Using Data in Schools to Inform Leadership and Decision Making Alex J. Bowers, Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, 2014-11-01 Our fifth book in the International Research on School Leadership series focuses on the use of data in schools and districts as useful information for leadership and decision making Schools are awash in data and information from test scores to grades to discipline reports and attendance as just a short list of student information sources while additional streams of data feed into schools and districts from teachers and parents as well as local regional and national policy levels To deal with the data schools have implemented a variety of data practices from data rooms to data days data walks and data protocols However despite the flood of data successful school leaders are leveraging an analysis of their school's data as a means to bring about continuous improvement in an effort to improve instruction for all students Nevertheless some drown some swim while others find success Our goal in this book volume is to bring together a set of chapters by authors who examine successful data use as it relates to leadership and school improvement In particular the chapters in this volume consider important issues in this domain including How educational leaders use data to inform their practice What types of data and data analysis are most useful to successful school leaders To what extent are data driven and data informed practices helping school leaders positively change instructional practice In what ways does good data collection and analysis feed into successful continuous improvement and holistic systems thinking How have school leadership practices changed as more data and data analysis techniques have become available What are the major obstacles facing school leaders when using data for decision making and how do they overcome them Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology J. Michael Spector, M. David Merrill, Jan Elen, M. J. Bishop, 2013-07-03 The 4th edition of the Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology expands upon the previous 3 versions providing a comprehensive update on research pertaining to new and emerging educational technologies Chapters that are no longer pertinent have been eliminated in this edition with most chapters being completely rewritten expanded and updated Additionally new chapters pertaining to research methodologies in educational technology have been added due to expressed reader interest Each chapter now contains an extensive literature review documenting and explaining the most recent outstanding research including major findings and methodologies employed The Handbook authors continue to be international leaders in their respective fields the list is cross disciplinary by design and great effort was taken to invite authors outside of the traditional instructional design and technology community Using Data for Continuous Improvement in Educator Preparation Linda McKee, Sylvia Read, Debbie Rickey, 2024-03-25 Using Data for Continuous Improvement in Educator Preparation provides case studies that illuminate and contextualize the ways in which educator preparation programs determine the data they need to improve collect data analyze data share data with stakeholders and close the loop by making focused improvements based on the data Educator preparation programs operate in a wide range of contexts that have different requirements e g state mandated measures different affordances and different needs This text focuses on not only the stories of how data is collected analyzed and used for improvement but also on how stakeholders are impacted by the continuous improvement process In the editors work with accreditation and educator preparation program evaluation they noticed a variety of approaches to collecting analyzing and using data for program improvement Often this intense work with data goes unnoticed and unappreciated because it is done in the service of accreditation that once completed does not reach an audience outside of the institution and the accreditation agency Using Data for Continuous Improvement in Educator Preparation solves this problem by shedding light on this important work This volume inaugurates the AAQEP Program Evaluation in Education Series Perfect for courses such as Methods of Program Evaluation Teacher Education Improvement Science A Practical Guide to School Improvement Nancy Protheroe, Elizabeth Shellard, Jennifer Turner, 2003 Informing the Practice of Teaching Using Formative and Interim Assessment Robert W.
