the editors convincingly demonstrate the plurality of ways in which memoir is helping us make sense of who we are who we were and the influences that shape us along the way      Game Face LR Penn,2017-06-05 In this one act farce LR Penn who specializes in dysfunctional suburban families spices up the action with enough drugs sex and violence to keep the audience titillated during the occasional interval between the abundant laughs and the surprising plot twists In keeping with the traditions of the genre there is a healthy dose of adultery slapstick and mistaken identity although the identities are not so much mistaken as actively misrepresented by the characters themselves This is a play in which none of the characters seems capable of telling the truth being themselves or divulging their actual intentions But what goes on in the dark eventually comes to light and what emerges is the story of a family s struggle to assume control of their own lives in the face of the nefarious manipulations of a bullying father in a classic conflict between the quest for freedom individuality and fulfillment and an oppressive regime that is seeking to maintain the status quo      End-to-End Encrypted Messaging Rolf

Qualitative Methodologies in Tourism Studies Milka Ivanova,Dorina-Maria Buda,Elisa Burrai,2022-09-05 Disruptive and creative research methodologies proposed in this book are designed to dismantle neoliberal narratives deployed in tourism studies and wider social sciences Progressing criticality in tourism studies this volume showcases cutting edge contributions ranging from reflexivity subjectivities and dreams to messy emotions in auto ethnographic accounts of fieldwork motherhood capital accessing Inuit communities collective memory work ethnodrama and creative non fiction amongst others Disruption and creativity are the two ideas around which tourism geographers challenge and begin dismantling hegemonic ideologies in tourism studies The chapters in this book provide a vantage point from where to disrupt first before tourism geographers can engender progress and transformation within and outside of the field In tourism studies in general and tourism geography in particular the years of the 2000s have witnessed an emphasis on qualitative methodological research both in terms of the topics addressed and the types of methodological tools In many ways this legitimisation of qualitative work mirrors developments in other areas such as human geography sociology and anthropology in which this book is anchored The authors debate in more depth how tourism studies offer multidimensional multilogical and multi emotional approaches to research design The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the journal Tourism Geographies
