The Qur'an in the Malay-Indonesian World Majid Daneshgar, Peter G. Riddell, Andrew Rippin, 2016-06-10 The largely Arabo centric approach to the academic study of tafsir has resulted in a lack of literature exploring the diversity of Qur'anic interpretation in other areas of the Muslim majority world The essays in The Qur'an in the Malay Indonesian World resolve this aiming to expand our knowledge of tafsir and its history in the Malay Indonesian world Highlighting the scope of Qur'anic interpretation in the Malay world in its various vernaculars it also contextualizes this work to reveal its place as part of the wider Islamic world especially through its connections to the Arab world and demonstrates the strength of these connections The volume is divided into three parts written primarily by scholars from Malaysia and Indonesia Beginning with a historical overview it then moves into chapters with a more specifically regional focus to conclude with a thematic approach by looking at topics of some controversy in the broader world Presenting new examinations of an under researched topic this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Islamic studies and Southeast Asian studies

Islamic Education in Indonesia and Malaysia Azmil Tayeb, 2018-03-13 Despite their close geographic and cultural ties Indonesia and Malaysia have dramatically different Islamic education with that in Indonesia being relatively decentralized and discursively diverse while that in Malaysia is centralized and discursively restricted The book explores the nature of the Islamic education systems in Indonesia and Malaysia and the different approaches taken by these states in managing these systems The book argues that the post colonial state in Malaysia has been more successful in centralising its control over Islamic education and more concerned with promoting a restrictive orthodoxy compared to the post colonial state in Indonesia This is due to three factors the ideological makeup of the state institutions that oversee Islamic education patterns of societal Islamisation that have prompted different responses from the states and control of resources by the central government that influences centre periphery relations Informed by the theoretical works of state in society relations and historical institutionalism this book shows that the three aforementioned factors can help a state to minimize influence from the society and exert its dominance in this case by centralising control over Islamic education Specifically they help us understand the markedly different landscapes of Islamic education in Malaysia and Indonesia It will be of interest to academics in the field of Southeast Asian Studies Asian Education and Comparative Education
