Unseen City Nathanael Johnson, 2016-04-05 It all started with Nathanael Johnson's decision to teach his daughter the name of every tree they passed on their walk to day care in San Francisco This project turned into a quest to discover the secrets of the neighborhood's flora and fauna and yielded more than names and trivia Johnson developed a relationship with his nonhuman neighbors Johnson argues that learning to see the world afresh like a child shifts the way we think about nature Instead of something distant and abstract nature becomes real all at once comical annoying and beautiful This shift can add tremendous value to our lives and it might just be the first step in saving the world No matter where we live city country oceanside or mountains there are wonders that we walk past every day Unseen City widens the pinhole of our perspective by allowing us to view the world from the high altitude eyes of a turkey vulture and the distinctly low altitude eyes of a snail The narrative allows us to eavesdrop on the comically frenetic life of a squirrel and peer deep into the past with a ginkgo biloba tree Each of these organisms has something unique to tell us about our neighborhoods and chapter by chapter Unseen City takes us on a journey that is part nature lesson and part love letter to the world's urban jungles With the right perspective a walk to the subway can be every bit as entrancing as a walk through a national park

Modern Chinese Foodways Jia-Chen Fu,Michelle T. King,Jakob A. Klein,2025-03-04 An edited collection that explores the multifaceted experiences of Chinese culinary modernity both within and outside of mainland China from the mid 19th century to present Modern Chinese Foodways defines some of the major processes by which Chinese food and foodways have become modern with a focus on the period from the mid nineteenth to the twenty first century The editors Jia Chen Fu Michelle T King and Jakob A Klein highlight four prominent areas of change commodification of food production the scientization of expertise and the development of new food technologies the creation of new culinary identities based on gender ethnicity and nation and the circuits of migration taking place since the nineteenth century This collection argues that Chinese food and foodways are very much modern not a given in the face of the chorus of voices that insists on emphasizing its ancient roots in ways that both recall the experiences of other cultures as well as in ways unique to China s own historical trajectory The book combines incisive original scholarship by thirteen leading voices in the field with editorial essays on the past and future of Chinese food studies to frame the field of inquiry for the next generation of Chinese food studies scholars Demonstrating the significance of modern Chinese foodways to the phenomenon of culinary modernity writ large which is still largely shaped by Euro American perspectives and priorities Modern Chinese Foodways is the first book of its kind

The Coloniality of Modern Taste Zilkia Janer, 2022-12-30 This book analyzes the coloniality of the concept of taste that gastronomy constructed and normalized as modern It shows how gastronomy s engagement with rationalist and aesthetic thought and with colonial and capitalist structures led to the desensualization bureaucratization and racialization of its conceptualization of taste The Coloniality of Modern Taste provides an understanding of gastronomy that moves away from the usual celebratory approach Through a discussion of nineteenth century gastronomic publications this book illustrates how the gastronomic notion of taste was shaped by a number of specifically modern constraints It compares the gastronomic approach to taste to conceptualizations of taste that emerged in other geographical and philosophical contexts to illustrate that the gastronomic approach stands out as particularly bereft of affect The book argues that the understanding of taste constructed by gastronomic texts continues to burden the affective experience of taste while encouraging patterns of food consumption that rely on an exploitative and unsustainable global food system This book will appeal to students and scholars interested in cultural studies decoloniality affect theory sensory studies gastronomy and food studies
