Affairs Leadership Linda Kuk,James H. Banning,2016 Kuk and Banning offer readers a new lens for viewing leadership one that goes beyond a focus on the behavior and values of leaders as individuals to examine how positional leaders interact with their environments to engage in leadership in context This book is addressed to aspiring and senior student affairs officers and offers a new ecological framework that recognizes that today s leaders are affected by factors they may not control and work within an environment they cannot expect to mold solely through their execution of skills and strategies Based on research supported through a grant from the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators NASPA Foundation this book explores leadership as an interactive process within varied environmental contexts and through an analysis of the transactional process between the leader the organizational members and the various components of the organizations environment It describes how leaders deploy differing competencies skills and strategies in varied contexts and how they choose to use past experiences their training and personal characteristics to set priorities and navigate the cultural social physical legal and political resource and ethical environments of their organizations Several chapters conclude with an account of how the experiences of the SSAO participants in the research informed their practice of leadership and understanding of how leadership actually works Positioning Student Affairs for Sustainable Change Linda

Kuk,James H. Banning,Marilyn J. Amey,2010 At a time of increasing student diversity concern about security demand for greater accountability and of economic difficulty what does the future hold for higher education and how can student affairs organizations adapt to the increasing and changing demands How can university leaders position existing resources to effectively address these and other emerging challenges with a sense of opportunity rather than dread How can organizations be redesigned to sustain change while achieving excellence As student affairs organizations have grown and become increasingly complex in order to meet new demands they have often emphasized the expansion of their missions to the detriment of focusing on understanding their roles in relationship to other units to reviewing their cultures and structures and to considering how they can improve their effectiveness as organizations This book provides the tools for organizational analysis and sustainability Intended for practitioners graduate students interns and student affairs leaders this book presents the key ideas and concepts from business oriented organizational behavior and change theories and demonstrates how they can be useful in and be applied to student affairs practice and in particular how readers can use these theories to sustain change and enhance their organization s ability to adapt to complex emerging challenges At the same time it holds to values and perspectives that support the human dimension of organizational life Recognizing the complexity of today s organizations and the value of viewing them from multiple perspectives this book follows the emerging practice of providing three general epistemological perspectives the Positivist Social Constructionist and Postmodernist for analyzing often paradoxical organizational structures environments and behavior The book explores the environmental context of student affairs and how the organization interacts with both the internal and external environments examines the human dimension of organizations through a review of individual attributes human need and motivation social comparison theory and organizational learning theory presents the dimensions of structure and design theory and discusses why student affairs organizations need to think differently about how they organize their resources considers the context and process of organizational change and the dynamics of decision making power conflict and communication addresses the role of assessment and evaluation and new forms of leadership Each chapter opens with a case study and closes with a set of reflective questions The authors have all served as practitioners within student affairs and now teach and advise graduate students and future leaders in the field Student Affairs Leadership Linda Kuk,James H. Banning,2015 Fostering Student Success in the Campus Community Gary L. Kramer,2007-11-09 This is an examination of the key issues not only on addressing changing student demographics and needs but also on aligning institutional and student expectations connecting student oriented services systemically and creating and delivering services for students to achieve success on campus

Journal of College Student Development ,2007 Primer for Research on the College Student Experience Dorothy S. Fidler,2001 How College Affects Students Ernest T. Pascarella,Patrick T. Terenzini,2005-02-07 The long awaited sequel to the landmark work first published in 1991 this volume continues the longitudinal study of how the college experience impacts on the lives of students in the US Promoting Student Success in the Community College Steven R. Helfgot,Marguerite McGann Culp,1995-05-25 Academy of Management Learning & Education ,2002 Resources in Education ,1997 Residence Life Programs and the First-year Experience William J. Zeller,Dorothy S. Fidler,Betsy Overman Barefoot,1996 Learning Initiatives in the Residential Setting Gene Luna,Jimmie Gahagan,2008 Creating Learning Communities Nancy S. Shapiro,1999-09-24 Creating Learning Communities is a guide to the essentials of this rewarding new program area including how to design fund staff manage and integrate learning communities into different campuses Drawing from their own experience as well as from experiences of campuses around the country Nancy S Shapiro and Jodi H Levine provide both a sound theoretical rationale and nuts and bolts advice on the logistical administrative financial and turf related issues of creating an effective learning community And perhaps most important they show how to ensure that such communities embody and fulfill the objectives for which they were established BOOK JACKET Applying Design Thinking to the Measurement of Experiential Learning Peck, Adam,DeSawal, Danielle,2021-06-25 In the field of student affairs many are rethinking the value of a wide variety of traditional aspects associated with the student experience Recent commentary has questioned whether students should attend college that has an all inclusive tuition focused primarily upon academic and support services Given the need for changes the COVID 19 pandemic has created it is imperative to question whether this kind of academic package is ideal for the future of higher education As issues surrounding the traditional aspects of the student experience continue to develop research has begun to focus on how student learning and awareness can be improved specifically within the principles of design thinking Applying Design Thinking to the Measurement of Experiential Learning is a forward thinking and innovative look at assessment and design conditions that promote student learning It proposes new models for education conditions for student learning and student learning assessment using design thinking and experiential learning These topics include adjustments to curriculum integrated learning environments student success and student affairs campus wide design thinking and testing assessments This book is valuable for senior leaders in the field of student affairs student affairs assessment professionals and faculty teaching in higher education programs practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how the principles of design thinking can be applied to higher education
