Second-class Citizen Buchi Emecheta, 1994 Adah a woman from the Ibo tribe moves to England to live with her Nigerian student husband She soon discovers that life for a young Nigerian woman living in London in the 1960s is grim Rejected by British society and thwarted by her husband who expects her to be subservient to him she is forced to face up to life as a second class citizen Back cover

The Cambridge Introduction to Modern British Fiction, 1950-2000 Dominic Head, 2002-03-07 In this introduction to post war fiction in Britain Dominic Head shows how the novel yields a special insight into the important areas of social and cultural history in the second half of the twentieth century Head s study is the most exhaustive survey of post war British fiction available It includes chapters on the state and the novel class and social change gender and sexual identity national identity and multiculturalism Throughout Head places novels in their social and historical context He highlights the emergence and prominence of particular genres and links these developments to the wider cultural context He also provides provocative readings of important individual novelists particularly those who remain staple reference points in the study of the subject Accessible wide ranging and designed specifically for use on courses this is the most current introduction to the subject available An invaluable resource for students and teachers alike Ink and Exile Abhishek Bhardwaj, Dr. Madhumita Gupta, Dr. Sanobar Haider and Dr. Shweta Mishra, Displacement, Belonging, and Migrant Agency in the Face of Power Tamar Mayer, Trinh Tran, 2022-06-29 This book centres the voices and agency of migrants by refocusing attention on the diversity and complexity of human mobility when seen from the perspective of people on the move in doing so the volume disrupts the binary logics of migrant refugee push pull and places of origin destination that have informed the bulk of migration research Drawn from a range of disciplines and methodologies this anthology links disparate theories approaches and geographical foci to better understand the spectrum of the migratory experience from the viewpoint of migrants themselves The book explores the causes and consequences of human displacement at different scales both individual and community level and across different time points from antiquity to the present and geographies not just the Global North but also the Global South Transnational scholars across a range of knowledge cultures advance a broader global discourse on mobility and migration that centres on the direct experiences and narratives of migrants themselves Both interdisciplinary and accessible this book will be useful for scholars and students in Migration Studies Global Studies Sociology Geography and Anthropology Nation and Citizenship in the Twentieth-Century British Novel Janice Ho, 2018-03-01 Nation and Citizenship in the Twentieth Century British Novel charts how novelists imagined changing forms of citizenship in twentieth century Britain This study offers a new way of understanding the constitution of the nation state in terms of the concept of citizenship Through close readings it reveals how major authors such as E M Forster Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Sam Selvon Buchi Emecheta Salman Rushdie and Monica Ali presented political struggles over citizenship during key historical moments the advent of democracy the emancipation of women the rise of social welfare provision the institution of the security state during World War II and the emergence of multicultural citizenship during postwar immigration This serves as the first full length monograph to map the interrelations between literary production and public debates about citizenship that shaped Britain in the twentieth century Black British Women's Writing in the 1970s and Beyond Camille S. Alexander, 2024-01-23 Black British writing in the decades after the Windrush generation was marked by a significant change more immigrant women were published in the UK in these decades than ever before This book is a collection of essays examining the texts of some of these women writers Included are essays on Black British women writers such as Warshan Shire Eintou Pearl Springer Beryl Gilroy Buchi Emecheta and Barbara Jenkins which span the literary period from the 1970s to the early 2000s The essays in this collection propose that these women writers represent the voices of another subgenre of Black British writing and they are connected through immigration or temporary migration to the UK Yet they also remain firmly attached to their geographical and cultural origins The essays included in this collection explore what it means to be a Black British woman writer and how members of this group were able to conceptualise home in their fiction

