

SETTING

The set is the interior of a modest three-bedroom bungalow, 406 Clybourne Street, in the near northwest of central Chicago. There is a sitting room with floor-to-ceiling windows, a fireplace with an oak mantelpiece, and a separate dining area with built-in cupboards. At the rear of the dining area, a swinging door leads to a kitchen. A staircase leads up to a second floor, and beneath it, another door leads down to a basement. There is a hallway and a bathroom door as well.

NOTE

In the original production, the actor playing Jim and Tom also played the role of Kenneth. In some subsequent productions a separate actor was hired to play the role of Kenneth alone.

CLYBOURNE PARK

ACT ONE

September 1959. Three o'clock, Saturday afternoon. The house is in disarray. Cardboard boxes are stacked in corners. Some furniture has been removed, shelves emptied. Pictures have been removed from the walls and carpets have been rolled and stand in end. Not far from the fireplace, Russ sits alone reading a copy of National Geographic. He is dressed in pajama top and slippers, socks, no shoes. On a table next to him sits a carton of ice cream into which, from time to time, he dips a spoon. Music plays softly on a radio next to him.

After some time, Bev descends the stairs carrying boxes to place in a cardboard box. As she packs, she keeps on look at Russ.

BEV. You're not going to eat all of that, are you? (He turns down the radio.)

RUSS. (Wish his mouth full.) Whaddya say?

BEV. What ice cream is that?

RUSS. Um. (Looks at the carton.) Neapolitan.

BEV. Well, don't feel compelled to eat that.

RUSS. (Shrugs, barely audible.) Going to waste. (He turns the radio back up and Francine enters from the kitchen, wearing a maid's uniform. Russ remains in the foreground as Bev joins her.)

FRANCINE. (To Bev.) So, if it's all right I'm just going to put these cardinicks here in the big box with the towels.

BEV. That is what I would do, yes, but you do mean to wrap them first?

FRANCINE. Oh, yes ma'am.

BEV. Oh. Now, Francine, I was wondering about this chafing dish, which we have practically never used.

FRANCINE. Yes, ma'am.

BEV. Do you own one of these yourself?

FRANCINE. No, I sure don't.

BEV. Because I do love to entertain though for the life of me I can't remember the last time we did. But still, it does seem a shame to give it away because it's just such a nice thing, isn't it?

FRANCINE. Oh, yes it is.

BEV. And it just looks so lonely sitting there in the cupboard as I was wondering if this might be the sort of thing that would be useful to you?

FRANCINE. Ohhh, thank you, I couldn't take that.

BEV. (Re: chafing dish.) See how sad he looks!

FRANCINE. You don't want to be giving that to me.

BEV. Well, nevertheless I'm offering.

FRANCINE. No, I don't think I should.

BEV. Well, you think about it.

FRANCINE. But thank you for offering.

BEV. You think about it and let me know.

FRANCINE. Yes, ma'am.

BEV. And do put some paper around those.

FRANCINE. Yes, ma'am. (Francine goes into kitchen. Bev returns with more to pack, putting Russ.)

BEV. That's a funny word, isn't it? Neapolitan.

RUSS. (Turns off radio.) Funny what way?

BEV. What do you suppose is the origin of that?

RUSS. Uh-hh ... Naples, I imagine.

BEV. Naples?

RUSS. City of Naples?

BEV. Nones.

RUSS. Of no narrative to

BEV. Because a person from Naples, I mean they wouldn't be called, well, not Neapolitan, obviously. I guess that was already ruled out (Laughs, then serious.) On the other hand, you do say Italian. But since, though, and specifically ones that end in S, because there must be a rule of some sort, don't you think? Help me think of a city other than Naples that also ends in S? (Pause.)

RUSS. Uh-hh ...

BEV. Oh Eddie. Um.

RUSS. Des Moines.

BEV. Not a silver S.

RUSS. Brussels.

BEV. All right. There you go. And how do we refer to them?

RUSS. Belgians.

BEV. But, the people from the city.

RUSS. Never met anyone from Brussels.

BEV. But there has to be a word.

RUSS. Look it up.

BEV. Where?

RUSS. Dictionary!

BEV. But it's not going to say this is the capital of Belgium and by the way the people who live there are called —

RUSS. Give Sally a call.

BEV. She won't know that.

RUSS. She and Ray went to Paris.

BEV. So?

RUSS. Close to Brussels.

BEV. Sally never knows those sorts of things.

RUSS. Oh. Oh.

BEV. What?

RUSS. Parisians.

BEV. What about them? (Francine returns with more packing.)

