Contemporary Spanish American Novels by Women Susan Carvalho, 2007 A reading of contemporary women's fiction in Spanish America in which space rather than time is seen as the driver of the narrative Space is critical to imaginative writing As English novelist Elizabeth Bowen has observed nothing can happen nowhere This book offers an interdisciplinary framework for reading novels and in particular women's fiction in Spanish America with a focus on geotopon space rather than time as the narrative engine Following the work of Lefebvre and Friedman the author examines recent works by Spanish America's most visible women novelists Angeles Mastretta Mexico Isabel Allende Chile Rosario Ferré Puerto Rico Sara Sefchovich Mexico and Laura Restrepo Colombia and the ways in which their female protagonists challenge the spatial barriers erected by capitalist hegemony Margins borders liminal spaces the chora space and the body are emphasized as potential sites of transgression The analysis identifies spatial negotiation as a mechanism both for cementing and for undermining authority thus exposing the strategies through which literature constructs and represents power SUSAN CARVALHO is Associate Professor of Hispanic Studies at the University of Kentucky and Director of the Middlebury College Spanish School

Toward Octavio Paz John M. Fein, 2021-10-21 The undisputed intellectual leadership of Octavio Paz not only in Mexico but throughout Spanish America rests on achievements in the essay and in poetry In the field of the essay he is the author of more than twenty five books on subjects whose diversity esthetics politics surrealist art the Mexican character cultural anthropology and Eastern philosophy to cite only a few is dazzling In poetry his creativity has increased in vigor over more than fifty years as he has explored the numerous possibilities open to Hispanic poets from many different sources The bridge that joins the halves of his writing is a concern for language in general and for the poetic process in particular Toward Octavio Paz defines this process of creation through a close examination of the books that represent the summit of the poet's development three long poems and three collections It is intended for readers of varied poetic experience who are approaching Paz's work for the first time By studying the relationship of the parts of the poem particularly structure and theme Fein traces the poet's growth through approaches to the reader each embodied in a separate work From the divided circularity of Piedra de sol through the intensification of the subject of Salamandra the multiple meanings of Blanco the polarities of Ladera este and the literary solipsism of Pasado en claro to the silences of Vuelta Paz has shaped his audience's responses to his work through suggestion rather than control The result is not only a new poetry but a new receptivity