Gender and Displacement Natalie Edwards, Christopher Hogarth, 2009-10-02 Home is a contested notion in contemporary literary and cultural studies as critics assess the impact of empire independence migration and globalization upon colonial and postcolonial subjects This volume assembles articles on the representation of home specifically in women's autobiography which is now one of the most exciting and productive fields of literary studies The chapters analyze writing from diverse areas of the Francophone world including North Africa Sub Saharan Africa the Caribbean and Indo China in addition to focussing on works by immigrant writers in France The volume investigates the importance and the nuances of the construction of home in narratives of female identity in different contexts This timely book includes original analyses by a range of scholars and studies both established writers such as Maryse Condé Marguerite Duras and Marie Cardinal and newer voices such as Fatou Diome Fa za Gu ne and H l ne Grimaud Gender and Displacement The Representation of Home in Francophone Women's Autobiography thus brings new understandings to the connections between race gender colonization and migration in female identity in diverse spaces

Domestic Intersections in Contemporary Migration Fiction Lucinda Newns, 2020-01-07 Homing the Metropole presents a new approach to diasporic fiction that reorients postcolonial readings of migration away from processes of displacement and rupture towards those of placement and homemaking While notions of home have frequently been associated with essentialist understandings of nation and race an uncritical investment in tropes of homelessness can prove equally hegemonic By synthesising postcolonial and intersectional feminist theory this work establishes the migrant domestic space as a central location of resistance countering notions of the private sphere as static uncreative and apolitical Through close readings of fiction emerging from the African Caribbean and South Asian diasporas it reassesses our conception of home in light of contemporary realities of globalisation and forced migration providing a valuable critique of the celebration of unfixed subject positions that has been a central tenet of postcolonial studies

Encyclopedia of Feminist Theories Lorraine Code, 2002-06-01 The path breaking Encyclopedia of Feminist Theories is an accessible multidisciplinary insight into the complex field of feminist thought The Encyclopedia contains over 500 authoritative entries commissioned from an international team of contributors and includes clear concise and provocative explanations of key themes and ideas Each entry contains cross references and a bibliographic guide to further reading over 50 biographical entries provide readers with a sense of how the theories they encounter have developed out of the lives and situations of their authors

Encyclopedia of the Literature of Empire Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2010 Examines the world s greatest literature about empires and imperialism including more than 200 entries on writers classic works themes and concepts

Staging Women's Lives in Academia Michelle A. Massé, Nan Bauer-Maglin, 2017-01-12 Argues that institutional change must accommodate women s professional and personal life stages Staging Women s Lives in Academia demonstrates how ostensibly personal decisions are shaped by institutions and advocates for ways that workplaces not women must be changed Addressing life stages ranging from graduate school through retirement these essays represent a gamut of institutions and women who draw upon both personal experience and scholarly expertise The contributors contemplate the slipperiness of the very categories we construct to explain the stages of life and ask key questions such as what does it mean to be a graduate student at fifty Or a full professor at thirty five The book explores the ways women in all stages of academia feel that they are always too young or too old too attentive to work or too overly focused on family By including the voices of those who leave as well as those who stay this collection signals the need to rebuild the house of academia so that women can have not only classrooms of their own but also lives of their own

Ecofeminist Perspectives from African Women Creative Writers Enna Sukutai Gudhlanga, Musa Wenkosi Dube, Limakatso E. Pepenene, 2024-02-23 This volume explores contemporary African women s creative writing highlighting their contributions to ecofeminist theology Contributors address the following questions How do contemporary African women writers depict the Earth land environment and its relationship to women in various contexts How is religion featured in African women s writing How does religious literature scriptures form an intertextual layer in African women s writing The contributors proceed by analyzing the intersection of religion gender class sexuality colonialism and ecology in selected texts written by African women They bring these texts into conversation with broader eco feminist theological scholarship exploring the potential of literary writing to contribute to theological discourse of liberation and social justice in the African and global arena