Clybourne Park Script:

Script Analysis for Actors, Directors, and Designers James Michael Thomas, 2009 Script Analysis specifically for Actors Directors and Designers the only book on this subject that covers the growing area of unconventional plays Script Analysis for Actors, Directors, and Designers James Thomas, 2013-10-08 Script Analysis for Actors Directors and Designers teaches the skills of script analysis using a formalist approach that examines the written part of a play to gauge how the play should be performed and designed Treatments of both classic and unconventional plays are combined with clear examples end of chapter questions and stimulating summaries that will allow actors directors and designers to immediately incorporate the concepts and processes into their theatre production work Now thoroughly revised the fifth edition contains a new section on postmodernism and postdramatic methods of script analysis along with additional material for designers

Clybourne Park Bruce Norris, 2012 Clybourne Park spans two generations fifty years apart In 1959 Russ and Bev are selling their desirable two bedroom at a bargain price unknowingly bringing the first black family into the neighborhood borrowing a plot line from Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun and creating ripples of discontent among the cozy white residents of Clybourne Park In 2009 the same property is being bought by a young white couple whose plan to raze the house and start again is met with equal disapproval by the black residents of the soon to be gentrified area Are the issues festering beneath the floorboards actually the same fifty years on Bruce Norris's excruciatingly funny and squirm inducing satire explores the fault line between race and property Clybourne Park is the winner of the 2011 Pulitzer Prize for Drama and the winner of the 2012 Tony Award for Best Play Activated Script Analysis Elizabeth Brendel Horn, 2023-05-02 Activated Script Analysis engages theatre students in traditional formative script analysis through a fusion of devised theatre and various modes of creative expression dispelling the notion of script analysis as an isolated pen to paper task and reimagining it as a captivating and collaborative process This book uses diverse contemporary plays to model the script analysis process for each of four Theatrical Elements Given Circumstances Character Setting and Structure By considering each of these elements readers can uncover patterns and themes within a dramatic text Woven throughout the study of each theatrical element are Connections Personal Connections which encourage readers to explore a theatrical element within their own lives as though their lives were a script Play Connections which make abstract ideas presented in script analysis concrete through theatre based play Professional Connections which examine how a theatre professional might analyze a script within their own work and Performative Connections which provide the opportunity for students to explore a theatrical element through performance using devised theatre strategies At the end of each chapter readers are given the opportunity to analyze a text through the lens of a Theatrical Element and to express their findings through a variety of digital written visual and performance based modes of expression Activated Script Analysis is designed for undergraduate theatre students and educators to be used as the primary text in Script Analysis coursework or as a supplemental text in Acting or Directing Discourses on Nations and Identities Daniel Syrový, 2021-01-18 The third volume of the collected papers of the ICLA congress The Many Languages of Comparative Literature includes contributions that focus on the interplay between concepts of nation, national languages and individual as well as collective identities. Because all literary communication happens within different kinds of power structures (linguistic, economic, political), it often results in fascinating forms of hybridity. In the first of four thematic chapters, the papers investigate some of the ways in which discourses can establish modes of thinking or how discourses are in turn controlled by active linguistic interventions, whether in the context of the patriarchy, war, colonialism or political factions. The second thematic block is predominantly concerned with hybridity as an aspect of modern cultural identity and the cultural and linguistic dimensions of domestic life and in society at large. Closely related, a third series of papers focuses on writers and texts analysed from the vantage points of exile and exophony as well as theoretical contributions to issues of terminology and what it means to talk about transcultural phenomena. Finally, a group of papers sheds light on more overtly violent power structures, mechanisms of exclusion, totalitarianism, torture and censorship but also resistance to these forms of oppression. In addition to these chapters, the volume also collects a number of thematically related group sections from the ICLA congress, preserving their original context.

Neo-segregation Narratives Brian Norman, 2010 Norman traces a neo-segregation narrative tradition, one that developed in tandem with neo-slave narratives, by which writers return to a moment of stark de jure segregation to address contemporary concerns about national identity and the persistence of racial divides.

Performing Dream Homes Emily Klein, Jennifer-Scott Mobley, Jill Stevenson, 2019-01-22 This anthology explores how theatre and performance use home as the prism through which we reconcile shifts in national, cultural and personal identity. Whether examining parlor dramas and kitchen sink realism, site-specific theatre, travelling tent shows, domestic labor, border performances, fences or front yards, these essays demonstrate how dreams of home are enmeshed with notions of neighborhood, community, politics and memory. Recognizing the family home as a symbolic space that extends far beyond its walls, the nine contributors to this collection study diverse English language performances from the US, Ireland and Canada. These scholars of theatre history, dramaturgy, performance, cultural studies, feminist and gender studies and critical race studies also consider the value of home at a time increasingly defined by crises of homelessness, a moment when major cities face affordable housing shortages, when debates about homeland and citizenship have dominated international elections, and when conflicts and natural disasters have displaced millions. Global struggles over immigration, sanctuary, refugee status and migrant labor make the stakes of home and homelessness ever more urgent and visible, as this timely collection reveals.

