Developing Language and Literacy in English across the Secondary School Curriculum Urszula Clark, 2018-07-21 This book draws on original research and a language based pedagogy approach to examine how secondary schools in the UK can devise and implement coherent language and literacy across curriculum policies and strategies so that grammar and associated metalanguage becomes an integral part of their day to day curriculum practices The research was undertaken in three 11 to 18 secondary schools in England where the majority of students are categorised as having English as a second language EAL and where a significant minority are also socially disadvantaged in two of the three The author argues that paying explicit attention to the linguistic structures through which subject knowledge is realised can be of benefit to all pupils in ways that are also socially just and democratic This book provides an important bridge between academic theory and educational practice that will appeal to applied linguists and sociolinguists as well as to teachers teacher trainers and practitioners

Knowledge, Policy and Practice in Teacher Education
Maria Teresa Tatto, Ian Menter, 2019-02-21

Knowledge Policy and Practice in Teacher Education reviews the evolution of education policy on initial teacher education as an indicator of the knowledge that is considered important for nation building. It also looks at research on approaches and structures to initial teacher learning as an indication of the intellectual and moral direction to which schooling must aspire. Contributors look at these dynamics across a range of societies including Australia, the Czech Republic, England, Finland, Hong Kong, Israel, Italy, Japan, South Korea, Mexico, Russia, and the USA. Using a review of the literature approach within a comparative framework, the book seeks to answer the following questions for each country: What has been the evolution of different approaches to learning to teach in each setting and what factors have influenced change over the years? What are the underlying theories that characterize past and current thinking about the knowledge, skills, and dispositions needed by teachers and what evidence is used to support these theories? What does a review on the state of the knowledge about teacher education over the past 30 years reveal about the evolution of the research and knowledge traditions that have supported current and past innovations in teacher education? Maria Teresa Tatto and Ian Menter explore international variability in different conceptions of knowledge in the context of learning to teach and explore the way in which national and international influences interact in the developing trajectories of teacher education policy and practice, considering what knowledge is considered important for teachers to have.
