

Development studies

Development study is a discipline that gives particular skills on solving various problems and assembles people of different backgrounds.

Objectives

1. To make students understand and explain the concept and theories of social development in developing countries and make you are the factors that influence social development.
2. To understand the current issues of the world, meaning the contemporary issues that are happening at the local level, continental level and global level.
3. To make us able to discuss, analyze and participate in the issues of social development, meaning be part of that discussion as well.

Concept and theories of social development

Development: this is the concern of everyone because the process of development affects everyone.

People define development different because of their backgrounds, example a lawyer will define development in a different way then a doctor will define development.

There are two group when defining development.

-there are those who say that development is an economic growth.

Some people say that development includes totality and comprehensive process that includes all issues and sectors of the economy.

Development: this terms is defined differently by many people from different professions example a lawyer would define different from a doctor, but in actual sense it means moving from a lower stage to a better stage.

Marxists theory of social development: he says that this is the theory that is based on social change, by changing the inequalities and injustices that are created by the capitalists.

Junior Certificate ,1981 A Radical History of Development Studies Uma Kothari,2016-12-15 In this book some of the leading thinkers in development studies trace the history of their multi disciplinary subject from the late colonial period and its establishment during decolonization all the way through to its contemporary concerns with poverty reduction They present a critical genealogy of development by looking at the contested evolution and roles of development institutions and exploring changes in development discourses These recollections by those who teach research and practise development challenge simplistic unilinear periodizations of the evolution of the discipline and draw attention to those ongoing critiques of development studies including Marxism feminism and postcolonialism which so often have been marginalized in mainstream development discourse The contributors combine personal and institutional reflections with an examination of key themes including gender and development NGOs and natural resource management The book is radical in that it challenges orthodoxies of development theory and practice and highlights concealed critical discourses that have been written out of conventional stories of development The contributors provide different versions of the history of development by inscribing their experiences and interpretations some from left inclined intellectual perspectives Their accounts elucidate a more complex and nuanced understanding of development studies over time simultaneously revealing common themes and trends and they also attempt to reposition Development Studies along a more critical trajectory The volume is intended to stimulate new thinking on where the discipline may be moving It ought also to be of great use to students coming to grips with the historical continuities and divergences in the theory and practice of development Development Studies Revisited Charles Cooper,E. V. K. FitzGerald,2016-04-15 First published in 1989 The Journal of Development Studies was founded 25 years ago as a professional journal for what had by then become an established sub discipline within British social science The Journal has consistently published a broad spectrum of British research on development studies a catholicity that has been reflected in the composition of the Editorial Board over the years and has always welcomed authors from the USA the European Continent and above all from the Third World Collated form the last twenty five years of the journal presented here are a collection of 20 odd papers that represent less than three per cent of articles published since 1964 Building Development Studies for the New Millennium Isa Baud,Elisabetta Basile,Tiina Kontinen,Susanne von Itter,2018-12-21 This book brings together multiple critical assessments of the current state and future visions of global development studies It examines how the field engages with new paradigms and narratives methodologies and scientific impact and perspectives from the Global South The authors focus on social and democratic transformation inclusive development and global environmental issues and implications for research practices Leading academics provide an excellent overview of recent insights for post graduate students and scholars in these research areas Research Methodologies in Gender and Development Studies Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-04-09 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering

Development Andrea Cornwall,Ian Scoones,2022-03-28 This book tells the story of development studies in practice over the last fifty years through the work of one remarkable individual Robert Chambers His work has taken him from being a colonial officer in Kenya through training and managing large rural development projects to a fundamental critique of top down development and the championing of participatory approaches The contributors eloquently demonstrate how he has been at the centre of major shifts in development thinking and practice over this period popularising terms that are now at the centre of the development lexicon such as vulnerability multi dimensional poverty sustainable livelihoods and farmer first Robert Chambers played a major role in the massive growth in participatory approaches to development and particularly the application of participatory methods in development research and appraisal This has led to fundamental challenges to development practice ranging from approaches to monitoring and evaluation to institutional learning and professional training There is probably no one who has had more influence on approaches to development in the past decades

Revolutionizing Development offers a unique overview of these contributions in thirty two concise chapters from authors who have been intimately involved as collaborators critics and colleagues of Robert Chambers Development Studies and
