

Shell Darina Grease R 2

Shell Darina Grease R 2, based on an inorganic non-soap thickener and a specially selected base oil, will provide satisfactory lubrication beyond the temperature limitations of lithium based greases.

The base oil component in Shell Darina Grease R 2 is a high quality, solvent refined, high viscosity mineral oil with excellent oxidation and evaporation resistance. Oxidation stability is also improved by the addition of a special high temperature oxidation inhibitor.

Applications

Recommended for use in bearings operating in the temperature range 150°C to 250°C.

Shell Darina Grease R 2 gives good service in many applications where improved oxidation or evaporation resistance would otherwise be required.

This special high viscosity base oil in Shell Darina Grease R 2 makes it particularly suitable for grease lubrication of heavily loaded slow speed bearings.

When used in Shell Darina Grease R 2 may be used at temperatures as high as 250°C, but only so long as the lubrication point is suitably protected.

Operating Temperature

A service lifetime of many high temperature greases is the fact of rapid oxidative soap thickener. It can result in high temperatures destroying the grease structure - greatly reducing the oxidation and lubrication properties. The special inorganic soap thickener contained in Shell Darina Grease R 2 is then free from melting oxidation. It controls the evaporation and oxidation stability of the base oil and helps to extend grease life and equipment working temperature.

Sealing

Shell Darina Grease R 2 does not melt the most common greases and hence, its consistency changes only marginally with increasing temperatures. In bearings operating at high temperatures it resists softening and seeps. In gears providing good sealing and continuous lubrication even in the presence of vibration.

Re-lubrication

Grease life can be considerably greater, lubrication in applications where with bearing, operating under normally identical conditions.

Changes such as an 80% oil loss require that there is considerable effort to adjust to the most commonly accepted parameters of load, speed and temperature.

Re-lubrication is likely to be required significantly for most bearings (continuous).

Recommendations should be based on a trial run and modified, where necessary, to the light of service experience.

Sealing (Sealing)

Provision for sealing (Sealing) should be designed to allow for complete greasing during the installation. Intermittently, the bearing should be protected for periods varying over considerable replacement of the grease charge.
