Aesthetics, Arts, and Politics in a Global World Daniel Herwitz, 2017-01-26 A different set of purposes define culture today than those that preoccupied the world in the immediate decades of decolonization Focusing on art and music in diverse parts of the world Daniel Herwitz explores a world that has largely shifted from the earlier days of nationalism decolonization and cultural exclusion to one of global markets and networks Using examples from India and Mexico to South Africa Australia and China Herwitz argues that the cultural politics and art being produced in these places are now post postcolonial Where the postcolonial downplayed formerly Eurocentric forms and celebrated art with national consciousness the rules for 21st century cultural authenticity are quickly disappearing Young people think of themselves in relation to global culture rather than nation building the project of producing a new and modern art for the incipient and rising postcolonial nation is out of date By examining the shift in which art accesses the past and the rise of trends such as hitching consumer culture to celebrity forms and branding Herwitz's original and engaging exploration of contemporary art captures the ways in which art has given way to a new form of production altering everything from the role of tradition and heritage in contemporary art to the terms of its vision and circulation traditional aesthetics claims as a key characteristic of art makes little sense when making performances with ordinary people rooted in their lives and communities and with personal and social change as its aim Yet practitioners of applied arts know that their work is not reducible to social work therapy or education Reconciling the simultaneous autonomy and heteronomy of art is the problem of aesthetics in applied arts Gareth White's introductory essay reviews the field and proposes an interdisciplinary approach that builds on new developments in evolutionary cognitive and neuro aesthetics alongside the politics of art It addresses the complexities of art and the aesthetic as everyday behaviours and responses The second part of the book is made up of essays from leading experts and new voices in the practice and theory of applied performance reflecting on the key problematics of applying performance with non performers New and innovative practice is described and interrogated and fresh thinking is introduced in response to perennial problems

The Palgrave Handbook of Artistic and Cultural Responses to War since 1914 Martin Kerby, Margaret Baguley, Janet McDonald, 2018-12-05 This handbook explores a diverse range of artistic and cultural responses to modern conflict from Mons in the First World War to Kabul in the twenty first century With over thirty chapters from an international range of contributors ranging from the UK to the US and Australia and working across history art literature and media it offers a significant interdisciplinary contribution to the study of modern war and our artistic and cultural responses to it The handbook is divided into three parts The first part explores how communities and individuals responded to loss and grief by using art and culture to assimilate the experience as an act of survival and resilience The second part explores how conflict exerts a powerful influence on the expression and formation of both individual group racial cultural and national identities and the role played by art literature and education in this process The third part moves beyond the actual experience of conflict and its connection with issues of identity to explore how individuals and society have made use of art and culture to commemorate the war In this way it offers a unique breadth of vision and perspective to explore how conflicts have been both represented and remembered since the early twentieth century

Architecture in Black Darell Wayne Fields, 2015-03-12 Based on analysis of historical philosophical and semiotic texts Architecture in Black presents a systematic examination of the theoretical relationship between architecture and blackness Now updated this original study draws on a wider range of case studies highlighting the racial techniques that can legitimize modern historicity philosophy and architectural theory Arguing that architecture as an aesthetic practice and blackness as a linguistic practice operate within the same semiotic paradigm Darell Fields employs a technique whereby works are related through the repetition and revision of their semiotic structures Fields reconstructs the genealogy of a black racial subject represented by the simultaneous reading of a range of canonical texts from Hegel to Saussure to Henry Louis Gates Jr Combining an historical survey of racial discourse with new readings resulting from advanced semiotic techniques doubling as spatial arrangements Architecture in Black is an important contribution to studies of the racial in Western thought and its impact on architecture space and time

On Slowness Lutz Koepnick, 2014-10-07 Speed is an obvious facet of contemporary society whereas slowness has often been dismissed as conservative and antimodern Challenging a long tradition of thought Lutz Koepnick instead proposes to understand slowness as a strategy of the contemporary a decidedly modern practice that gazes firmly at and into the present s velocity As he engages with late twentieth and early twenty first century art photography video film and literature Koepnick explores slowness as a critical medium to intensify our temporal and spatial experiences Slowness helps us register the multiple layers of time history and motion that constitute our present It offers a timely and untimely mode of aesthetic perception and representation that emphasizes the openness of the future and undermines any conception of the present as a mere replay of the past Discussing the photography and art of Janet Cardiff Olafur Eliasson Hiroshi Sugimoto and Michael Wesely the films of Peter Weir and Tom Tykwer the video installations of Douglas Gordon Willie Doherty and Bill Viola and the fiction of Don DeLillo Koepnick shows how slowness can carve out spaces within processes of acceleration that allow us to reflect on alternate temporalities and durations