From Cape Town to Kabul Penelope Andrews, 2016-04-15 Using her experience of living under apartheid and witnessing its downfall and the subsequent creation of new governments in South Africa the author examines and compares gender inequality in societies undergoing political and economic transformation By applying this process of legal transformation as a paradigm the author applies this model to Afghanistan These two societies serve as counterpoints through which the book engages in a nuanced and novel way with the many broader issues that flow from the attempts in newly democratic societies to give effect to the promise of gender equality Developing the idea of conditional interdependence the book suggests a new approach based on the communitarian values which underpin newly democratic societies and would allow women s rights to gain momentum and reap greater benefits Broad in its thematic approach the book generates challenging and complex questions about the achievement of gender equality It will be of interest to academics interested in gender and human rights international and comparative law

Race and Higher Education Annie Howell, Frank Tuitt, 2003-01-01 The contributors to Race and Higher Education guide educators toward an understanding of how changes in the student population call for new approaches to classroom instruction and address the need for new pedagogical practices in increasingly diverse college classrooms Over the last few decades U S colleges and universities have witnessed increasing diversity in their student bodies Yet faculty members operating on the notion that one pedagogy fits all students continue to employ traditional modes of instruction This adherence to outdated pedagogies has created potentially harmful learning environments for all students and particularly for students of color Race and Higher Education addresses this persistent problem guiding educators toward a better understanding of how changes in the student population have resulted in the need for new approaches to classroom instruction By including voices from inside classrooms along with analyses from scholarly researchers this volume provides college and university teachers administrators students and scholars with a critical instrument for improving higher education

Routledge Library Editions: Curriculum Various, 2021-07-09 Reissuing works originally published between 1971 and 1994 this collection includes books which offer a broad spectrum of views on curriculum both within individual schools and the wider issues around curriculum development reform and implementation Some cover the debate surrounding the establishment of the national curriculum in the UK while others are more international in scope Many of these books go beyond theory to discuss practical issues of real curriculum changes at primary or secondary level The Set includes books on cross curricular topics such as citizenship and environment and also guidance careers life skills and pastoral care in schools A fantastic collection of education history with much still relevant today

Silence and Silencing in Selected African Novels Oumar Chérif Diop, 2025-09-04 Through literary analysis this book examines how African writers address silence and oppression in novels and poetry Silence and Silencing in Selected African Novels Power Dynamics and Transformative Voices by Oumar Chérif Diop explores representations of rhetorical sociocultural and gendered silence and silencing within selected African literature He examines how African writers deconstruct normative discourses and use aesthetic forms and narrative techniques to confront silencing systems Within these literary works characters express their thoughts emotions fears anxieties and protest through their silence Through textual analysis Diop explores the spaces where silence and silencing occur and how they highlight power dynamics and enforce oppressive structures These texts also reveal the transformative potential of silence to illustrate the resilience of marginalized characters and their inspiring struggle against the censoring mechanisms of repressive institutions Breaking the silence becomes an act of reclaiming agency and challenging oppressive forces Diop shows how the importance of voice in the struggle for justice and the potential for individual actions inspires broader movements for change Eccentric Propositions Jane Miller, 2018-10-03 Originally published in 1984 This book charts important changes brought about by teachers in the way literature is read and written about in schools Rooted in experiences of inner city schools it is extremely practical and especially valuable for the multi ethnic classroom The writers all of whom are experienced teachers of English believe however that all schools need to respond to the cultural racial and linguistic diversity of British society whether their own populations are homogeneous or mixed By concentrating on real classrooms real lessons and real children the book shows how particular ideas can be put into practice It approaches theories of reading and of literature through specific examples of lively and successful practice and argues the case for the centrality of literature and literacy to the curriculum The book includes lists of resources books to read with children and books for teachers to read for themselves to deepen their understanding of the ideas and their confidence in adapting them for their own classrooms Throughout the book continuities are emphasized between life and literature between reading and writing and between learning to read becoming better at it and studying literature Encyclopedia of Feminist Literature Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2015-04-22 Presents articles on feminist literature including significant authors themes and history

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers
