Readings in Advertising, Society, and Consumer

Culture Roxanne Hovland, Joyce M. Wolburg, Eric E. Haley, 2014-12-18 This collection of classic and contemporary articles provides context for the study of advertising by exploring the historical economic and ideological factors that spawned the development of a consumer culture It begins with articles that take an institutional and historical perspective to provide background for approaching the social and ethical concerns that evolve around advertising Subsequent sections then address the legal and economic consequences of life in a material culture the regulation of advertising in a culture that weighs free speech against the needs of society and the ethics of promoting materialism to consumers The concluding section includes links to a variety of resources such as trade association codes of ethics standards and guidelines for particular types of advertising and information about self regulatory organizations

Corpus Linguistics and the Analysis of Sociolinguistic Change Joan O'Sullivan, 2019-10-28 Corpus Linguistics and the Analysis of Sociolinguistic Change demonstrates how particular styles and varieties of language are chosen and represented in the media to reveal changing language ideologies and sociolinguistic change Drawing on a corpus of ads broadcast on an Irish radio station between 1977 and 2017 this book shows how corpus linguistic tools can be creatively employed in conjunction with frameworks and concepts such as audience and referee design and indexicality and examines how accents and dialects vernacular and prestige are exploited in the ads across the decades In addition this book illustrates the key principles of corpus design for sociolinguistics studies and offers a framework for future diachronic corpus studies of advertising on social media provides a model for analysing corpus data at both inter varietal and intra varietal levels in terms of both accent and dialectal features and explores the efficacy of using particular corpus linguistic tools identifies key factors which can be used by researchers as evidence for sociolinguistic change and links these factors to relevant theories and frameworks demonstrates how corpus tools can be used to compare advertising discourse with naturally occurring discourse with particular reference to markers of pseudo intimate discourse Building on the growing body of research relating to variation and change in Irish English this book is key reading for researchers and advanced students undertaking research within the areas of sociolinguistics and corpus linguistics

Advertising, Society, and Consumer Culture Roxanne Hovland, Joyce M. Wolburg, 2014-12-18 Designed as a core textbook for courses in Advertising and Society Advertising Society and Consumer Culture develops an integrated perspective that gives students a framework for understanding past present and future issues in advertising communications Chapter contents cover the entire range of social political cultural regulatory and economic issues that surround advertising and its role in modern society The many social issues addressed include advertising and gender stereotyping advertising to vulnerable audiences and the distribution of wealth in consumer society Advertising Society and Consumer Culture intertwines the development of the consumer culture with its coverage of the historical political regulatory and ethical issues of advertising It includes clear comprehensive tables that chronicle historical developments and key legal cases The text is readable for undergraduates but provides enough depth to serve as a graduate level text Including extensive notes and a bibliography it can be adopted independently or alongside its companion volume Readings in Advertising Society and Consumer Culture

Advertising and Chinese Society Hong Cheng, Kara K. W. Chan, 2009 This book examines the social psychological legal and ethical impact perceived or proven that may result from advertising in the booming Chinese market The book provides readers with an understanding of the two way relationship between advertising and Chinese society Major issues addressed include rising consumerism consumers attitudes towards advertising and reactions to advertising appeals cultural messages conveyed in advertisements gender representations sex appeal offensive advertising advertising law and regulation advertising to children and adolescents symbolic meanings of advertisements public service advertising and new media advertising and its social impact Advertising and Chinese Society resorts to a variety of research techniques including content analysis survey experiment semiotic analysis and secondary data analysis The book will enhance the sensitivity of scholars and practitioners interested in Chinese advertising and its social ramifications A Just Society Michael Boylan,2004-07-13 A Just Society represents a complete account of Boylan s original worldview theory of ethics and social philosophy The author sets out the foundation and application of the personal worldview imperative for ethics and the shared community worldview imperative for social philosophy These form the structure for a rights based deontological theory that is holistic and underscored by an understanding of the good will that incorporates novel depictions of the sincere and authentic agent who displays sympathy care openness and love In the end A Just Society strikes a balance between extreme liberalism libertarianism and those advocating the rule of the general will utilitarianism As such the book makes an important contribution to ethical and political theory as well as grounding an original approach to public philosophy Perspectives on Cross-Cultural, Ethnographic, Brand Image, Storytelling, Unconscious Needs, and Hospitality Guest Research Arch G. Woodside,Carol M. Megehee,Alfred Ogle,2009-12-21 Examines how research tools affect theory advances in culture and tourism research This title includes papers that focus on how to gain meaning from data to thus look at how streams of antecedent conditions result in tourism behavior Advertising, Gender and Society Magdalena Zawisza-Riley,2019-07-03 Advertising Gender and Society explores contemporary social psychological theory and original research that examines the portrayal of gender in advertising It reports empirical data discusses the social implications of gendered advertising and comments on the relevant 2019 ASA rules Zawisza Riley analyses theories such as stereotype content and elaboration likelihood models stereotype threat and ambivalent sexism theories the selectivity hypothesis as well as implicit and embodied cognition to illuminate the relationships between sex gender and advertising in cultural and social contexts The author thus examines the portrayal of gender in advertising its effectiveness and effect on audiences and the ways in which audiences marketers and policy makers can mitigate potential harm of gendered advertising She offers theory extension and novel application of existing theory and research to the subject of gender advertising Advertising Gender and Society is ideal for students academics and professionals in the fields of psychology gender and media studies as well as marketing advertising and policy making Anglistics in Lithuania Jonė Grigaliūnienė,Inesa Šeškauskienė,2013-11-01 This collection of papers offers diverse yet highly professional accounts of multiple cross linguistic and cross cultural aspects of

