African American Cultural Background Paper:

International Educational, Cultural and Related Activities for African Countries South of the Sahara United States. Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, 1961 To Know Our Many Selves Dirk Hoerder, 2010 To Know Our Many Selves profiles the history of Canadian studies which began as early as the 1840s with the Study of Canada Indiscussing this comprehensive examination of culture Hoerder highlights its unique interdisciplinary approach which included both sociological and political angles Years later as the study of other ethnicities was added to the cultural story of Canada a solid foundation was formed for the nation's master narrative Against this background To Know Our Many Selves focuses on why Canadian studies can be used as a sound model for the study of other societies in a framework of transcultural societal studies

International Educational, Cultural and Related Activities for African Countries South of the Sahara United States. Department of State, 1961 Encyclopedia of African American History, 1896 to the Present Paul Finkelman, 2009 Alphabetically arranged entries from A to C that explores significant events major persons organizations and political and social movements in African American history from 1896 to the twenty first century Resources in Education, 1999

Black Feminist Anthropology Irma McClaurin, 2001 In the discipline's early days anthropologists by definition were assumed to be white and male Women and black scholars were relegated to the field's periphery From this marginal place white feminist anthropologists have successfully carved out an acknowledged intellectual space identified as feminist anthropology Unfortunately the works of black and non western feminist anthropologists are rarely cited and they have yet to be respected as significant shapers of the direction and transformation of feminist anthropology In this volume Irma McClaurin has collected for the first time essays that explore the role and contributions of black feminist anthropologists She has asked her contributors to disclose how their experiences as black women have influenced their anthropological practice in Africa the Caribbean and the United States and how anthropology has influenced their development as black feminists Every chapter is a unique journey that enables the reader to see how scholars are made The writers present material from their own fieldwork to demonstrate how these experiences were shaped by their identities Finally each essay suggests how the author's field experiences have influenced the theoretical and methodological choices she has made throughout her career Not since Diane Wolf's Feminist Dilemmas in the Field or Hortense Powdermaker's Stranger and Friend have we had such a breadth of women anthropologists discussing the critical and personal issues that emerge when doing ethnographic research

A Cultural History of Objects in the Modern Age Laurie Wilkie, John Chenoweth, 2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Objects in the Modern Age covers the period 1900 to today a time marked by massive global changes in production transportation and information sharing in a post colonial world New materials and inventions from plastics to the digital to biotechnology have created unprecedented scales of disruption shifting and blurring the categories and meanings of the object If the 20th century demonstrated that humans can be treated like things whilst things can become ever more human where will the 21st century take us The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Objects examines how objects have been created used interpreted and set loose in the world over the last 2500 years Over this time the West has developed particular attitudes to the material world at the centre of which is the idea of the object The themes covered in each volume are objecthood technology economic objects everyday objects art architecture bodily objects object worlds Laurie A Wilkie is Professor at the University of California Berkeley USA John M Chenoweth is Associate Professor at the University of Michigan Dearborn USA Volume 6 in the Cultural History of Objects set General Editors Dan Hicks and William Whyte

Education of blacks in african-american autobiographies Benjamin Gust,2007-06-24 Seminar paper from the year 2005 in the subject American Studies Literature University of Hannover language English abstract When reading African American autobiography one is likely to notices that there are several recurring themes One might conclude that these are issues of special interest to the authors A major topic that occurs in a number of autobiographies is that of education This paper will try to analyze the role of education in the process of the emancipation of the black race Before one looks at what can be found about the issue of education of blacks in African American autobiography one should be familiar with the historical and cultural context in which it occurs This is why the paper will try to provide a brief historical overview of the development of education in America at the times before during and after the civil war After having established the historical background the paper will try to trace the occurrences of the theme of education in the autobiography of Booker T Washington and the thesis The Talented Tenth by W E B Du Bois and illustrate its importance to the authors In doing so an attempt will be made to present the reasons and intentions of the authors that made them deal with education during their lives Special attention will be paid to the efforts of Booker T Washington to establish a schooling system for blacks as well as to Du Bois concept of the Talented Tenth and its reasons Although both were actively sought to improve the education of African Americans and thereby their social status they did not share the same concepts of how this were to be achieved and they pursued different educational policies The two approaches will be analyzed and compared to each other Finally a conclusion will be drawn assessing the importance of their achievements in the ongoing fight of African Americans for equal rights and equal chances
