad and James Joyce More contemporary essay subjects include Milan Kundera Norman Manea Eva Hoffman Caryl Phillips and W G Sebald This collection of transnational globalized European literature studies envisions understanding the intersection of our contemporary world and various writers in exile in new cultural historical spatial and epistemological frameworks How does literary production in an increasingly globalized world when seen from exile affect a view back towards a country or region left behind Or conversely how does exile push a writer to look outward to new trans nationalized space s These and other questions are important to investigate Taken in sum European Writers in Exile offers an academically rigorous important and cohesive volume themselves have little or no English the differences and difficulties involved in a child learning an additional language so early on in their lives strategies for exploring the learning of multilingual learners and a review of the resources and activities that could help Sandra Smidt views multilingualism as a cognitive advantage and shows how Early Years practitioners can use interactive styles of learning to focus on the benefit that the many cultures and languages in the classroom can bring to children s learning and development Written in a highly accessible tone this book offers practitioners a mix of practical case studies and examples in which theory is embedded and its importance explained Students of early childhood education will also appreciate the author s carefully structured approach to the topic as she includes summary boxes glossaries and points for reflection in each chapter

Yesterday's Self Andreea Deciu Ritivoi,2002 In Yesterday s Self Andreea Ritivoi explores the philosophical and historical dimensions of nostalgia in the lives of immigrants forging a connection between current trends in the philosophy of identity and intercultural studies The book considers such questions as Does attachment to one s native culture preclude or merely influence adaptation into a new culture Do we fashion our identity in interdependence with others or do we shape it in a non contingent frame Is it possible to assimilate in an unfamiliar world without risking self alienation Ritivoi s response nostalgia is both the poison and the cure in such situations

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf,2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Women in the Holocaust Zoë Waxman,2017-01-26 Despite some pioneering work by scholars historians still find it hard to listen to the voices of women in the Holocaust Learning more about the women who both survived and did not survive the Nazi genocide through the testimony of the women themselves not only increases our understanding of this terrible period in history but makes us rethink our relationship to the gendered nature of knowledge itself Women in the Holocaust is about the ways in which socially and culturally constructed gender roles were placed under extreme pressure yet also about the fact that gender continued to operate as an important arbiter of experience. Indeed paradoxically enough the extreme conditions of the Holocaust even of the death camps may have reinforced the importance of gender. Whilst Jewish men and women were both sentenced to death gender nevertheless operated as a crucial signifier for survival. Pregnant women as well as women accompanied by young children or those deemed incapable of hard labour were sent straight to the gas chambers. The very qualities which made them women were manipulated and exploited by the Nazis as a source of dehumanization. Moreover women were less likely to survive the camps even if they were not selected for death. Gender in the Holocaust therefore became a matter of life and death.

The Aesthetics and Politics of Linguistic Borders Heidi Grönstrand, Markus Huss, Ralf Kauranen, 2019-10-18 This collection showcases a multivalent approach to the study of literary multilingualism embodied in contemporary Nordic literature. While previous approaches to literary multilingualism have tended to take a textual or authorship focus this book advocates for a theoretical perspective which reflects the multiplicity of languages in use in contemporary literature emerging from increased globalization and transnational interaction. Drawing on a multimodal range of examples from contemporary Nordic literature these eighteen chapters illustrate the ways in which multilingualism is dynamic rather than fixed resulting from the interactions between authors texts and readers as well as between literary and socio political institutions. The book highlights the processes by which borders are formed within the production circulation and reception of literature and in turn the impact of these borders on issues around cultural linguistic and national belonging. Introducing an innovative approach to the study of multilingualism in literature this collection will be of particular interest to students and researchers in literary studies cultural studies and multilingualism. Living in Translation, 2021-11-01 Living in Translation Polish Writers in America discusses the interaction of Polish and American culture the transfer of the Central European experience abroad and the acculturation of major representatives of Polish literature to the United States. Contributions written by American specialists in Polish Studies tell the story of contemporary Polish expatriates who recently lived or are currently living in the U.S. These authors include directors screen writers Roman Polanski and Agnieszka Holland the Nobel Prize laureate poet Czeslaw Milosz theatre critic Jan Kott prose writer Jerzy Kosinski essayist Eva Hoffman and poet translator Stanislaw Baranczak. Living in Translation presents these and other writers in terms of the duality of their profiles resulting from their engagement in two different cultures. It documents problems encountered by those who became expatriates in response to a totalitarian system they had left behind. And it revises and updates the image of the Polish exile authors refocusing it along the lines of culture transfer border straddling and benefits resulting from a transcultural existence.

Autobiography and the Construction of Identity and Community in the Middle East NA NA, 2016-04-30 Ranging from the early modern period to the present day this edited collection uses biography as a window into the history of the Arab Islamic Middle East. The contributors reinterpret the lives of the famous such as George Antonius and Doria Shafiq and rediscover the lives of individuals previously consigned to the margins of history including the notorious individuals of 17th century Syria and the 20th century Palestinian activist Kulthum Auda. The book also draws on the biographical tradition of Arab historical writing including biographical dictionaries for an understanding of the region's social and cultural history. Interdisciplinary in scope and theoretically informed, this volume brings to light individual lives which are essential to an understanding of Middle Eastern history.