English studies in Lithuania It is valuable for the wide variety of empirical data presented for the insights into both English and Lithuanian which when studied individually sometimes cannot escape a narrower treatment Most of the essays in this volume deal with semantics pragmatics and grammar while others focus on phonetics and language pedagogy The collection is also notable for its use of various different methodologies including triple CL corpus linguistic cognitive linguistic and contrastive linguistic principles of investigation A particular strength of the book is its focus on the contrastive aspect of study Further many of the contributions included here have profound implications for both translation and teaching

Recruitment Advertising as an Instrument of Employer Branding Jolanta Łacka-Badura, 2015-10-05 The book offers a linguistic analysis of job advertising as an instrument of employer branding investigating how the creation of the employer brand and the projection of employee value proposition are realised linguistically in a corpus of online job advertisements The study is methodologically grounded in the current approaches to discourse analysis and business organisational communication as it is broadly understood with particular emphasis on genre and register analysis the language of persuasion and evaluation as well as the language of organisational values The analysis conducted in the book demonstrates that job advertisements constitute a distinct promotional business genre a member of the system of genres applied in the job search context increasingly resembling multi modal marketing type ads The rhetorical structure of online recruitment advertisements confirms the initial hypothesis that job ads contribute to the projection and reinforcement of employer brands The register of recruitment ads clearly harmonises with the employer branding function of the genre extremely positive encompassing a wide range of persuasive strategies as well as lexico grammatical choices contributing to the creation of employer brands job advertising may justifiably be classified as a paradigm case of persuasion With employer branding being deeply rooted in the values emanating from an organisation the use of linguistic structures communicating or implying the system of attributes and values declared by the employing organisations is a powerful employer branding strategy widely reflected in the corpus Taking into account the interdisciplinary character of the analysis the book will be of interest not only to linguists and business communication scholars but also to human resource management and public relations researchers and practitioners

Theories of the Information Society Frank Webster, 2014-03-21 Information is regarded as a distinguishing feature of our world Where once economies were built on industry and conquest we are now part of a global information economy Pervasive media expanding information occupations and the development of the internet convince many that living in an Information Society is the destiny of us all Coping in an era of information flows of virtual relationships and breakneck change poses challenges to one and all In Theories of the Information Society Frank Webster sets out to make sense of the information explosion taking a sceptical look at what thinkers mean when they refer to the Information Society and critically examining the major post war approaches to informational development The fourth edition of this classic study brings it up to date with new research and with social and technological changes from the Twitter Revolutions of North

Africa to financial crises that introduced the worst recession in a life time to the emergence of social media and blogging and reassesses the work of key theorists in the light of these changes More outspoken than in previous editions Webster urges abandonment of Information Society scenarios preferring analysis of the informatization of long established relationships This interdisciplinary book is essential reading for those trying to make sense of social and technological change in the post war era It addresses issues of central concern to students of sociology politics geography communications information science cultural studies computing and librarianship

Propaganda and Public Relations in Military Recruitment

Brendan Maartens, Thomas Bivins, 2020-11-19 This book represents the first international investigation of military recruitment advertising public relations and propaganda Comprised of eleven case studies that explore mobilisation work in Africa the Americas Asia and Europe it covers more than a hundred years of recent history with chapters on the First and Second World Wars the Cold War and the present day The book explores such promotion in countries both large and small and in times of both war and peace with readers gaining an insight into the different strategies and tactics used to motivate men women and occasionally even children to serve and fight in many parts of the world Readers will also learn about the crucial but little known role of commercial advertising public relations and media professionals in the production and distribution of recruitment promotion This book the first of its kind to be published will explore that role and in the process address two questions that are central to studies of media and conflict how do militaries encourage civilians to join up and are they successful in doing so It is a multi disciplinary project intended for a diverse academic audience including postgraduate students exploring aspects of war propaganda and public opinion and researchers working across the domains of history communications studies conflict studies psychology and philosophy

Ad Hoc Arabism: Advertising, Culture and Technology in Saudi Arabia Roni Zirinski, 2005 Ad Hoc Arabism is a revealing look at advertising and consumer culture in Saudi Arabia Through careful study of the marketing strategies and hidden meanings behind the advertisements featured in a leading Saudi women s magazine Roni Zirinski examines the process whereby international advertisers strip products of any cultural overlay and then reattach them to local historical symbols Each chapter is devoted to a specific family of products such as watches cars food items cosmetics and electronics This book provides an invaluable exploration of the inner workings of global advertising through a deep understanding of the cultural economics of the Middle East

Advertising and Societies Katherine Toland Frith, Barbara Mueller, 2010 Now in its second edition Advertising and Societies Global Issues provides an international perspective on the practice of advertising while examining some of the ethical and social ramifications of advertising in global societies The book illustrates how issues such as the representation of women and minorities in ads advertising and children and advertising in the digital era have relevance to a wider global community This new edition has been updated to reflect the dramatic changes impacting the field of advertising that have taken place since publication of the first edition The growing importance of emerging markets is discussed and new photos are included The book provides students and scholars with a comprehensive review of the literature on advertising and society and uses practical examples from international media to document how global advertising and global consumer culture operate making it an indispensable research tool and invaluable for classroom use Advertising and New Media

Christina Spurgeon, 2007-10-31 Clear and comprehensive this book explores the evolving relationship between new media advertising and new media consumers Tracing the shift from mass media to my media examples are taken from across the globe