Contested Terrain Keith Wilhite, 2022-12 Drawing on a body of literature published between 1945 and 2016, Contested Terrain proposes a more expansive treatment of suburban fiction as a discourse that operates within national and transnational geographies. Wilhite argues that the suburbs and suburban narratives reflect the latest perhaps final outpost in the tradition of U S regionalism Although he may be accused of simply substituting one outmoded methodology for another such a critique depends on misreading regionalism as either a sub literary genre or as Roberto Dainotto suggests a pernicious political ideology that opposes modernity and suppresses difference in the naive pursuit of grounded rooted natural authentic values shared by a true community In opposition to such withering appraisals Contested Terrain demonstrates that as both a literary discourse and a mode of geopolitical analysis regionalism clarifies the fraught relationship between isolationism and imperialism that has shaped U S residential geography and in turn helps us rethink the role literary texts play in the postwar project of suburban nation building

Performing Copyright Luke McDonagh, 2021-06-17 Based on empirical research this innovative book explores issues of performativity and authorship in the theatre world under copyright law and addresses several inter connected questions who is the author and first owner of a dramatic work Who gets the credit and the licensing rights What rights do the performers of the work have Given the nature of theatre as a medium reliant on the re use of prior existing works tropes themes and plots what happens if an allegation of copyright infringement is made against a playwright Furthermore who possesses moral rights over the work To evaluate these questions in the context of theatre the first part of the book examines the history of the dramatic work both as text and as performative work The second part explores the notions of authorship and joint authorship under copyright law as they apply to the actual process of creating plays referring to legal and theatrical literature as well as empirical research The third part looks at the notion of copyright infringement in the context of theatre noting that cases of alleged theatrical infringement reach the courts comparatively rarely in comparison with music cases and assessing the reasons for this with respect to empirical research The fourth part examines the way moral rights of attribution and integrity work in the context of theatre The book concludes with a prescriptive comment on how law should respond to the challenges provided by the theatrical context and how theatre should respond to law Very original and innovative this book proposes a ground breaking empirical approach to study the implications of copyright law in society and makes a wonderful case for the need to consider the reciprocal influence between law and practice

Purcell, 2019-12-04 Theatre has long been considered a feminine interest for which women consistently purchase the majority of tickets while the shows they are seeing typically are written and brought to the stage by men. Furthermore, the stories these productions tell are often about men and the complex leading roles in these shows are written for and performed by male actors. Despite this imbalance, the feminist voice presses to be heard and has done so with more success than ever before. In From Aphra Behn to Fun Home: A Cultural History of Feminist Theatre, Carey Purcell traces the evolution of these important artists and productions over several centuries. After examining the roots of feminist theatre in early Greek plays and looking at occasional works produced before the twentieth century, Purcell then identifies the key players and productions that have emerged over the last several decades. This book covers the heyday of the second wave feminist movement, which saw the growth of female-centric theatre groups and highlights the work of playwrights such as Caryl Churchill, Pam Gems, and Wendy Wasserstein. Other prominent artists discussed here include playwrights Paula Vogel, Lynn and Tony Award-winning directors Garry Hynes and Julie Taymor. The volume also examines diversity in contemporary feminist theatre with discussions of such playwrights as Young Jean Lee and Lynn Nottage and a look toward the future. Purcell explores the very nature of feminist theatre: does it qualify if a play is written by a woman or does it just need to feature strong female characters, as well as how notable activist work for feminism has played a pivotal role in theatre. An engaging survey of female artists on stage and behind the scenes, From Aphra Behn to Fun Home will be of interest to theatregoers and anyone interested in the invaluable contributions of women in the performing arts.

The Architecture of Story Will Dunne, 2016-04-08 Together with The Dramatic Writer's Companion, Dunne's The Architecture of Story is part of the most thorough course in playwriting available in print. Art Borreca, head of Dramaturgy Program and co-head of Playwrights Workshop at the University of Iowa, notes that while successful plays tend to share certain storytelling elements, there is no single blueprint for how a play should be constructed. Instead, seasoned playwrights know how to select the right elements for their needs and organize them in a structure that best supports their particular story. Through his workshops and book The Dramatic Writer's Companion, Will Dunne has helped thousands of writers develop successful scripts. Now in The Architecture of Story, he helps writers master the building blocks of dramatic storytelling by analyzing a trio of award-winning contemporary American plays: Doubt, A Parable by John Patrick Shanley, Topdog/Underdog by Suzan-Lori Parks, and The Clean House by Sarah Ruhl. Dismantling the stories and examining key components from a technical perspective enables writers to approach their own work with an informed understanding of dramatic architecture. Each self-contained chapter focuses on one storytelling component, ranging from Title and Main Event to Emotional Environment and Crisis Decision. Dunne explores each component in detail, demonstrating how it has been successfully handled in each play and comparing and contrasting techniques. The chapters conclude with questions to help writers evaluate and improve their own scripts. The result is a nonlinear reference guide that lets writers work at their own pace and choose the topics that interest them as they develop new scripts This flexible interactive structure is designed to meet the needs of writers at all stages of writing and at all levels of experience Picturing the Social Landscape Caroline Knowles, Paul Sweetman, 2004-08-02 In this collection international experts explain how they have used visual methods in their own research examine their advantages and limitations and show how they have been used alongside other research techniques
